Promotion Slow for Canadians

"Civilian" Writing to London Times Points Out That Preference is Given to Imperial Officers.

London, Jan. 25.—The following letter, signed "Civilian," appears in The Times: "The First Canadian Division sailed for France in February, 1915, and has, therefore, been in the front line two years. It contained Canadian militia officers serving as brigadier-generals who have exhibited courage, skill and judgment in a marked degree, particularly that capacity for measuring the unknown, which is the quality of the true soldier. For however rapidly the ladder of promotion has been climbing in the Imperial army, not a single one of these brigadiers has received more than one step in rank reward for two years of hard, distinguished service. "Let us look at the other side of the picture. There has been a sprinkling of Imperial officers, whose services have been of the utmost value, but the moment a vacancy has occurred in any of the high positions they occupied another regular officer has been appointed to fill the place. The Canadian militia officer in this state of affairs is both a bar to his career and a reflection upon his capacity. After two years of war, in succession to his previous service, he must either be fit to hold these posts or by nature incapable. At the same time it appears to him that to belong to a Canadian corps is a final disqualification for that rapid promotion which he sees falling to contemporaries in the Imperial army. So far shall they go and no farther" seems to him written over the portals of war for all who do not possess the cachet of the staff college. Is there not a good deal of justice in his complaint? "I am not in any way criticizing the appointment of General Byng to the Canadian Corps; he is of tried reputation, great skill and tact. No selection could have been more happy, but if an Imperial officer can command a Canadian corps, is there to be no hope for a Canadian officer ever commanding an Imperial corps, or is he to be confined forever in one-sided water-tight compartments? "Of the experience of Australia and New Zealand in this matter I cannot speak, and of the Canadian position I have only a general knowledge, but that knowledge seems to me to indicate that it is not a matter for the Canadian government. To ask them to intervene would place them in an odious position, and one which no patriot would ask them to occupy. The appeal lies to the generosity, common sense and judgment of the Imperial authorities."

ANNUAL MEETING OF Y. W. P. A., MISS LOIS GRIMMER RE-ELECTED

From the time of the formation of the Young Women's Patriotic Association, January 21, 1916, to the present date a large amount of work has been accomplished, as shown by the reports submitted at the annual meeting of the association held last night. The society is represented on the returned soldiers' welcoming committee, and has been able to assist that body very materially. "To show sympathy and interest in all returned and wounded soldiers" is one of the society's chief aims and that has had the heartiest support of each member of the association. The association in its first year has raised $1,061, as well as an additional large amount which has been expended for patriotic purposes. The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of $260 in the general fund and $41 in the returned soldiers' fund. The association has received assistance from many sources which has facilitated its work. Votes of thanks were passed to H. C. Groat, of the C. P. R., who has given the use of a room in the C. P. R. building to the society also to A. M. Belding, who was instrumental in securing the Loyal Order of the Moose rooms in Union street for the purpose of holding the meetings of the association. On their resignation the 1916 officers were presented with a vote of thanks by Mrs. Philip Warren, an honorary member of the association, accompanied by a handsome bouquet for the presidents, Miss Lois Grimmer, as well as one for each of the three vice-presidents. The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: President, Miss Lois Grimmer; first vice-president, Miss Alice Fairweather; second vice-president, Miss Nan Brock; third vice-president, Miss Madeline deSoyres. An executive committee of the following was elected: Misses Boyer, Ganong, Hatch, Knight, Church, Murdoch, Freeze, Mooney, Dickson and Keene. An additional ten members will be added to the executive at the next regular meeting. The officers mentioned in dispatches at the first of the year. The full list is: Lieut. Colonel A. E. G. Lieut. Colonel S. B. Anderson, who is now in command of an artillery brigade on the western front, but who was for a time in the famous 8th battery, of Moncton, was also mentioned in dispatches for gallant work.

Suffer With Heart For Ten Years Would Nearly Smother

There is nothing that brings with it such fear of impending death as to wake up in the night with that awful sense of smothering. The uncertain and irregular heart action causes the greatest distress. Frequent and severe attacks of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the only remedy that can give prompt relief and effect a complete cure in cases of such severity. They strengthen and invigorate the heart, so that it beats strong and regular, and tone up the nervous system. Mrs. M. O. McCready, Wapella, Sask. writes: "I am not much of a believer in medicines, but I feel that it is only right for me to let you know what your wonderful remedy has done for me, and how very short time, too. I had suffered terribly with my heart for nearly ten years, could scarcely do any work, and would nearly smother at times. I had many remedies, some only relieving me for a time. I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and felt so much better that I kept on using them, and can truthfully say I feel like a new woman. "I would advise anyone with heart trouble to use them. "Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c or three boxes for $1.25, at all druggists or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
