BOSTON MAY HAVE TEAM IN N. H. L.

Report That the Old Seattle Team Will be Taken Over.

Boston, Oct. 3.—A professional hockey team as the only United States member of the National Hockey League, the strongest professional hockey circuit in Canada, will play at the Arena this winter, it was announced here recently. The club will be known as the Boston Professional Hockey Association, Inc., under the presidency of Charles F. Adams.

The Seattle team of the now defunct Pacific Coast League, will be taken over intact by President Adams, it is said. "Art" Ross, a former Montreal Wanderer professional star, will manage the team and act as vice-president of the local organization. Other teams in the league are located at Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton and Montreal, the latter city, having two teams, one French-Canadian, the other British-Canadian.

CONDITIONS IN GERMANY ARE REVIEWED

(By Carl D. Groat, United Press.)

Berlin, Oct. 3.—New and serious political battles are destined for Germany in the next days as an aftermath of the Dawes struggle.

The Reichstag, scheduled to reconvene October 15 but perhaps summoned earlier by the Government, will witness a rattling skirmish over protective agrarian tariffs, with nationalists and junkers on one side, and socialists and communists on the other.

The socialists are demanding dissolution of the Reichstag.

Their proclamation declares that that body is no longer representative of the nation. They insist that the populace shall be asked directly to elect a constituent assembly.

On the other hand, the nationalists are clamoring for their "round of flesh" payment for rounding up sufficient voters to pass the Dawes bill.

In the first place, they want products protected. If this is done, it automatically means that the nationalists must come into the coalition, because once the tariffs are passed, the Marx-Stresemann minority regime cannot count further on benevolent neutrality from the socialists.

At the same time, the battle will bring up in all probability the great question of the eight-hour day in Germany. The socialists point out that the Dawes report expressly stated that Germany's labor should not be put on a standard of life lower than that of other countries.

But the big industrialists have long since scrapped, in practice, the eight-hour day, and according to the socialists are preparing to pay reparations chiefly from the sweat of the laborer's brow.

The socialists maintain that this method of paying reparations will never do.

Tariffs and hours—these two things furnish the groundwork for a pretty row, the outcome of which is thoroughly in doubt.

It is, however, possible that new elections will be the outcome of this internal strife. In this case, it is more than likely that the extreme right and left wings will suffer sharp losses.

The nation as a whole is satisfied with the prospects for peace and order, offered by the Dawes report, and this means inroads in the extremist ranks.

The "Putsch" spirit has disappeared and it is safe to predict that Germany will now settle down to the ordered, untroubled routine which marked its course before the war. It still has many internal political bickerings, but the danger of civil war and bloodshed have gone with the acceptance of the Dawes scheme.

Business is looking up. The first week after signature of the Dawes measures saw a sharp drop in unemployment in the Ruhr and elsewhere, and a general toning up of business.

This was due to the substitution of certainty for uncertainty—and was born of the conviction that Germany as now a chance to wipe out her obligations and again get on her feet.

When Epinard Was Beaten by a Whisker

This photo was snapped when Ladkin was just two jumps from the finish pole in the international race at mile at Aqueduct track, N. Y. Epinard (No. 1) was just half a jump behind, but when the finish line was reached he was only a neck behind Ladkin and would have won had a mile contained 800 feet. Wise Counselor (No. 6) finished third. It was one of the most exciting races ever run.

OSTRICH RACING PROVES A FIZZLE

Fans Were Promised Something Sensational But Enjoyed Farce.

Berlin, Oct. 3.—The "first ostrich races" in Europe have been much advertised as the sensation of a Berlin race meeting. The result has been the complete failure of these birds to do what was expected of them. The arrival of these "trained" ostriches from Hamburg—the trainer is an Italian—and the preparations at the racetrack where Berlin Derbys are contested, led the public to take the affair seriously.

Bets were made upon the competitors each harnessed to a small car driven by a man of jockey size and weight, who had to pull the ostrich tail feathers hard before the birds could be induced to start.

The surprising gallop which ensued after half a minute in a smart upset of the little car and the immediate settling down of the ostrich for repose upon the course, was the cause of as much hilarity as the race itself.

The importance of this failure to animal lovers cannot be too highly estimated; public opinion is not so strong on the Continent as in England as regards cruelty to animals.

TEN THOUSAND MISSING. New York Herald-Tribune.

Here are four black lines from the latest census of the United States taken last year. They show the number of persons reported to be missing since January 1, Franklin Roosevelt is just one of them.

One may fancy them on a pilgrimage. This Lost Legion, slipping almost hourly through the gates of reality into the shadowy land of surmise. Most of them carry some burden of trouble. A few are the victims of misadventure. A few are the victims of misadventure.

WOULD FORM A NEW ORGANIZATION

Suggest That School Boy Athletics Have Own Governing Body.

Plans which may lead to the formation of a new athletic organization for the promotion and governing of athletics among the schools of the Maritime Provinces are being discussed by several of the leaders in this line of sport in New Brunswick. It was learned that arrangements are being made to interest all the schools of the three provinces in such a scheme.

The idea expressed by some of those making the suggestion is that at present the M. P. B. A. A. U. of Canada has all it can handle in the senior field and that the taking over of school sports by that body might cause more confusion than necessary. It is felt by several people that those closely in touch with school affairs would be much better qualified to deal with matters pertaining to the boys' sports than would those further removed. In several cases recently when disputes arose, the decisions have been made which were not pleasing to either side concerned. It is said that boy problems need special attention and often cannot be solved by senior methods.

There is no question of revolting against the amateur rules but there is a feeling that a new organization as suggested would do much to promote interest in school athletics throughout the three provinces and give the boys a chance to work out their own problems and eventually, when older, be qualified to take their proper position in the senior ranks.

CENTENARY CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The Centenary Badminton Club held its annual meeting last evening and elected the officers for the ensuing year. J. Benson Mahoney, past president, was in the chair. Consideration of the formation of a league with St. John's, St. James and St. David's clubs was discussed but not decided upon. The meeting was agreed that league membership strengthened the fraternal spirit of the clubs and also improved their playing. The officers elected were: President, Harris Armstrong; vice-president, Vivian Fowler; secretary, Roy Willet; and treasurer, Arnold Fowler. Rev. Robert G. Fulton, pastor of the church, was made honorary president. The members began their playing and spent a very enjoyable evening.

GAINED 38 LBS. TAKING TANLAC

Canadian Pacific Man Gets Relief From Nervous Indigestion.

"The best of health and a gain of 38 lbs. in weight is what the Tanlac treatment has brought me and of course I am strong for it," is the remarkable statement of Henri Brunelle, a well known painter for the Canadian Pacific railway, who lives at 808 Carlier St., Montreal, P. Q.

"Nervous indigestion and loss of appetite had pulled me down from 180 to 142 lbs., and my energy and strength went down in proportion. After eating I suffered from gas and cramping spells, couldn't sleep nights, was easily tired out and felt all in."

"Other medicines did me no good, but Tanlac was different and has me my every need. I have a wonderful appetite, eat what I want, sleep well and feel fine. I can tell the world, Tanlac is great."

Tanlac is for sale by all good drug stores. Tanlac Vegetable Pills recommended by the manufacturers of TANLAC.

LEO DIEGEL

Turning in a card of 284, Leo Diegel of Washington, D. C. carried off the Illinois open golf championship. This followed his fine victory in the Canadian open over an all-star field. Diegel did not show top form in the American open, and finished far back of the leaders. His best form came later, after the main event had passed into history.

BIG BICYCLE RACE

Halifax, Oct. 2.—Leo and Hughie Minello, New Waterford riders who finished second and third last year in the Windsor to Halifax race, have arrived in Halifax to compete their training for the 1924 race. Both appeared disappointed when they were informed that George Walker would not be a starter. The Italian riders are strong and should do well if they better than last year. Harmon O'Brien, Moncton rider, and Frank Cox, Charlottetown star, are both favored to win high positions. Eddie Spriggs, and Guy Dibbon appear to be Halifax's best bets in the long grind.

Forty-three have entered for the 45-mile ride so far.

"RED" STUART MARRIED

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Dorothy Christie, and the groom was supported by Vernon Forbes, Toronto. Following a wedding reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart left on a wedding trip to New York.

GIANTS-SENATORS EVEN IN BETTING

Fear of Johnson, However, May Make the Senators Favorites.

Indications along Broadway and at the Aqueduct race track yesterday were that the bulk of the betting on the approaching world's series will be at even money. If either team is made favorite the Giants are inclined to hold back until definite announcement is made as to whether these two stars will be able to take part.

The betting so far is only in a tentative stage and both camps were asking odds ranging from 7 to 5 to 5 to 5, although it was freely predicted that if Frisch returned to the New York lineup, as now seems probable, even money would be the prevailing quotation by game time Saturday.

The largest actual bet reported was made by John Doyle, a commission of $5,000 against $5,500 with the Senators the favorite. The Washington money placed through Ben Snow, a race track commissioner, W. L. Darnell & Co., a Broad Street brokerage concern, reported a bet of $5,000 at even money. This company also announced that it had another $5,000 bet on the Giants at the same price.

G. B. deChandenes & Co. announced that it had received $20,000 to bet at even money on Washington, and another $10,000 to bet against $14,000 that the Giants will win the first game. These odds were demanded because it is confidently expected that Walter Johnson will pitch the first game for the Senators and that this, coupled with the fact that they will be playing at home, will make the American League team a strong favorite to capture this contest.

At Doyle's and at Fred Schumlin's in Brooklyn the odds on the first game were quoted at 11 to 10 with the Giants on the short end, and it was said at both places that they would probably lengthen to 7 to 5 if a definite assurance that Johnson was to pitch was forthcoming.

TRADE BALANCE BETTER

A favorable trade balance of $12,822,049 in the month of August for Canada is reported by the Commercial Intelligence Journal and for the twelve months ending August 31, the balance is $238,893,976, on the right side.

FOOTBALL SEASON BEGINS SATURDAY

McGill University Team to Meet Dartmouth at Hanover.

New York, Oct. 3.—(United Press).—Eight interesting international football games and one international battle will spice up the programme, which will open officially the football season tomorrow afternoon. The season got under way last week with a scattering of games that served merely as the overture.

Three southern teams will journey eastward. One western team will leave its home territory. Two Missouri Valley teams and two Ohio conference teams will stir around in the Western Conference and middle west, and a Canadian team will cross the border.

North Carolina visits Yale at New Haven. Virginia invades Cambridge to play Harvard. North Carolina State plays Penn State at State College.

St. Louis climbs the cliffs at West Point to play the Army. Nebraska, one of the powers of the Missouri Valley conference, plays Illinois at Lincoln, while her conference rival, Missouri, goes to Chicago to take a first look at the University of Chicago.

Miami, a leader of the Ohio conference, goes to Ann Arbor to play Michigan and Ohio Wesleyan, another conference team, journeys to the lake regions to play the University of Detroit.

McGill University crosses the Canadian boundary lines and climbs the mountains to Hanover to play an international game with Dartmouth. The heaviest and most important game of the day will be played at Pittsburgh, between Lafayette and Pittsburgh. While most of the other major teams are getting under way against easier opponents, Lafayette and Pittsburgh will be meeting the strongest teams on their schedule. Pittsburgh has developed a habit of starting the season with main bouts instead of preliminaries.

The start of the "Big Three" season will be one of the features of the day. The east, while the Western conference debut will get the "Big Ten" going with a number of important games. While Yale and Harvard are playing southern teams, Princeton will entertain the President's Alma Mater in the Princeton jungle.

Other eastern teams have easy games. Pennsylvania plays her second game against Franklin and Marshall at Philadelphia. Washington and Jefferson leaves home to play Bethany at Wheeling. Cornell meets her second setup in Niagara at Ithaca. Syracuse plays Mercer at Syracuse. The Navy plays William Smith at Annapolis in the opening games of the midshipmen's schedule.

Ohio State and Purdue will furnish the important opener of the Western conference schedule at Columbus. Iowa state opens with Wisconsin. Minnesota plays North Dakota. Iowa has a breather with Durant. Notre Dame opens the season against Lombard at South Bend in one of the only two easy games the "Micks" have scheduled for this season.

Minor games prevail among the leaders in the south. Georgia Tech plays Virginia Military Institute at Atlanta. The Cadets may prove a surprise, however, as they did with Pennsylvania not so long ago. Vanderbilt meets Birmingham Southern at Nashville. Alabama plays Eirman at Greenville. Centre opens her season against Valparaiso at Danville.

Ordinary games also prevail among the big Pacific Coast teams. Southern California plays Pomona at Los Angeles. Stanford opens with Occidental at Palo Alto and California plays her senior game of the season against St. Mary's at Berkeley.

Tsao Kun, president of China, was at one time a cloth merchant's apprentice.

One third of the students at Yale college are self supporting.
