Battle of the Nations Monument at Lepsig

Of course Waterlooo, which was fought something more than a year and a half later, capped the climax of the Napoleonic career; but it was the battle of Leipzig, where the Austrains, Russians, Prussians and Swedes beat him most badly, that signalized his downfall.

See the two forces lost almost 50,000 killed in that fight. Napoleon had about 180, one mand the Allies, under Prince Schwarzenberg numbered 200,000.

English Writer and Traveler Relates Remarkable Experiences

(London Chronicle.) Mrs. Charlotte Cameron, authoress and raveler, has recently returned after a journed of 26,000 miles in Africa—from Mombasa on the east coast to Sierre

Some piquant stories of her adventures were related by Mrs. Cameron on Saturday, when she was the guest at lunch of the Woman's Auxiliary Committee of the Institute of Journalists. While at Victoria Falls she had an unusual experience. In trying to find the palm growe she lost her way, and after scrambling over large boulders near the rapids, she sat down. No sooner had she done so than hundreds of chattering monkeys appeared in trees and a large one, swinging by its trief from a tree, reached down and pulled off her hat. The monkeys followed her three-quarters of the way back, and then disappeared as suddenly as they came.

They were all idlers and drunkards, and received a license to get drunk once in every two weeks. At church on Sunday the congregation was usually composed of drunken Hotten-

After leaving the French Cameroons she just missed the German boat, which was lying five miles out, and was left among cannibals.

She induced thirteen of these natives to row her out to the ship, and they no sooner started than the headman produced a bottle of gin. Thinking that she was going to be at the mercy of a lot of drunken cannibals, she called on all the gods she knew. The headman had a good drink, and after two others had taken some the bottle was passed on to taken some the bottle was passed on to her. Her sense of humor came to her rescue and she burst out laughing and the situation was saved.

Mrs. Cameron also paid a visit to the leper island a few miles from Cape Town. She was struck by the fact that she never saw a purely white leper; they were either brown or black. The lepers spent their money on sweets, ribbons and perfumes.

o., Brockville, Ont. WOMAN AND THE VOTE

Anybody who seriously argues that men and women can ever be arrayed against each other, as classes, needs the attention of an alienist. They stand or fall together. Whatever makes for the prosperity of one makes for the good of the other. What drags one down into the pit carries the other into the abyss. We are the wives, and sisters, and daughters of the men who want low tariff or high tariff; our husbands, and our brothers, and our fathers are manufacturers, or farmers, or mechants; our fortunes will be affected just as much as men's by currency laws. We are bound to men by every tie of blood, and heart, and pocket, and the idea of our fighting them is as absurd as to suppose we will all go daft and cut our own throats. There can never be, even when we get the franchise, any all-woman political party as opposed to an all-man relitited party. There can he no female parts, and it, therefore, acts with all the certainty of the known laws of chemical action. As it comes in a beneficent influence. I receive from 10 to 50 letters daily, the trust, no female banking bill differents and cures it is performing, and so sure am I that it will defort it that I will send, absolutely free, a 35c box to every sufficient for it. # For the Cook

There are many women in this world, handsome in features, perfect in form, graceful of movement and brilliant of mind, who keep in the background just because they have thin, colorless and lustreless hair.

In Paris they understand things about the hair that we do not know in this country. It was a Parisian, Dr. Sangerbond, who discovered that thin hair and dandruff are caused by a microbe.
