linister of Justice, in moving a relution condemning the payment by the late Government of a few hundred dollars to Hon. John H. Gray, M. P. ar of a man dation of laws, said: "The House should solemnly declare that it had People's House, that he had betrayed and disgrace had allow as well as mind was so constant he had no clear cons not conduced to the independence or Richard and disturbed that he had no clear con-sciousness of what had accurred. Seeing Richard and Mr. Armstrong, he shrunk back from them: they were standing side by side, and he knew that they were his enemies. Come, he said to his wife; 'let us go.' You must unsay first what you have been cajoled into declaring.' What have I declared? Why are you so excited?" sign their seats in the House." Mr Mackenzie used words strong, and the whole Grit Party in the Commons stood up and voted to condemn the Government where are they?—St. John Watchman.
