Revival of Interest in the Subject-Danger of Overdoing.

cially country residences-has occurred within the last fifteen years. To any one who may have had eccasion to visit some of the great house deco-rating establishments of Boston, New York, Cincinnati and St. Louis, the umptuousness and princely elegance of these furnishings seem marvelous in the extreme. When a modest man inquires as to the possibility of indulging his own taste a little in his unpretentious ome, his hopes vanish instantly as the the in the purchase of a few small articles of ture in the family circle experiences a most unpleasant chill.

It is very evident to any careful student of present tendencies that there is great danger that decoration will be overdone. When we are told that some of the superb homes along the Hudson. and many in the interior and even on Another too prevalent evil of modern terior decoration is that of excessive detail, or of overcrowding the surfaces or the space to be used with such a multitude of objects as will confuse and ob-scure. The designs which are exhibited by dec orations lie open too often to this charge. That simplicity and unity, which are essential to best artistic results, are too frequently sacrificed. Dignity and chasteness are forgotten. The ceilings too frequently blaze with color, or dazzle with gold. No central, olling thought can be discovered and a poor shot. But every year he takes Revival of Interest in the Subject Danger of Overdelag. A most noteworthy revival of interest in the internal decoration of residences —especially country residences—has only season of the year when he kills nothing. Sheep ... 4 Flour : Western

A Sudden Death. A Sudden Death. There is something terrible in the thought of having our friends stricken down at our side, without a parting word of endearment or con-solation-one moment as our side in thei flush. of vigorous life, cheering our hearts with their lowing sympathy; the next at our feet, pale with death, deat to our cries and beedless of our tears. Every excessively fat person is in instant danger of such a death. Seven-tenths of the victims of obseity die of heart disease or apoplexy. Allar's Anti Fat, the only remedy for obesity, reduces the weight by regulating the digestion and assimilation of the food. It is perfectly harmless, and its use will insure in every instance, a reduction of weight from two to five pounds a week. To be of permanent benefit a medicine must

The Trappists.

The announcement is made that the tDrder of Trappists has bought a nummer of acres of land in Western sPennsylvania with a view of establisha monastery there. The com-nunity, to consist of 200 monks from France, Ireland and Turkey, will be the wourth of the order that has settled on his continent. The other three are at Wew Haven, Ky., New Melleray, Iowa, and Tracadie, Nova Scotia, the last hav-Cears ago at Conewago, Penn. The Trappists who are coming are drawn from divers trades and professions, bet 2g experienced mechanics, dairymen, Frtists, architects, lawyers and physiians, some of whom had gained reputaon in their own country before relin-uishing the world and its vanities. "hey intend to put up their own buildags and do all the work of the monas The Trappists, the most anstere of all the religious orders of the Roman church bere founded in the seventeenth centarity by Armand Jean de Rance. They rise two in the morning: devote track the day to devotion and the greater of the remainder to hard work, ly in the field. No secular convertion is permitted; on meeting they inte one another with "Remember ath," (Memento mori), and speak no star, (Memento more), and spear no ore. They subsist on water and vego-oles; meat, beer and wine being strict-prohibited. They sleep on a board th a pillow of straw, and never un-ess, even in illness.
