APPEAL TO THE COMMISSIONERS, composed as respects its personnel much as it was at its original formation. It is not proposed to resort to the expedient, which has not infrequently been resorted to of making changes on the eve of the election, so as to appear before the country as a new government, disclaiming responsibility for what has been done by it before its reconstruction. We are now submitting ourselves with our record of seven years to the judgment of the electorate and only ask that we shall be judged with fairness.

AS TO THE FUTURE POLICY OF THE GOVERNMENT it is not proposed that there shall be any departure from the main principles to which we have heretofore rigidly adhered. We have

NO SENATORIAL PROGRAMME to lay before the electors. The sphere of legislative and administrative action in provincial matters being necessarily limited, we can engage to do little more than to continue to manage our affairs honestly, prudently and economically, to husband the provincial resources, to propose such useful measures as from time to time the public needs demand, to guard successfully our constitutional rights, and so far as shall be in our power, to manage and administer the laws, to discharge our public duties that to every citizen may be guaranteed, irrespective of race or creed, equal rights, equal justice and the enjoyment in the highest measure of the benefits which attach to the free institutions under which we live.

Yours respectfully, A. G. BLAIR, Fredericton, Dec. 31, 1889.

of the crown and in those only to the same extent which any private riparian owner may do. We found, on our occasion to office, that those crown lands, which had valuable fishing privileges attached to them, were fast being acquired for nominal sums by pretentious outsiders and others, many of whom were simply speculating on the rapidly increasing value of these privileges, and we had also reason to believe that for want of efficient guardianship, these rivers upon which the crown had lands still in part ungranted, were being despoiled of their fish.

THE GOVERNMENT AS OFFER DETERMINED to reserve out of future grants the fishing privileges all water fronts as the only possible means of retaining for the crown, and therefore, for the whole people, what still remained of this valuable property. We acted upon the view that if these privileges were leased for a limited number of years they might be used to yield a substantial revenue to the province, and this they have in fact done, as since we inaugurated this policy the government has realized over $30,000 therefrom. It was also our view that during the term for which they should be leased the fishing might be greatly improved by a proper system of protection. No man, I have reason to believe, doubts the wisdom of our first line of policy, but it is objected that we should have thrown open the fishing grounds to the public, creating a practically daily income for the fisherman, and thereby over the cost of guardianship and other charges. There is no doubt this view has much to commend it to the favor of all who are able to indulge in the sport of fly-fishing, but it was our duty to bear in mind that the rivers had to be guarded that a large outlay would be necessary for this purpose, if the rivers were not leased, which the license fee would fall far short of supplying. The general revenue of the province would amount to no more than $100,000 per annum, and it seemed to us then that the only practicable course open to us, was to put up the fishing to lease for a term of years. When the license expires it will in a short period, the government will be free to consider whether a different policy might not then with advantage be pursued.

It is needless to say that the government makes no pretence of having accomplished all that could have been desired. We have perhaps ADHERED TO A MORE RIGID ECONOMY. In some departments of the public service there has been consistent with the most complete efficiency, and much useful legislative and other work calling for present attention still remains to be performed, but we think we may point to the several laws during the past seven years, to the healthy condition of our provincial finances, to the unexampled efficiency of the public works, to the progress of agricultural industries in more than one direction, to the additional safeguards thrown around the public health, to the introduction of shorthand reporting in the courts, to the collection and preservation of vital statistics, to the improved joint stock companies laws, to the amendments of the franchise, to the improvement of the highway laws, to the expansion of our railroad system, to the condition of the roads in the province, to the administration of justice, to the contentment and hopefulness which pervade the country, as evidence of the progress of the government, and as conservative, and as progressive.

It is not proposed to resort to the expedient, which has not infrequently been resorted to of making changes on the eve of the election, so as to appear before the country as a new government, disclaiming responsibility for what has been done by it before its reconstruction. We are now submitting ourselves with our record of seven years to the judgment of the electorate and only ask that we shall be judged with fairness.

AS TO THE FUTURE POLICY OF THE GOVERNMENT it is not proposed that there shall be any departure from the main principles to which we have heretofore rigidly adhered. We have

NO SENATORIAL PROGRAMME to lay before the electors. the fact that Mr. D. G. Smith, one of the electors present at the meeting, had last week, issued his card as a candidate, and it might be well for the meeting to know the course he proposed to take. Mr. Smith said that, for a year or two, suggestions had been made to him of a desire on the part of electors in different parts of the country that he should be a candidate for the Assembly. In pending contest he had not expected that the Government party intended to form a ticket, and he had, therefore, issued his card as an independent candidate. Now, however, it appeared that the electors with whom he had been in touch, were in favor of his being a candidate for the Government party, and he had, therefore, issued his card as an independent candidate. It seemed, therefore, to be his duty to withdraw his card in order that the meeting might be entirely free to make choice of the strongest possible Government ticket. If he were not so chosen he would resign, but he would assist in promoting the election of the party nominee. While he thus pledged himself, he felt that it was the duty of every elector present to consider himself entirely bound to stand by the man nominated, whoever they might be. [Applause]

Mr. Snowball addressed the meeting, briefly stating the facts connected with the formation of an opposition ticket on Saturday last. It was a large and representative meeting of the electors of the County to say whether four men were to meet together and resolve to force themselves, as a combination, upon the people, and to put up with it, and he inferred that they were ready to select four men as the people's candidates, whom they could put before the electors, and to have the unanimous support of the meeting, and with no fear as to the result. He moved that a committee representing, as far as possible, the different parishes of the County, be chosen to select four men, whose names should be submitted to the meeting for approval. The motion was seconded by Mr. E. P. Williston and carried.

The following electors were then chosen from amongst those present as a nominating committee:—Blackville: Scott Fairley, Blinfield: Wm. Swin, Richard Attridge, Frank St. Jacques, James Somers, Northack: Robert Adams, John McNeill, Edward Quinn, Glasteg: John Quinn, Hardwick: Chas. Robinson, Nelson: Chas. Andrews, Newcastle: Patrick Hennessy, E. P. Williston, John Connor, R. R. Call, L. Malby, Wm. Lyons.

The committee retired to the ante-room and after some 20 minutes deliberation returned and called attention to the fact that they had unanimously agreed to submit to the meeting the names of Messrs. Thomas Morrisey, Ernest Hutchinson, Theophilus DeBerisy and Anthony Adams. The announcement was received with applause. Mr. D. G. Smith moved that the ticket nominated be ratified by the whole meeting.

Mr. Snowball, in seconding the motion, said he was glad to see the unanimity of the committee in the matter. He was very glad to see Mr. Smith's political consistency and party feeling, saying he had always worked unselfishly and effectively in the county's interests. He must, therefore, express his extreme regret that Mr. Smith was not amongst those nominated. Mr. Smith's course at the meeting was most commendable and commended itself to all. He felt that the meeting was a unit, and that the electors would join in the duty of ratifying the ticket, and that the opposition ticket that had attempted to take charge of the County by nominating itself.

The ratification motion was then put and carried without a dissenting voice, and great applause.

Mr. E. P. Williston explained the requirements of the Act of Assembly in regard to nominations, and papers which he had made ready were accepted and signed by the electors present.

While this was being done the candidates (give Mr. Morrisey, who was not at the meeting) spoke briefly accepting the nomination.

Mr. Hutchinson said he had told his friends that if he became a candidate in this election, at all, it would only be on a ticket with three other independent supporters of the Government. He had no particular desire to go to the Province Assembly, situated as he had been for some time past, and besides, he felt he could, perhaps, do more good for the County by remaining at home and looking after his private business.

Mr. DeBerisy said the nomination had come as a surprise to him, and he was surprised to find that he was being nominated. He felt that the ticket nominated at this public meeting would command support throughout the County, and that a great vote would be rolled up for it.

Mr. Adams said it would be impossible to adequately tell the meeting for the honor done him by the nomination, coming, as it did from men of all parts of the County. He referred to Mr. Swin, for whom he had voted five years ago, and others who had not joined in nominating him, and felt that, should he be elected—as he knew the whole ticket would be—he could not do enough for the County.

On motion of Mr. Smith, the nominating committee was appointed a general committee for the promotion of the election of the gentlemen chosen, with power to add to its numbers and after passing a vote of thanks to the chairman the meeting adjourned.

Presentation and Address at Donk-town. On New Year's evening a number of the train hands and employes of the N. & W. Railway assembled at the residence of John L. Murray, Esq., and showed their appreciation of the kindness and good treatment they had always received at the hands of the good lady there by presenting her with an address and silver tea-pot and mug. Conductor J. D. Terra read the address, after which the employees, Mr. Terry in behalf of the employes, presented the pitcher which is of very fine design and workmanship. It is handsomely chased and carved, and on the front is engraved: "Presented to Mrs. J. D. Murray by the employes of the N. & W. Railway, Jan. 1st, 1890."

Following are the address and reply—ADDRESS. To Mrs. J. L. Murray: We the employes of the Northern & Western Railway being mindful of your kindness to us on all occasions, wish to express our appreciation of the same by the presentation of the kindly feelings we have for you.

You have shown by your kind acts in ministering to our wants that you are our friend, and we feel that the expression of friendship and good will that we present you with this small memento and token is but a feeble return for the kindness and happy New Year. Signed: Thos. Hobbs, Wm. Deacon, Jas. Watson, Jas. Hendry, G. R. Logan, J. G. Boyd, R. Berry, G. H. Sterling, G. H. McNeil, E. Logan, E. Vastacos, P. A. Logan, W. White, Thos. Dunn, Wm. Sproule, Herb. Bolya, Patrick Ivory, reply.

Employe of N. & W. Railway: Please accept my thanks for this very unexpected token of your respect and esteem. I am truly grateful, and appreciate your gift—not only for its value, but for your kind remembrance of me, and the glad and happy memories that the kindly feelings you have expressed for me in the past may be continued in the future. I wish you, each and all, a happy and prosperous New Year. And believe me to be ever your friend, A. A. MURRAY.

Terrible Fatality. LONDON, Jan. 1.—The boys' section of the paper school in the district of Forest-gate, in connection with the Whitechapel and Poplar Unions took fire last night while the inmates were asleep and it was burned with terrible results, 26 of the boys who were in the upper stories being suffocated before they could be rescued. Fifty-eight other boys were safely taken from the burning building, and returned to their homes.

Further reports of the fire show it originated in the clothing room beneath the boys' dormitory. The smoke and flames issuing from the stove-glass alarmed those sleeping on the top, and they fled to the street. The boys' escape was promptly on the spot. The employes of an adjacent railway station rushed to the scene and rendered valuable assistance. The bodies of those who were suffocated were carried to the main hall of the building, which is still profusely decorated with Christmas greens. The fire was caused by an overheated stove. The funds department, in which were 243 girls, was not touched. The boys retired last evening in the highest spirits, having been presented and a New Year's fete to day. The scenes in the main hall, where the bodies of the dead boys lie, are narrowing, and it is feared that the remains of those who perished are lost in their lamentations. The cries of the boys unable to escape were terrible. The bodies of two boys are badly burned, but it is believed they were suffocated before they were burned. The age of the dead ranges from 17 to 12 years.

Feminine Fancies. Pale yellow gowns are fashionable. Many large decorative muffs are carried both in Paris and London. The divided skirt or leglets is again asserting its supremacy over the petticoat. Plain white or solid black fash are more decorated with gold or silver spangles. Some exquisite fans of old duchesse pink are mounted on sticks of delicately tinted rosewood.

Some black fans of black and white plumes are beautiful and effective, but are too heavy for continuous use. Young girls wear silk muslin ball dresses worked in relief with corn flowers, looking like Venice rope knots.

New fans with brown violet wood stocks are made of the sheest brown gams, and painted with a flight of swallows or brown wrens. Textiles of the most magnificent descriptions are used for skirts and redingotes for grand dinners, wedding receptions, balls and for making tea gowns.

Beautiful white lace or gams fans are mounted on carved ivory sticks of an elegant design, which are set with gold and silver metal in ornate style. Young married women wear ball dresses made in light colored crepe de chine, with a satin stripe, and trimmed around the lower edge of the skirt with a light marabout fur.

The "sun robe" is made of light flame colored velvets, and worked all over with silk and gold. With this a rather wide waist-band in wove, combined with a narrow band of gold, which are set with a row of gold buttons; this robe is modified from one seen at the exposition.

Some of the new winter walking gowns are made with the most complicated veils and jacket fronts, although severe and simple enough in other respects. A description of not a few of these would be an attempted explanation of a Chinese puzzle.

Princess dresses of black bengaline are made in a variety of patterns, and are of the silk, opening over a blouse vest of black silk crimped silk muslin, embroidered with gold or silver, and the front of the skirt has a deep fall of this embroidered or beaded silk.

Slight paster effects appear upon new French tea gowns of richly colored damask silk and pompadour brocades; others are arranged with classic draperies after the fashion of the last century. There are of luxurious thibet wools, with the soft, beautiful fabrics embroidered in silk and metal threads, in intricate eastern devices. Soft camel's hair in velvet boots or stripes of old rose, Serres blue, and rich mahogany tints are fashioned with close picturesque robes that open over long fronts of sheer wood or silk, both red with embroidery or more generally with gaudy patterns, their rich pointed pericuffs matching the lace or stripes of the camel's hair in color.

The Prompts with which Mr. Harris Received His Money. The fact of the winning of the $15,000 by our townsman Henry Harris in the last drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery is not new to our readers, but he has written "That the money had properly come to him, and that he would not let it pass for nothing, and that he would invest it in real estate in the best country of California—Yuba," says (Cal.) Reporter, November 12.

Retiring Card. To the Electors of the County of Northumberland:—A large number of electors with whom I have lately been in political relations, having determined to call a public meeting for the purpose of nominating candidates to contest the coming general election in the interest of the Local Government in Northumberland, I deemed it my duty to withdraw from the contest which I had entered as an independent candidate.

In doing so I stated to the meeting, which was very large and thoroughly representative, that I had in my mind to leave the Government friends free to select the strongest available candidature, and that I would not be present in it or not. Pursuant to that pledge I beg to thank those who had pledged in my support, and regret that I have not been able to prevent my name from being put forward as a candidate.

My position is as supporter of the Local Government, and we pledge ourselves to united action in all legitimate matters to support and maintain a reduction of the stamp duty tax that is so burdensome to the Northern Counties of the Province.

We advocate the abolition of the Legislative Council, which would bring the Province under the control of the Convention of outstanding 6% bonds to 4% when due, making another saving of a considerable amount—while which would effect a reduction of 25 cents per M. on stampage, thus enabling the Government to make that concession without encroaching on the Revenue.

We advocate the construction of the various railway lines in this portion of the Province now under consideration, the building of wharves at Bay du Vin, Edmunds, Church Point and Bartlog, and the improvement and repair of our roads and bridges generally, and the subsidizing of a steambot service for the Northwest branch of the Miramichi River.

Should you, by your votes, elect us members of the Province, we will give the Government a fair, independent support, and give your interests our fullest attention and consideration.

We have the honor to be, gentlemen, your obedient servants, L. J. TWEEDEE, JOHN P. BURCHILL, JAMES ROBINSON, JOHN O'BRIEN.
