LOCAL AND SPECIAL

R. T. Wetmore is disposing of some valuable real estate in the town.

"Subscriber," Pennfield Ridge, must accompany communication to this paper.

The weather has become colder the past few days, the wind blowing with much force.

The output of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company for the month of October is as follows: Pig iron 21,000 tons, steel ingots 22,500, shipments, 18,000.

An Agricultural Society, with a large membership, has been formed at St. Stephen, with the view of holding annual exhibitions. F. M. Murchie is president.

L. E. Gillmor is offering for sale fur coats and robes. He has also received a large supply of Portland sleighs and cutters. A few good horses will be sold at low prices. Call or write him at Bonny River, Charlotte Co.

Large quantities of granite chips are being taken up by the dredge. It is probable that the practice of throwing waste material in the river will be stopped, as it is understood that the proper authorities have the matter in hand, and will vigorously enforce the regulations concerning this matter.

That peat in very large quantities will eventually be used as fuel in western Canada, as well as in the eastern part of the Dominion is the opinion of J. A. Macdon, expert of the Geological survey. Mr. Macdon has just returned with his assistant A. Simmerman, from a trip over the line of the Canadian Northern.

Forest fires in the Adirondack Mountains have worked havoc among the trout with which many of the streams throughout the burned section were well stocked. Thousands of dead trout have been found at the bottom and along the edges of the streams, and it is believed they have been killed by impurities in the water caused either by ashes or smoke.

When a splinter has been driven deep into the hand, it can be extracted without pain by steam. Nearly fill a wide-mouthed bottle with hot water, place the injured part over the mouth of the bottle and press tightly. The suction will draw the flesh down, and in a minute or two the steam will extricate the splinter and the inflammation will disappear. This is vouchsafed for by the November Woman's Home Companion.

The sardine packing season is rapidly nearing its end, less than four weeks now remaining, but up to the present time no sign of early closing is evident, despite the numerous rumors heard from time to time to that effect. Fish continue quite plentiful still, and the factory employees are kept at work day and night most of the time. If fish of suitable quality continue they will doubtless run close to the legal closing season, Dec. 1st.—Eastport Sentinel.

One of the largest fires that has visited Lunenburg for several years was the one that destroyed the Lunenburg Sash and Door Co. factory, which was located on the north side of the village. Fire was discovered by the watchman around the path about 1 o'clock, Wednesday morning, and scarcely before he could ring the alarm the flames were a mass of flames. Electric wires had been received in several different places and had not returned home until late in the evening. They had been home long enough to get usually to sleep, and the first alarm aroused only a small number of the firemen. Consequently the apparatus was slower than usual in getting to the fire, and when it did arrive there was nothing the firemen could do but to let the flames burn themselves out. The wind was most favorable and blew the flames and cinders toward the water. Had the fire occurred any previous night for a considerable length of time the flames and cinders would have swept the village and the consequences would have been possibly the destruction of the larger part of the village. This factory was built to replace one destroyed by fire on the same spot about five years ago. The Lunenburg Sash and Door Co. had been losing this commodious and well-equipped factory, had stored in it about seven thousand cases of sashes which are at this time. The factory was insured about $1 per cent. The company estimates their loss at between six and seven thousand dollars.

He was accompanied by his father who was carrying the rifle when he stumbled and fell discharging the weapon, the bullet entering the boys side, killing him instantly. The young man was 14 years old and very popular.

Capt. Wm. Kelton was in town Friday. He arrived in Beaver Harbor with his Schr. R. Bowers after a most trying experience. The vessel was coal-loading and bound to Calais from Philadelphia. A heavy gale was encountered Nov. 3rd, which carried away the foremast, foremast and jibs, and damaged the fore rigging. The vessel was badly strained and was kept afloat with great difficulty. A tug was secured and the vessel towed to Calais.

The Capt. showed the great hardships he had gone through and said the crew were about used up, having been eighty hours at the pumps.

Mrs. Kelton and young child were on board.

Many friends here will learn with regret of the sudden and tragic death of Mrs. Charles Brady, formerly of this city, which occurred not far from her home at Cambridge, Mass. She was run over by a train and killed, death being almost instantaneous.

The late Mrs. Brady who was formerly of this city, removed to Boston from here about six years ago and had lately been living in Cambridge. The funeral took place Tuesday from the deceased's Cambridge home.

The late Mrs. Brady, who was about 55 years of age, is survived by two sons, John and James C. of Cambridge, and three daughters, Mrs. George Kaye, Miss Lizzy Carr and Miss Gertrude Brady, who reside in Cambridge. Mrs. Joseph Winslow of St. John and Mrs. George Hurley of Hawell, are sisters of the deceased. Mrs. W. A. Walsh of this city being a niece. Mr. George Marshall of St. George is a brother of the deceased.—Frederick Gleason.

Bert Hatt, aged about 30, whose home is at Second Falls, about eight miles from here, was tragically injured in the woods Monday and his recovery is doubtful. Young Hatt, with his brother Vernon and sister Helen, went out hunting in the morning. About 11 o'clock Hatt as near as can be learned, was sitting his gun behind him and in crossing a log the weapon—an old Snider rifle which had been remade—was discharged. The bullet struck him in the chest and passed through, shattering the lungs and lodging just under the skin at the hip.

His companions, horror-stricken at the accident secured help as speedily as possible. The accident happened about three miles from the road and there was doubt because of a truck cart being driven by the wounded man, from a lighter wagon with a mattress was sent.

It was about 5 o'clock that home was reached but Dr. H. I. Taylor, of this place was with the injured man two hours earlier. He found the bullet just under the skin. Likely Hatt was taken to the Chatham Memorial hospital this morning. It is considered doubtful if he can recover.
