

The Establishment Of Canadian Trade

Splendid Address Delivered Last Evening in G.W.V.A. Rooms by Dr. J. W. Robertson—Conditions in Europe Described and Their Influence on Canadian Trade.

An interesting and instructive address on the occurrences and conditions in Europe which affect production and marketing in Canada, was delivered by Dr. J. W. Robertson at a meeting of a few of the prominent men of St. John, held in the G. W. V. A. last evening.

As the number present was small, the doctor delivered his address in an informal manner, all present drawing up in a circle and listening with undivided attention to the absorbing talk of the Doctor.

The speaker said that he had been sent by the Government of Canada to observe in Great Britain, France and Italy the conditions in respect to food supplies. He went over in the summer of 1918, early in June, and returned in August. The Doctor spoke of the fine way he was treated by the three Allied nations, who were eager to show to a Canadian representative how much they appreciated our efforts in the war.

Later the Doctor accompanied the Canadian Peace Conference to Paris as representative of the Department of Agriculture. There he learned of the new place Canada had come to occupy in the eyes of the world, based principally on what she had done through her army food supplies, munition and Red Cross service. Speaking of the work of the Canadian army, the Doctor said that he did not consider they were braver or more intelligent than the others, but that as the four Canadian divisions had fought side by side throughout the whole war, they developed a spirit of team work which the others were unable to do.

The Canadian people at home in their war effort and greater production also made a record which will endure among the nations, and great things were expected of the Dominion as a consequence.

The Doctor spoke of how the production, importation and distribution of food had come under Government control in Europe, which when the blockade was established had enabled the Allies to prevent the neutrals from supplying Germany with foodstuffs.

At the signing of the armistice operations and lower prices were looked for, but it was found in Great Britain that this would endanger the regular arrival of supplies. The producers of Canada faced a heavy loss in bacon and beef because the market in Great Britain was overstocked with emergency supplies no longer needed. The Americans, through Mr. Hoover, enabled the Canadians to meet the difficulty. Dr. Robertson said he regretted seeing a mutual feeling of distrust which seemed to be growing between the States and Canada. He could vouch that the United States officials overseas always treated the Canadians in the light of a friendly associate and were ever ready to claim the wonderful record of the Canadians in the war.

Great Britain had great difficulties to overcome in her period of readjustment, and the Doctor explained how she attended those problems. One of the reasons of the high cost of living was that there is not enough to go round, and the four that there will not be enough to meet actual needs. Millions are facing starvation in the war-weary countries of Europe, and the Doctor urged that Canada act in a nation both for the sake of humanity, and for each and every individual's own personal advantage, unite in greater production.

Today Canada is faced with great opportunities and great obligations, in comparison to poor martyred France, which has been lessened by 25 p. c. in her agricultural capacity alone through the war. Canada today has 51 p. m. more cattle, 42 p. c. more sheep, 25 p. c. more swine, and six million more acres of land under cultivation than she had before the war.

The obligation of the nation to pay the debt she incurred during the war could only be accomplished through the individual working diligently, living thriftily, and saving nothing.

The Doctor supplemented his address by interesting reminiscences of the Peace Conference, which were enjoyed by all present. A vote of thanks, moved by E. A. Schofield, seconded by R. Bruce Ross, was conveyed to the Doctor by the chairman of the evening, His Worship Mayor Hayes.

All present regretted greatly the small attendance, although each and everyone congratulated himself on being one of the fortunate ones privileged to attend.

An invitation was extended the Doctor to address a massed meeting of the citizens of St. John on the occasion of his next visit to the Eastern Provinces. Mr. E. A. Schofield, who made the proposal, assured the doctor that he would address a packed house.

WRONG TREATMENT VERY HARMFUL

Much Damage Can be Done to System if Proper Ingredients Are Not Taken for Nourishment — "Liv-it-rite" Recommended.

Getting the proper kind of nourishment for a weakened body is one of the most important things in medical treatment. It is easy to say "try this or try that" but to choose the article recommended does more harm than good. This is not the case with "Liv-it-rite". It can safely be recommended to correct a disorderly system, to put things right internally, especially in cases where the liver is the source of trouble. It contains a carefully prepared mixture of necessary ingredients in vegetable and iron arranged from a formula which has been successfully experienced upon. If "Liv-it-rite" does not make a cure in restoring strength and energy, purifying the blood, relieving the nerves and muscles, stimulating the appetite and making healthy sleep, there is little hope for other treatment. It is particularly a liver medicine and has many cures to its credit in this connection.

"Liv-it-rite" can be had from almost all reliable druggists. It is in popular demand from those acquainted with its good points and there are many cases in which it has effected a lasting cure. If your druggist cannot supply you send his name to the Martine Drug Co., 408 Prince Wm. street, or send them a dollar and they will forward you a package by return mail. You will be thankful for having tried it. (sig. v.)

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, is enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

The Boy Scouts On Inspection

Troops of St. John District Were Inspected Yesterday Afternoon by Chief Commissioner Dr. Jas. W. Robertson—Banquet Followed.

The Boy Scout troops of the St. John district, under the command of R. S. Ingleton, District Commissioner, were inspected yesterday afternoon by Dr. James W. Robertson, Chief Commissioner of the Boy Scouts in Canada, at the Armories, Carmarthen street.

The patrols were under the command of their different leaders and presented a very smart appearance. The inspection party consisted of Dr. Robertson, A. C. Skelton, the president of the Local Council, Captain Ingleton, secretary of the Local Council, and the Executive Board, consisting of the District Commissioner, and Lieutenant F. R. L. Campbell.

The troops inspected were the St. Paul's, St. John's, the Mission, St. Luke's, York, Canterbury and Trinity troops, and Trinity Cubs.

At the conclusion of the inspection, Dr. Robertson made a brief speech in which he drew the attention of the boys to the importance of doing all things in the right spirit. He said that much had been told of the morale of the Allied troops throughout the war; they went into every action with a song and the grin of determination on their faces. This was what he asked the boys to carry on in peace time. In closing, he advised the boys to stick to the old motto, "I keep my body under," with the Scout version, "I keep my soul on top."

Deputy District Scout Commissioner B. C. Waring was presented with a silver thank badge by the doctor on behalf of the Scouts of St. John for his splendid work during the absence of Commissioner Ingleton overseas.

Mr. Waring thanked the Scouts for their thoughtfulness, and said he would be always ready in the future, as in the past, to further the interests of the Scouts of St. John. The Scouts replied by giving Mr. Waring three hearty cheers.

A Scout Master's warrant was presented by the Doctor to Scout Master Denmore, of the Trinity Troop. The Armories resounded with Scout cheers at the conclusion of the inspection, the boys adopting that means to voice their appreciation of Dr. Robertson's visit.

At a supper held in Bond's shortly after the inspection, Dr. Robertson addressed the Provincial and District Scout officials, the Scout Masters and Patrol Leaders.

Scout Master's warrants were presented Norman R. Betts, G. H. Purdy, Frederick Withers and Ralph Brennan. On behalf of the Dominion Council, Dr. Robertson extended thanks to all who had assisted in Scout work in New Brunswick throughout the war.

The Doctor said that during the present tour he was making through the country he never missed an opportunity to impress upon the minds of his hearers the importance of the Scout movement to the welfare of the nation.

He said that the first principle of imparting the Scout idea to the boy is to put it to him in the right light and he will naturally follow. The boy did not ask for a easy life; he should be allowed to overcome difficulties, as this taught self-reliance, for the mark of a thoroughbred, in man or beast, is in closing, emphasized what a life worth while really was, not the accumulating of wealth, but the accumulating of good deeds, of assistance to humanity.

A vote of thanks was moved by G. H. Peters, and seconded by A. M. Belding, at the conclusion of the Doctor's speech. A. C. Skelton, president of the local Boy Scout Council, was the chairman of the evening.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief For Acid Indigestion.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to eat food are in probably nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, which irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a tablespoonful of bisulphated magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antacid, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial stimulents. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisulphated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.
