

New York City—Continued
197-98; free lecture system, 281

New York, College of the City of, 147

New York University, 251

New York, University of the State of, 142-43, 170

Newport (R. I.) establishes town schools, 7

Newspapers as text-books, 121-22

Newtown (Md.), Catholic school, 189-90

Normal schools, 128-29, 176, 258, 259-60, 266, 267

North Carolina, appeal to Legislature against general education, 153-54; public schools established, 154; Constitution provides for university, 168; see also Carolinas

O

Oberlin, J. F., 245

Oberlin College, 160; Oberlin Collegiate Institute founded, 245-46; first coeducational college, 246-47

"Oberlin Covenant," 245

Odd Fellows, education of women in South, 238

Ohio, teachers from East, 2; land grants for common schools, 159; colleges of, 160

Ohio Company, 159-60

Ohio State University, 160

Ohio, University of, 160

Onate, Juan de, expedition into New Mexico (1598), 183

Ordinance of 1787, quoted, 155

Oswego (N. Y.), normal school, 258, 259-60

Owen, R. D., 218

Oxford University, American

youth attracted to, 44; Rhodes scholarships, 45; American college buildings modeled after, 276

P

Palmer, Edwin, plans university in Virginia, 82

Parker, Colonel F. W., 264-67, 270

Parker, Theodore, and Horace Mann, 136

Paulist Fathers and Catholic University of America, 204

Penn, William, quoted, 34; settlement planned by, 34

Pennsylvania, teachers from East, 2; schools, 34-38, 151-153; school laws, 34-35; 152-153; Constitution provides for university, 168; Catholics in, 182, 194; agricultural college, 226

'Pennsylvania Dutch,' 37

Pennsylvania, University of, independent of denominational influence, 57; Franklin's Academy develops into, 73, 112; graduate work, 275; architecture, 276

People's College, 223-24

People's party (1892), 226

Perry, Commodore, opens ports of Japan, 283

Persia, students from, 284

Pestalozzi, J. H., 217

Phi Beta Kappa, 62, 85, 278

Philadelphia, Flower opens school in, 35; William Penn Charter School, 35; Franklin in, 66; Franklin and schools of, 74-75; Franklin bequeaths fund to, 75-76; high schools, 115; first Catholic parochial school, 195; "no Popery" agitation, 197-98; Franklin's project for "Public Academy," 211