

to keep even, if by doing so I can assist in improving the draft horses in our Dominion.

I was in Manitoba and the Territories and British Columbia, on two different occasions last year, and was so impressed with the opportunities which the Ontario farmer was missing, that I was prompted to import these fillies. Gentlemen from the United States are supplying the trade in our West that should be supplied by Ontario farmers.

It is, no doubt, difficult to make farmers fully understand that one is sincere in working out for the good of others, but such is my position. While I have had a desire to help in improving the live stock of our Dominion, my only desire so far as I am personally concerned, has been to keep even. I never had any ambition or thought that there would be much money in importing live stock. In fact, the "cannie" Scotchman and the hardheaded Englishman know the value of pedigreed live stock too well for any "Canuck" to get what might be called a cheap one.

The following is a list of the fillies. If catalogue can be mailed you in time to be of any service in advising the people of what will be sold it will be sent, but I fear it will be late for advertising purposes:
