The way it all came about was this. Her husband keeps a grocery store down town, and owing to the highly inflammable temper of his wife, he don't like to linger much around the family hearthstone, but town, and owing to the highly inflammable temper of his wife, he don't like to linger much around the family hearthstone, but whiles away the most of his time within the precincts of his store. The recent introduction of a telephone, however, afforded his wife an opportunity to air her peculiar views on various topics, and the diffect on her husband was most discourse. effect on her husband was most discour-

style:
"Is that you?"

"Yes," answered her husband in a hard, unnatural voice.

"It is, eh? All right. I suppose you know what kind of a condition I'm in this morning. After you left me in bysterics I broke all the breakfast dishes and scalded both arms trying to drive Smith. scalded both arms trying to drive Smith's cat out of the house. Oh, you old Beelze-bub! If I could keep you home long enough to give you a piece of my mind. It's no use to twit me any more of being a church member. I don't care any more for church or preacher than you do, so now. I've got past that, and every time I see the smirking hyporritical face of the Rev. —, I feel just like knocking his head against the wall. And now if you forget to bring up some baking powder and coffee this noon, I'll make a devil of a lively time for you! When the dinner hour arrived, the un-fortunate man ampled homeward, and his wife met him in the doorway.

"Where's that baking powder and coffee?" she hissed, seeing that he was empty handed and his fine features bathed an idiotic smile.
"Baking powder and coffee?" he in-

You know you wanted me to pay him some on your subscription to the church, and left him in the office. It can't be that you gave him the order. It's singular, too, he wasn't there when I came back. Shouldn't think he'd run away and leave his money."

"Why-why, you said-" But it was too much—much, too much. The husband's diplomatic strategy had got in its work. There was no backing out, and the lady could only go around, lugging about a horrible secret, which she now be lieves is only in the keeping of herself and pastor. And as we go to press there are no developments in this domestic tfagedy which warrant us in believing she will which warrant us in believing she will ever overcome her antipathy for the telephone. - Check.

A Different Branch of Business. One of the most interesting characters at the St. Paul depot, the other day, was a grizzly-looking fellow, perhaps 40 years of age, who said he was on his way East from Idaho, where he had been engaged in the cattle business.

"I threw it up this year," he continued, "because it's overdone." "I thought that was a business that couldn't be overdone," said a bystander.
"You don't understand it, then," was the rejoinder. "You see, there's two kinds of cattle business. I was in the kind that gets men hung."

Roller Skating.

Hope on, hope ever, let your hearts keep singing,
When low you bend above the churchyard Roller skating has become a cheap pop-ular recreation. Rinks and assembly-rooms where it can be practised have mul-tiplied both in New York and Brooklyr. The rate of admission and charges for the use of skates have been reduced, and the sport has been brought within the reach of

One day she called him up and opened out on him at long range in the following and "invalidism."

I will be a seen that the health, and may live to see her pay the penalty in chronic backache and "invalidism."

Another draw-back to unlimited roller-skating will be apparent to any one visit-ing assembly-rooms where it is practised. The comminging of boys and girls, young men and young women, more or less strangers to each other, in this violent and exciting sport, offers alluring opportunities for the vicious. A busy man who hears his daughters talking effusively about the great frolics they have had in the rink, would better go himself and get a glimpse of the interior and all that goes on.—New York Tribune.

Thousands Hastened to their Graves By relying on testimonials written in vivid glowing language of some miraculous cures made by some largely puffed up doctor or patent medicine has hastened thousands to their graves; the readers having almost insane faith that the same miracle will be performed on them, that these testimonials mention, while the so-called medicine is all the time hastening them to their graves. Although we have Thousands Upon Thousands!!! of testimonials of the most wonderful cures, voluntarily sent us, we do not publish them, as they do not make the cures. It is our medicine, Hop Bitters, that make the cures. It has never failed and never can. We will give reference to any one for any disease similar to their own if desired, or will refer to any neighbor, as there is not a neighborhood in the known world but can show its cures by Hop Bit-

A Losing Joke:

A Losing Johe:

A prominent physician of Pittsborg said to a lady patient who was complaining of her continued ill health, and of his inability to cure her, jokingly: "Try Hop Bitters!" The lady took it in earnest and used the Bitters, from which she obtained permanent health. She how laughed at the doctor for his joke, but he is not so well pleased with it, as it cost him a good patient.

Fees of Doctors.

The fee of doctors at $3.00 a visit would tax a man for a year, and in need of a daily visit, over $1,000 a year for medical attendance alone! And one single bottle of Hop Bitters taken in time would save the $1,000 and all the year's sickness.

Given up by the Poctors.

"Is it possible that Mr. Godfrey is up and at work, and cured by so simple a and at work, and cured by so simple a remedy?"

"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters, and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die, from Kidney and Liver trouble!"

It is worse than madness to neglect a cough or cold which is easily subdued if taken in time, but becomes, when left to itself, the fore runner of consumption and premature death. Inflammation, when it attacks the delicate tissue of the lungs and bronchial tubes, travels with perilous rapidity; then do not delay, get a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, the medicine that grasps this formidable foe of the human body, and drives it from the system. This medicine promotes a free and easy expectoration, subdues the cough, heals the discrete roots. heals the diseased parts, and exerts a most wonderful influence in curing consump-tion, and other diseases of the throat and lungs. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety, trouble and expense, let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

The salary of a Baptist pastor at Grant-ville, Neb., is $100 a year. The recipient does not try to live on it, but works at his old trade of shoemaking. His congrega-tion do not object to this way of providing cheap ministry to them, but they have made a tremendous row because on several Sundays, in making announcements from the pulpit, he included a notice that he would mend shoes better and cheaper than the opposition cobbler. than the opposition cobbler.

INCERSOLL

"As a scholar, logician and theologian, the author is master of the situation. He thoroughly exposes Ingersoll's ignorance, sophistries and misrepresentations. He meets Ingersoll's pleas for Atheism fairly and squarely and overwhelms the superficial pleader by unanswerable arguments. The whipped Atheist is in the hands of the author like a child in the grasp of a giant, or like an empty egg-shell in the hand of a strong man; the giant lays the child down and puts his foot on him, and tells him not to stir; the strong man compresses his hand and the egg-shell is crushed into a hundred pieces.—Baltimore Methodist.
