LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1878. This standard periodical enables one, with a small outlay of time and money, to keep pace with the thought and literature of the day. Hence its importance to every American reader, and hence its continued and growing success.

Issued weekly, and giving over three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with a freshness and satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the ablest essays and reviews, the choicest serial and short stories, the most interesting sketches of travel and discovery, the best poetry, and the most valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information, from the entire body of foreign periodical literature, and from the pens of the foremost writers.

Such distinguished authors as Rt. Hon. W. E.
Gladstone, Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Dr.
W. B. Carpenter, Richard A. Proctor, Prof.
Huxley, Jas. A. Froude, Edward A. Freeman, Frances Power Cobbe, D. Mackenzie Wallace,
The Duke of Argyll, Mrs. Muloch, William Black, Jean Ingelow, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Geo. MacDonald, Matthew Arnold, W. W. Story, Julia Kavanagh, Henry Kingsley, Turgenev, Auerbach, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art, are represented in its pages.

It has always stood at the head of its class giving an amount of reading unapproached by any other magazine; and in fact it affords, of itself, a satisfactorily thorough and complete compendium of a literature that is indispensable to American readers,—indispensable because it embraces the work of the ablest writers upon all topics of living interest. In the multitude of periodicals of the present day, such a publication has become a necessity to every person or family desiring to keep informed in current literature. As a concentration of what is of immediate interest or permanent value in the best literature of the time, it is invaluable.

For 1878, an extra offer is made to all new subscribers, viz.: to send them gratis the last six numbers of 1877, containing the first instalments of a new serial ("Erica"), translated from the German of Frau von Ingersleben, the best work of one of the best and brightest authors of Germany. These numbers also contain a story by the charming English authoress, Miss Thackeray, printed from advance sheets, and the usual amount of other valuable matter.
The subscription price ($8 a year), is cheap for the amount of reading given; while the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to send The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies, a year, both, postpaid for $10.50; thus furnishing to the subscriber at a remarkably small cost the cream of both home and foreign literature.

In making a selection of periodicals for the new year, this "magazine of magazines" is well worthy the attention of every one, as in no other way that we know of can a subscriber be put in possession of the best which the current literature of the world affords so conveniently or cheaply. The volume begins Jan. 1st.
Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.
