He was married to his second wife, who is only twenty five years, two weeks ago in St. Patrick's Church. They returned from their honeymoon trip about a week ago.

He was a member of the Royal Society and was connected with a number of Irish Catholic societies. His young widow was a Miss Sims, the daughter of a well-to-do contractor.

RE BOND-HAY TREATY.

To the Editor of the Argus:

In the "Daily News" of Monday, Nov. 24, and also in the "Argus" of the following day, there appeared a letter headed in large capitals "Mayor Morash after Town interest," and signed Allan R. Morash, Mayor, in which special reference is given as to what he had done as a correspondent with the Board of Underwriters at Halifax, by way of advice, and as to what Fire Insurance Policy holders would expect in the reduction of their rates of premium, and that the Town was fully equipped in the matter of properly fighting fires in any part of the Town.

Mayor Morash also informs us in the same letter that he had been corresponding with the purchasers of the Lunenburg Foundry, stating, that it had been intimated that they intended removing the works to some other Town, and asking them if such was really their intention, and if they would not reconsider the matter, and be induced to continue operations here.

Now, Mr. Editor, while your correspondents notices are highly commendable and I do not wish to criticize, but hope that his efforts will be attained, I would like to know where, Mr. Morash, the mayor of this Town is in the matter of the Bond-Hay Treaty, which like a dark cloud, is threatening our only commerce, the deep sea fishing, the result of which would mean ruin to Lunenburg!

Why his apparent silence? why his spathy in a matter of such importance as the interest of the fishermen? In a matter of such paramount importance affecting so completely the entire trade and interest of Eastern Canada, more particularly Nova Scotia largely engaged as she is in the fisheries and especially to the fishermen of Lunenburg County, so dependent upon the catch of fish for a living.

Is it that he as Mayor of Lunenburg has not been advised to call a public meeting in the interest of our fishing industry, by way of showing our denunciations of such a Trade Treaty, by an open expression of the suicidal effect such a Treaty would have as respects Canada, so largely interested in fishing?

Is it that he the Mayor feeling that the Liberal Party supporting the Canadian Government, are wanting to shield said Government, in that they unfortunately tacitly acquiesce in allowing any treaty between the United States and Newfoundland, that may serve the interests of Newfoundland as an offset on the part of the Dominion Government, for not assisting Newfoundland, in retaining her treaty rights in the French Shore question?

Or, is it that his Worship Mayor Morash, has not advised by his political friends, not to call a public meeting, lest the Government would be denounced, from their utter disregard of our fishermen's rights? Interests that should have been recognized and emphasized in the most earnest manner, for the reason that the claim of the fishermen for qualities is a correct one, and indeed every true British subject, be he Canadian born, or Newfoundland born, should as Colonials belonging to the one great Empire, stand together, and if a disposition should arise where by interests should cloak on the front of either, as at present seems eminent an appeal should be made to the Imperial Government for redress, so that the interests of the one should not be sacrificed for the other.

Mayor Morash appears to regret not having acceded to the Resolution of the Lunenburg Board of Trade, recommending the convening of a public meeting, and now that the proposed Bond-Hay Treaty has reached a stage beyond that anticipated, and only awaits ratification by the United States authorities to become seen Mayor Morash's only excuse for such apparent neglect in not calling a public meeting is that he thought it too late and could be remedied.

But Mayor Morash should understand, that in his official position, he is the servant of the public and has no right to set up his own opinion above that of so important and honorable a body as the Lunenburg Board of Trade, and neglect what to the Fishermen in Nova Scotia and to Lunenburg in particular is their very living, and so vastly more important to them, than the reduction of Fire Insurance rates and the retaining of the Foundry in this Town.

The Basutos.

London, Nov. 27.—The correspondent of the "Times" at Johannesburg says that Lord Milner left on Monday on a three weeks' tour of the Orange Free State. He will return by way of Kimberley and the Western Transvaal, visiting the battlefields of Paardeberg and Magersfontein on the way. He will meet Lord Roberts, the Basuto chief, at Ladybrand. There has been for some time says the correspondent, an unrecurrent of uneasiness among the natives owing to reports that the government was going to disarm the Basutos.

Murdered Man Appears in Court.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 25.—The tale which Silas Hulin told in a Supreme Court of Sessions last Monday saved Clarence Peake, seventeen years old, who was about to be sentenced to eighteen years at hard labor for the murder of the man who was ceremoniously appeared and declared the youth guilty.

The story connected with Hulin's appearance is the strangest with which the Supreme Court has ever dealt. A year ago last September young Peake, who is a member of a wealthy family, was drinking with friends in a saloon in Clinton, near Knoxville. A man appeared to be Hulin, an itinerant peddler of light and well known in this section, was in the saloon when Peake invited all present to take a drink. The supposed Hulin stepped up to the bar and drank "nothing," and when he returned to the table, he found the man who had been taken for Hulin's drink he had not tested declaring that he had not invited Hulin to drink. The matter was settled for the time by a member of the party paying for the man's drink. The peddler left the place shortly afterward and Peake followed. As the former trudged up the railroad tracks near the saloon Peake shot him with a pistol, killing him instantly.

A coroner's jury declared that Peake had killed Hulin wantonly. He was arrested and held in $10,000 bonds, and at the last term of the Circuit Court of Anderson County was tried and convicted of the murder of Hulin and sentenced to eighteen years at hard labor in the State Penitentiary. Peake's attorney appealed the case to the supreme court. That tribunal was hearing the case when Silas Hulin walked into the courtroom in company with "Link" Williams, a Deputy Sheriff.

Hulin was the first introduced to the Attorney-General, who in turn made him known to the members of the court. Proceedings in the case came to halt. Depositions were taken to establish the identity of Hulin. A score of citizens who had known the man all their lives said he was Silas Hulin beyond doubt.

The question now is, who was it that Clarence Peake killed on the railroad tracks in Clinton a year ago? At present Peake is confined in an insane asylum near Knoxville, it being alleged that he is of unsound mind. This claim was substantiated in the Circuit Court. Hulin was somewhere in Missouri it has been proved, when he was supposed to have been killed. Williams, the Deputy Sheriff, traced him all over the Southwest to save Peake.

Foiled By Telephone.

WARREN, Mich., Nov. 26.—Client E. Osborne, assistant postmaster and proprietor of a general store in this village, was shot dead to-day by a gang of robbers who had entered the Warren bank and opened the safe. There were three or four men in the gang. About 2:30 o'clock they drove into town and broke into the bank; they drilled the safe and inserted a large charge of nitro-glycerine in the hole. The explosion aroused Osborne, who telephoned to one of his neighbors that he thought burglars were at work in either the Bank or Post Office. All the telephones in the village are connected at night, and it is thought that the cracksmen heard the bell on the bank telephone ring and listened to Osborne's conversation. Osborne then started down the street, and had gone but a short distance when one of the robbers, acting as an outside guard, shot him in the face with a charge of buckshot, killing him instantly. Then without securing any thing from the safe, the robbers rushed to the bank to where they had tied a team of horses. They drove rapidly and no trace of them has since been discovered.

Blew Out The Gas.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 28.—William and Martha Hogeboom, aged about 60 years, were found dead in bed in the Schlitz hotel to-day, having been asphyxiated during last night, illuminating gas. They were residents of East Cobleskill, Schoharie County, and arrived in town yesterday afternoon, in order to meet their two sons and their daughter-in-law, who were to be discharged from the Albany County penitentiary this afternoon, after having served terms of six months imprisonment, having been convicted of petty larceny and burglary in breaking into a store at East Cobleskill, and stealing several loaves of bread and some canned goods.

When Mr. and Mrs. Hogeboom retired last night, they were cautioned to be careful of the fixtures, but it is believed being ignorant of the manner in which the stoptop worked, they blew out the gas. Their children were released from the penitentiary and expressed surprise at not being met by their father and mother. They left for their home on an early train, and were later notified of the death of their parents by the Albany police.

Trouble For Venezuela.

German Warships To Be Sent There At Once—Charybids.

Berlin, Nov. 27.—Three additional cruisers, the "Niobe," "Arcturion" and "Amazon," have been ordered to leave Kiel and proceed to Venezuela. The warships will sail as soon as they can be made ready for sea. Telegraphic instructions were sent to the Navy Department yesterday evening ordering immediate fitting out on a war footing and orders for the necessary supplies of ammunition and other equipments have been issued. It is said that the three cruisers will be ready to sail about the middle of next week.

John Bull is Looking For $850,000 of Boer Gold.

Berlin, November 30.—The British government is telegraphing to all parts of Germany making inquiries concerning a number of Boer gold bars worth $850,000, which it is supposed have been brought to this country from South Africa within the past fortnight. The bars are destined for former President Kruger and Dr. Leyds, and it is presumed, had been concealed in the Northern Transvaal. Great Britain will endeavor legally to attach the gold, if it can be located, on the ground that she is entitled to all the assets of the Transvaal because she has assumed responsibility for the debts of that country, including the bonds issued prior to the war. General Botha's reply to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain that the late Boer government has no assets was strictly correct.

When the late Boer government was in power Mr. Chamberlain's letter conveying Mr. Chamberlain's letter General Botha learned, according to seemingly trust worthy information that Mr. Kruger and Dr. Leyds have in their possession $2,500,000. This gold is the property of the Boer people, but Leyds refused, averring that the money was to be used in upholding the Boer nationality in the future. General Botha has notified Dr. Leyds that unless the gold is given up legal proceedings will be brought against him.

White Vest And Pink Shirt.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The hearing in the divorce suit of Sir Charles Hartopp against his wife, in which the Earl of Cowley is named as co-respondent, was resumed this morning. The courtroom was crowded with fashionable people. The Earl of Cowley was conspicuous by his attire. He wore a spotless white waistcoat and a tie of the same hue and a vivid pink shirt. The women present wore brilliant dresses. Owing to a dense fog the courtroom was lighted by electricity, and with the display of handsome costumes by the women there was an appearance of a society evening entertainment.

Sir Charles Hartopp admitted that he made bets on the races and played cards before and after his marriage. He also testified that Lady Hartopp made bets on the races. He said he lost £270 on the Epsom and Ascot races in 1899.

The maid employed by Lady Hartopp for her hunting cottage in Leicester testified that Lord Cowley was habitually alone with her mistress in the latter's boudoir, which could only be entered through a bedroom. He was also alone with her in the drawing room, the door of which was kept locked. The maid testified further that Lady Hartopp often visited Earl Cowley at Baggrave Hall near her cottage.

EASTPORT, Me., Nov. 25.—Capt. George Meese, of the schooner Olive C., was set upon by thieves while on his vessel, which laid at anchor, to-night was robbed of a gold watch and $40 and even thrown overboard. A police officer who heard his cries rescued him from drowning.

Asleep At His Post.

Boston, Nov. 26.—On the charge of sleeping at his post, Archibald S. Rogers, first mate of the ship Kenmore, was closely reprimanded to-day. The case is unusual, no such charge having been preferred in the U. S. Courts for a number of years. The Kenmore arrived last night after 62 days voyage from Petit Sound carrying Oregon spars. It is charged that as the ship was rounding Cape Horn last August, Rogers fell asleep at his post. It is said, however, that he was put to work the next day and nothing was said about it until the ship arrived in Boston, and he was surprised at his arrest.

Rogers denies the charge against him and says it is a plot on the part of the captain's wife. The case was continued till next week, Rogers being remanded to jail.

ALL summer loads of work open or less small part, or a disease resembling it in Kent county. It appeared in the Danes and surrounding places and the houses were quarantined whenever reported. It is apparently of a mild type, as no deaths have been reported. There are at present several cases around Kent, a few being about five miles from Boutouche. There are also 3 or 4 cases divided among 3 families about 3 miles from Rogersville, Northumberland county. The disease was not discovered there for a couple of weeks after it had made its appearance, and consequently a great many persons were exposed. There are three doctors at Rogersville now looking after it. They have quarantined and placed guards on about fifty houses and vaccinated the inmates. Yesterday they stopped some persons who had been exposed from boarding a train. By stringent measures they hope to confine the disease to the houses already affected.
