CANNOT SOMETHING BE DONE FOR THE FARMERS?

Discussing the important question of binder twine, the Toronto Weekly Sun remarks: - With higher prices in prospect many farmers will naturally ask whether something cannot be done to relieve the situation. The United States Government is already moving and is experimenting on substitutes for both manila and sisal. But if a suitable substitute be found much time must necessarily elapse before it can be brought into general use. Is it possible to take such action as wil in the meantime reduce prices? Some years ago the Dominion and Ontario Governments began the manu facture of binder twine in the Kings ton penitentiary and in the Centra prison at Toronto. But Government manufacture has not, in recent years at least, had the slightest effect upon the market. The quantity of twine made in the Government institutions has been comparatively small, and it has been sold to private dealers, who have disposed of it at the highest prices they could secure. If Government manufacture is continued on the same scale next year and the product is disposed-of in the same way that it has been disposed of in the past, relief is not likely to be afforded thereby.

TRADE INQUITIED.

The following were among the inquiries relating to Canadian trade received at the High Commissioner's office in London during the week ending October 20th:-

A north of England firm desires to be placed in communication with Canadian timber houses open to sell large quantities of spruce wood boxes, planed and unplaned, cut to sizes and packed in bales.

The names of exporters of evaporat ed apples, rings, etc., are inquired for A firm of agents ask to be referred to Canadian houses exporting ray materials, wood pulp, etc. The following trade inquiries hav recently been received by the Canadian Curator at the Imperial institute -A London importer having a demand for ground mica wishes to hear from Canadian producers. A Canadian firm ask for names of importers willing to contract for supplies of broom handles. A Scotch firm of merchants, buyer of wood flour, ask for names of Canadian producers having supplies to A Midlands firm with a large provincial connection would like to hear from Canadian shippers of turkeys. A Canadian manufacturer of mouldings writes for names of British importers of same.

communication with a good firm of Canadian wood pulp manufacturers. They would be prepared either to take up an agency and sell on commission or buy on their own account. "-

THE CONTEST IN MANITOBA.

The Liberal Government of Manitoba in going to the people advance no new claim for support. They trot out their old anti-separate school policy and once again promise the province pro hibitory legislation as far as they can go. In his address to the electors Premier Greenway says; Since the last provincial general election a judgment has been rendered by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council upon the subject of the jurisdiction of the Dominion Parliament and Provincia! Legislature respectively, wirh reference to the prohibition and restriction of the liquor traffic. That judgment was considered ambiguous in some respects, and we proceeded to procure opinion of eminent counsel thereon. When the question came up for consideration during the last session of the Legislature, I stated it was the intention of the Government at the next session to introduce legis lation prohibiting the sale of liquor to the extent of the powers of the province in that regard, and such statement still stands as our declared pol-

When I last appealed to you the main subject then presented for your consideration was the attack menaced by the Government of that day upon our national schools system. That at tack was supported by those within the province who oppose us to-day, but, despite their efforts, we succeeded in preserving the system, which will continue as long as I maintain the confidence of the electors. When returned to power, it is my intention to continue on the same lines of progressive policy as in the past. I shall always hold the interests of the farmers as of paramount importance. I shall always power, the Ross government is overadvocate their interests and the in- looking the local gangs in different terests of the province as my first pub- ridings who, while having no connec lic duty. SOME GRAND OLD PEOPLE.

Dandoro, when past ninety and utterly blind, stormed Constantinople. Titian was painting his finest pictures when he died in his 100th year. Sir Isaac Newton was president of the Royal Society at the age of eightythree, and Landor finished his "Imaginary Conversations" at the age of eighty-nine. Brougham was a strong debater at eighty, and Lyndhurst, when over ninety, spoke in the house of lords. Franklin was the governor of Pennsylvania at eighty-two, Gladstone (the grand old man), hale and hearty at the age of eighty-three, was power in the British Parliament. Sir Charles Tupper at seventy-eight is one of the most vigorous men in Canada. He is constantly on the move, travels thousands and thousands of miles yearly by rail and water, addressing immense gatherings in speeches of from one to three hours duration, Sir Charles is one of the marvels of the closing years of the cen-

PROHIBITIONISTS HAVE A NEW SCHEME.

At last the Prohibitionists have be come convinced that it is foolish to expect anything from either political party in the way of prohibitory legislation. They are determined to take independent action. The Dominion Alliance, we are told, has arranged a new plan of campaign. It proposes to secure a pledged league of 100,000 voters, who will promise that at the next general, Dominion elections they will vote only for such candidates as will agree to do all in their power, if elected, to obtain the immediate enactment of legislation for the prohibition of the liquor traffic.

The scheme might succeed if they could rely on the promises of the politicians. But experience has shown them they cannot. Sir Oliver Mowat promised them to go as far as he had the power. When the judicial committee of the privy council decided how far he could go he gave up the premiership of Ontario before keeping his promise. Hardy succeeded him and repudiated the whole thing. Sir Wilfrid Laurier pledged himself to other fortnight will make it sounder abide by the result of a plebiscite and broke his word. Greenway in Manibroke his word. Greenw Mowat. His promise was to have been kept this next sesson. He has dissolved the legislature without fulfilling his pledge. He is trying, howfilling his pledge. He is trying, however, but little has been done in the early the prohibitionists once more for their vote. He promises them to fulfil his previous promises if again sustained.

However, but little has been done in the warm weather, yet a few cars have been shipped each week. The market has held at $4.75 to $5, as to quality. To-day the feeling is easier. After being dealt with in this way by the leaders are Prohibitionists so verdant as to imagine they can rely on the word of the ordinary candidate They should insist on a bond. If they could compel the men they elect to keep their promises the scheme could hardly fail. Fifty or a hundred voters in a close constituency banded together to vote for a prohibition worker or else to abstain from voting altogether would be a big tempetation to almost any candidate. A hundred pledged men could hold the balance of power in many a Canadian constituency, and if they were firm they could secure their price with a guarantee of the delivery of the goods. But as for promises, Canada seems to have reached the degrading stage where a politician's word is worthless.

This city has wallowed in the mud long enough. Let us have some decent streets even if they do cost money.

Principal Paterson, of the C. C. I., has the distinction of having brought to Chatham, in the person of Hon. Geo. E. Foster, not only the most gifted speaker in Canada, but a future premier of the Dominion.

The aldermanic excuse for not push ing pavement work, is that the people won't sign for it. What Chatham wants is a council that will give it good pavements, whether the people interested sign or not. Of what use is a council which declares itself incapable of overcoming a little opposition?

The Peterboro Examiner calls him 'Sir William Mulock." If the Liberals are going to festoon this great Dominion with gold brick titles, the postmaster-general may as well have one as the rest of them. But it might lend more to the dignity of the knighthood if it were conferred by the Queen instead of by the Peterboro Examiner.

In prosecuting a few of the rogues and criminals who returned them to tion with the general machine, look after the party dirty work in their own neighborhoods. It ought not to a judge's report to get after these portant questions diametrically oppos- same as after other classes of thieves. WOULD LIKE THAT WOOD.
