

An anecdote of Davy Crockett: Young Davy Crockett was a member of Congress and had returned home at the close of the first session, several of his neighbors gathered around him one day and asked questions about Washington. "What time do they dine in the city?" asked one. "Com-mon people, such as we have here, dine at one. The big ones at three, the Rep-resentatives, at four; the aristocracy and Senators eat at five." "Well, when does the President fodder?" "Old Hickory?" exclaimed the Colonel. "Well, he don't dine till next day."

A New England lady was asking her cook the other day about a waitress she proposed to hire, and said: "Mary, is she Irish?" "No, Ma'am," said Mary, "she's American." "What is her name, Mary?" "Bridget O'Connor, ma'am." "Why then, of course she is Irish, Mary." "No, ma'am; she was born in Lynn." "Oh, that makes no difference, Mary; she is not an American." "Well, in faith, perhaps she isn't, ma'am. They tell me the real ones are red."

When a tailor makes up his man's coat, what does he do with the remains?
