AT THE "FOREIGN" WINDOW

How Uncle Sam's Stepchildren Remember "Old Country" Friends.
"Home and mother!"

These magic words are responsible for the sending out of Cleveland daily at this season of the year of thousands of dollars. At the window over which is the word "Foreign," in the money order office at the postoffice, a continuous string of people patiently await their turn to send sums varying from $5 to $25 to loved ones living in what they lovingly call the "old country."

Out of their bounty Cleveland's adopted children are sending something to cheer up those who are living in less favored climes. From week to week they lay small sums aside as the end of the year approaches. When they have accumulated the necessary amount they troop down to the postoffice, the one bank in which foreigners have absolute confidence, and send to mother, father, brother or sister the tokens of their regard. Distances are so great that the actual money is much more appropriate than any of the gaudy articles which would naturally be forwarded.

"Me getta twenty doll's worth," explained one woman as she elbowed her way gradually to the window.

"What?" demanded the clerk. He is required to understand everything.

"Me wanta twenty doll's," repeated the woman.

"Oh, you want to send $20 home," explained the clerk.

The woman signified with her head that she certainly did want to send some money home. Tightly clutching her check, she made a break to mail the order. Her face was lighted up with a glad look.

"Who are you sending it to?" asked the clerk of the next in the line.

"Mudder," says the woman. It is the only word she utters as she lays down two ten-dollar bills. Enough said. She, too, clutched her order as if it was a pardon from death and hurried away to mail it.

Russians in large numbers, Italians, Germans and Irish are among the daily throng that seeks to make the loved ones at home happy.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

SANTA CLAUS' WORKSHOP.

Curious Corner of Toyland in the Austrian Village St. Ulrich.

Tourists wandering out of the beaten tracks of their kind occasionally come to a little village in Austria which presents the aspect of a corner of toyland. The name of the village is St. Ulrich, and nearly all of its inhabitants are toymakers. Each household, too, has its specialty. One old woman has done nothing but carve wooden cats, dogs, wolves, sheep, goats and elephants.

She has made those six animals her whole life long, and she has no idea how to cut anything else. She makes them in two sizes and turns out as nearly as possible a thousand of them a year.

She has no model or drawing of any kind to work by, but goes on steadily, unerringly, using gauges of different sizes and shaping out her cats, dogs, wolves, sheep, goats and elephants with an ease and an amount of truth to nature that would be clever if they were not utterly mechanical.

This woman learned from her mother how to carve those six animals, and her mother had learned, in like manner, from her grandmother. She has taught the art to her own granddaughter, and so it may go on being transmitted for generations.

In another house one will find the whole family carving skulls and crossbones for fixing at the bases of crucifixes, for the woodcarving industry has its religious as well as its amusing side. In other houses are families that carve rocking horses or dolls or other toys and in still other houses whole families of painters.—London Tit-Bits.

Little Johnny's Resolutions

NEXT Tuesday 'll be New Year's day."

Said little Johnny Lake.
"Some resolutions, mom de clares,

I really ought to make.
Mom's promised to stop gossipin', An' so has Sister Sue.
I guess I'll resolve a bit.
Le's see—what shall I do?

"I'll resolve, I guess, to quit A-splittin' kindlin' wood!
Then pop 'll have to do that work, Like fathers always should.
An' then, while I'm a-doin' it, I'll resolve to quit
The Sunday school, fer goin' there With me don't make no hit.

"I GUESS I'LL RESOLVE A BIT."

"I'd like to resolve some way To git myself a goat;
I want a buttin' billy ram With whiskers on his throat.
An' then I'll resolve, I guess, To beat up Tommy Hunt;
He's took an' stole my girl frum me, The doggone little runt!

"I reckon that's enough fer me To resolve just now,
At any rate, I'll make that do— It's plenty, anyhow.
Le's see—I start on New Year's day. Well, that ain't very fur.
Won't mom be tickled when she finds How well I've minded her!"
—Denver Post.

A ROYAL POKER GAME.

How King Kalakaua Wound Up His New Year's Festivities.

C. R. Macdonald, describing in the St. Louis Republic a New Year's day in old Hawaii, says:

"After dinner we adjourned to the royal library, where we found card tables duly equipped. 'We generally wind up an evening of this kind with a game of poker,' said Kalakaua. 'Are you all content?' Every one was content, and it was my luck to be seated at the king's table.

"Next morning when at breakfast at the hotel one of the king's equerries came to my table and placed a chamouis bag containing forty ten-dollar pieces in front of me, saying the king had sent them with his compliments. One of the ladies of our party who had witnessed this somewhat unusual proceeding asked me why the king should send me such a present.

"Madam," I replied, "the shillings and pence which in the days of my youth I cast upon missionary waters to buy poptans and blankets for the Sandwich Islanders have this morning been returned to me a hundred fold."

Fortune Telling on New Year's Eve.
Fortune telling obtains in rural Germany on New Year's eve. The young people, who gather to peer together into the future, melt a little lead in a long handled ladle. The person who grasps the handle then pours the molten metal into a pail of water, standing well back so as not to be scalded by the splashing water and steam, for the striking of the lead upon the water produces almost the effect of an explosion. If the lead congeals into any shape that can be construed as like a star it is a good augury. If a film gathers on the surface it means money. Any old woman who is an expert seer can see in the metal and water sure signs of coming marriage, long journeys, sickness or death. The ability to read these riddles is supposed to descend by inheritance from mother to daughter.

New Year's Eve in Italy.
Don't you wish you were an Italian on New Year's? Presumably at the stroke of 12 on New Year's eve there are rustling and bustling and merry laughter as each maiden kisses all the young men she can catch. It is the only moment in the year when custom permits her such a liberty, and she is not slow to take advantage of it. Then, the new year having made its bow, the party breaks up, the young folk take a walk, and the first person of the opposite sex with whom a roller coaster is considered a custom to be that most remarkable of customs, partner in life.
