STOLE $10,000.

Chicago Express Clerk Weakens When Sweated by Detectives.

Worked Long Hours, Poorly Paid and Fell to Temptation.

Chicago, Ill., July 21.-Clayton T. Zimmerman, 20 years old, a clerk on a salary of $55 a month in the "Outoffice of the Adams Express money" office of the Adams Express Company, was arrested to-day for the theft of a package of $10,000 in currency, which disappeared mysteriously last Tuesday, baffling a score of detectives. Zimnerman admitted taking the money. Working II hours a day 385 days in the year on a small salary, and handling close to $1,000,000 a day in the office of the express company, turned the young man's head, and when he saw an opportunity to "hold out" a small fortune, he admits, he secreted the $10,000 package and went on about his work.

When he was left alone in the express company's office a '193 Monroe west last Monday night Zimmerman tore open the bundle, which he had concealed earlier in the evening, and filled his pockets with the hundreds of brand new $5 and $10 bills which the package contained. In one pocket he also placed the string and wrapprings. Then, leaving the office a few minutes later—it was just midnight—he boarded a Madison street car and started for his home, 1334 Monroe street west. A few blocks near his home he took the package wrappings and, rolling them into a wad, cast them into a vacant lot.

Upon his arrival home he extracted from his pulging pockets the bright Company, was arrested to-day for the and, rolling them into a wad, cast them into a vacant lot.

Upon his arrival home he extracted from his pulging pockets the bright new bills and placing them all in one bundle, rolled them into a newspaper and hid them in the bath room, in a hole concealed by a baseboard directly behind the bath tub. There the money was found by the detectives after Zimmerman had led them to the hiding place. With the exception of one $10 bill the money was all there. At the Harrison street police station, to which he was taken, he repeated his confession. In part he said:

'I made a mistake in the first place in making up my mind to steal at, but I made a second mistake a moment later. In abstracting the way-bill which followed the $10,000 one I absent mindedly abstracted it for the bank of Monmouth, III. I was not excited in the least. It was simply carelessness.

orderesness. It was simply carelessness.

"At 3 o'clock to-day, I had been sweated a number of times, but without telling anything I knew, the detectives took me to my home. They talked to me some time and when I saw that the jig was up I simply told them all I have told you. I told them where the money was and they got it.

got it.
"This was hie third big mistake I made. I realize now I was a d-fool to tell where the money was. I should have stood pat."

"I AM GUILTY."

Frank Finch, of Finch Bros., left to-day for Europe, where he will visit the great fashion centres in search of the latest novelties in millinery and dress goods for the fall season. The patrons of this popular store can be assured of the best that can be had, for leaving late, as he did, he is just in time for the latest style trend of the Parisian fash-ions for the coming season.

new Ministry to take the place of the Memenceau regime, which came to a sudden end last night, was begun early President Fallieres was visited at an early hour at the Elysee Palace by the retiring Premier, M. It is now assured that three members of the old Cabinet will be retained in the re-constructed Ministry. But asidifrom the question of personnel the Government advisers are principally concerned in re-solidifying the Republican "bloc" in order that its policies may be centinued both at home and abroat. It is generally believed that if M. Bourgeois, former Minister of Foreign Affairs, can be induced to accept the task of forming, a speedy solution of the crisis can be reached.

The members of the Right, which includes the Royalists and the Catholic element, are intensely pleased with the overthrow of M. Clemenceau. But they are not likely to profit greatly by the present situation. Aside from Bourgeois, the only possible combination having more conservative tendencies which has a chance of succeeding is one with M. Poincare as chief and M. Del.

The approaching visit of the Czar to Cherbourg renders an immediate solution of the crisis imperative, as President Pallieres cannot take the members of the retiring Cabinet with him to Cherbourg at the time the official greeting of France is extended to Abha Russian ruler. Sources close to M. Fallieres continuo to believe that the President regards M. Bourgeois as the best able to reunite the discordant elements.

The circles close to the affairs of the Elysee Palace expect President Fallieres to make a telegraphic offer of the Premiership to M. Bourgeois to night. M. Bourgeois is now at Berne, Switzerland, where he is presiding over the international congress of seciology.

Although this is the first policy of this character on Mr. Harriman's life written in this country by Lloyds, it is said that a number of similar policies have been taken out recently by English investors. SCRIBES VS. HALLITES GAME ON MOUNTAIN

The famous press baseball team, composed of picked men from the reportorial staffs of the Times, Spectator and Herald newspapers, went down to ignominious defeat before the onslaughts of the City Hall employees' team in a game of baseball at Mountain View Park yesterday afternoon. In the first few innings, with the aid of an imitation umterday afternoon. In the first few in-nings, with the aid of an imitation umpire and the absence of the press pitcher, the City Hallites succeeded in getting a lead that could not be overtaken by Dedsworth, c. the knights of the quill. In spots the play was good, and numerous gentlemen were left marooned on the bases with

Bill McKinty started the first half for the scribes by knocking a little bounder, and by Marathoning down to first like a man who sees a creditor approaching. McNair went to bat, and popped a little fly, which landed him on first. Things were progressing nicely, when "Spike" Witherspoon stepped up to the plate and pounded the air. "Gans" Dodsworth took the stick next, leaned against one, and it went buzzing out to the painted fence signs, while "Gans" shook his shins for three bases. James followed at bat and disgraced himself Gus McKinty walloped a beautiful fly plumb into centre garden, but the ump. said "Foul." Warlike demonstrations, said "Foul." Warlike demonstrations, especially from a large man with a partially bald head, who called the Chief 77 names, all derogatory. If he were to meet the Chief outside the grounds he'd make Tom Longboat look like a trunkful of tombstones. When the half was finished the ink slingers had one run to their credit, and went into the field determined to shut the Tax-eaters out without a run.

Pitcher Stewart went to bat first for the Hallites, and bumped a pretty fly into centre. "Spike" had been standing there with his face ajar, and a deputation had to be sent out to acquaint him

Archie Kappelle connected with a straight one and stole second prettily. He arose from the slide to gloat, and danced off the bag in childish glee, whereat the second baseman, who had absent-mindedly retained the ball, harvested Mr. Kappelle, and the air was full of German guttural grouch. Then up walked Fred Howe with a gleam of determination in his eye, and bunted a short ball about four feet outside of the base line. Howe slid to first, and the ump, yelled "Fair ball." The scriber rooter emitted a howl that was plainly visible two miles away—visible is the Free James, in left garden, was a tower of weakness to the Press team.

Witherspoon made as many errors as the whole City Hall team put together.

Oh! he's some class.

At the end of the fifth the scribes sen Pitcher Gus McKinty to the tall tim-bers, and put Wilkes in the box. The change was a good one—Wilkes manag-ing to do a little less damage to his own lig to do a little less damage to his own team than his predecessor.

The City Hallites said they showed the Press Gang "Howe."

As to "Spike's" batting ability, if he went to bat on a good, clear diamond, with his hair slicked down, and met with he interference, no interference, with no interference—no interference, nind you—he might get to first base

The only run Jack Anderson made was to the thirst killer emporium, at the corner, after the game.

As for Catcher Dodsworth, well, the less said about his work the better.

Archie Kappele insisted on wearing gloves—said he had just been to the barber shop and had his hands manicured, and wasn't going to waste 50 cents.

New York, July 21.—(Special.)—Jack Chesbro, one-time premier pitcher of the country, will probably retire from baseball unless he is claimed by one of the major league clubs within a few days. Waivers on the once formidable twirler have been asked by the New York American League club, and as Chesbro is well-to-do and has a prosperous lumber business in Conway, Mass, he will probably quit the diamond. Chesbro has been unable to regain the cunning of his arm that made him a terror to the batsmen of the National League when he pitched later with the local club of the American League.

British championship meet at Stamford Bridge, says:

The great event of the meeting was, of course, the hundred yards, in which R. E. Walker, the marvellous South African runner, who has been credited with 945 sec. for the distance: R. Kerr, of Canada, and N. I. Cartmell of hundred and the course of the same of the course of the same of the of Canada; and N. J. Cartmell, of America, met to fight their Olympic Games buttle over again. Walker did not get his usual flying start. On the contrary, he got away rather slowly and at the half distance was led by both Kerr and Cartmell. The South African, however, fluished with a rare busst of speed and Cartmell. The South African, however, finished with a rare burst of speed, and although hard pressed by Cartmell, who finished the strongest of the three, he just held his own and won by inches.

Satisfied with his victory in the sprint Walker did not turn out for the 220 yards, but Kerr and Cartmell had another struggle. The result was the same as in the hundred yards, Cartmell, who seems to be bigger and stronger than when over here last year, finishing like a lion and running Kerr out of the race in 22 sec., which is a championship record for the distance. Satisfied with his victory in the sprint
