THE OAT CROP.—The secretary for agriculture says that the average condition of the oat crop in the province, as gathered from nearly one hundred reports and corrected by allowance for the difference in the breadth of this grain sown in the several counties, is about 75 per cent., 100 being taken to represent prime condition. This is a marked improvement on previous reports and a further advance may be expected from recent rains. A bulletin on the subject will be issued from the agricultural office early next week.

But I did not set out to write on politics and so we will get along to the crude, but very lively little town of Edmundston, terminus of the New Brunswick railway, and starting point of the St. Francis railway. If you want to stop in Edmundston, Magloire Hebert or Felix Hebert will take good care of you. Don't expect anything metropolitan except in the matter of cleanliness and you will not be disappointed. You will get enough to eat and won't have to pay much for it. Edmundston is a very pretty situated town with fine views in all directions. You can spend two days here very well. The first day get a team and drive up towards St. Francis. In order to get back comfortably the same night, perhaps you had not better go any further than Fort Kent, a little town in Maine. Get your dinner there and come home on the side of the river opposite to the one you go up on. By taking such a drive you can see Jean Baptiste at home and he is well worth looking at. The secent day take the Temiscouata railway, go up to Dennis Griffin's, fish all day and come back on the return train. It will be your own fault if you do not get a big string of trout. Possibly you may get a few large ones; but don't count on many more than ten inches long.
