THE RING.

Chawfordsyllle, Ind., Feb. 6.—The Corey and Fell fight took place Thursday in the principal hall in Waynetown, Ind. After the fight, which resulted in the knocking out of Fell, the ruffians took possession of the town. They defied the authorities, and held a prize fight between Jack O'Ncil and Tom Platt, which was an eight-round battle, and one of the bloodiest ever seen. They fought with bare fists, and did not stop until their noses were smashed and fingers broken.

The match between Harry Gilmore and Lavine, of Saginaw, has been declared off.

FOOTBALL.

FOOT BALL.

Says the London Sportsman: "The vicar of Bishop Auckland, the Rev. Edwin Price, on Saturday referred to the ostablishment of a football company to carry on a professional football team in that town. He said professionalism was almost the greatest danger which was threatening England at the present time. During the last woek they had a meeting in the town, which, in its results, would probably draw more and more of the youth of the place away from the Christian ideal to the gross physical ideal of animal force. He had nothing to say against any manly recreation, but to turn these games into a profession, to make a serious business of what should be the relaxation of an hour, to tempt men from honest, dignified labor, to bring in a greater flood of evil influences than there were already upon them, to bring in hired men because they could play better than themselves—this was the lowest stage to which men could descend.

Bland, D. D. G. R. After installing the officers of Strathroy Council interesting speeches were delivered, and the interchange of ideas in regard to the order will no doubt be productive of good. A bountiful repast was provided in honor of the visitors.
