FRANCISCAN FATHERS LEAVE CHATHAM FOR MT. ALVERNO, U. S. A.

Bishop Fallon To Appoint a New Pastor For St. Joseph's.

With the departure of the Franciscan Fathers from Chatham to the United States, the charge of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church and parish in that city has been placed temporarily with Rev. Father Forristal of this city. It is advised, however that the Rt. Rev. M. F. Fallon bishop of London, will announce the succeeding pastor and assistants during the 10:30 a.m. service on Sunday next in Chatham.

For the past forty-three years the Franciscans have had charge of St. Joseph's in Chatham and during that time have eliminated the entire debt on the church and left more than $18,000 as a balance in the treasury.

The last three remaining priests were given an enthusiastic sendoff yesterday, Father Solanus Schaefer, the pastor, and the assistants, Fathers Patrick McCarron and Ethelbert Harrington. Father Solanus has been appointed to take charge of one of the largest institutions of its kind in the United States, the Boys' Protectory at Mt. Alverno, near Cincinnati, Ohio. Father Patrick has been appointed assistant pastor in the Sacred Heart parish in Peoria, Ill., and Father Ethelbert assumes a like capacity in Hamilton, Ohio.

Other permits issued this week by Building Inspector A. M. Piper include J. H. Plasted for a one-story brick-veneer dwelling on Carfrae street, to cost $3,800; Mrs. Barnes to remodel frame dwelling on Dundas street for duplex apartment, to cost $3,000; F. Stevens for a frame garage and stucco house on Oxford street, costing $1,100; and Fred Onn, for a two-story brick warehouse on King street, estimated to cost $1,700.

Building permits issued here this month now total $76,945.

FOREST BOY'S CALF CARRIES OFF FIRST PRIZE

George Carr Proud Winner in Children's Calf Competition At Fair.

JUDGES DELIGHTED

Wilber Hooper, Blanshard, Second; Jean Turnbull, Blanshard Tp. Third.

Fourteen-year-old George Carr of Forest, Ont., was the happiest of all the happy youngesters at the Western Fair on Wednesday, and George had reason to be, for he won the $100 prize offered in the calf competition for the best calf, fed and attended to by a juvenile.

George was discovered late Wednesday afternoon by an Advertiser reporter as he was lovingly feeding his pet his evening rations.

"You're the young gentleman who owns the prize calf aren't you?" queried the scribe.

Weighs 1,060 Pounds.

George nodded bashfully. He stated that his little (?) Aberdeen-Angus pet weighed 1,060 pounds. His name was Meadowdale Tollo, and was one year old on September 4. His daddy was Espoir Marshall, while his dam was Isabel the Eighth. The calf was owned by Howard Fraleigh of Forest, but George has fed him since early summer.

"At 7 o'clock every morning I gave him two quarts of oats with a little blackstrap on it," confided George, when asked how he got results. "Then I fed a forkful of hay and watered him after that. At noon he got hay, and hay again at night.

Master George was so elated with his success that he intends exhibiting his winner at the Guelph Winter Fair, and at the Royal show in Toronto. The boy's father is one of Mr. Fraleigh's foremen, and George is being brought up to be a regular stockman.

Second Prize.

Wilbur Hooper, a little boy of but nine summers, has just as much reason to be proud as George, for Wilbur came second with his Hereford calf, beating his older brother Earl. Their father, Edgar Hooper, of Blanshard Township, county of Perth, picked out the calves for them, and the boys have tended them ever since they were born.

"What are you going to do with your $90, Wilbur?" asked the reporter.

"I'm going to buy some more calves," was the quick response. Wilbur will be heard from next year at competition time.

Wins $100.

The third prize went to a Shorthorn calf owned by Jean Turnbull of Brussels, Ont. Jean is 16 years old, and has fed the calf for four straight months, ever since the announcement was published that there would be a competition at the fair. With the $20 extra prize money offered by the Shorthorn Breeders' Association, Jean wins $100, and furthermore has disposed of her calf to Alex. Hall of Ayr at a goodly sum.

"No one could do anything with that calf except Jean," her father told The Advertiser. "Jean walked three miles every night from school in order that her calf might be fed on time, and she is no more delighted at securing a prize than I am."

Evelyn Jones, 14-year-old daughter of John Jones, Delaware Township, had the fourth prize winner, and with a $15 extra prize, wins $90. She, too, was a mighty proud and happy girl Wednesday afternoon.

Judges Pleased.

J. Lowe of Elora, and Capt. Tom Robson of London, who judged the calves, were both highly delighted with the quality of the 31 animals shown, and were loud in their praises of the winners.

John Weld announced that there would be two competitions next year, one for the animals shown Wednesday and another for junior calves. There would be $500 offered in prizes. The prizes this year ranged from $100 down to $15 for 15th prize. From 15th on each competitor received $10.

First Twenty Winners.

The names of the first twenty winners follow, in order of merit: George Carr, Forest; W. G. Hooper, St. Marys; Jean Turnbull, Brussels; Evelyn Jones, Southwold; P. Smith, St. Thomas; Fred Skinner, Forest; S. Kyle, Drumbo; K. Galbraith, Iona; A. Harris, Kingsville; E. J. Hooper, St Marys; A. Duncanson, Wilton Grove; E. O'Neil, Denfield; Jack Ketchen, Fergus; George Winter, Mount Brydges; M. Lister, Forest; H. Kyle, Drumbo; Vera O'Neil, Denfield; May Turnbull, Delaware; Robbie Turnbull, Delaware; W. S. Pelton, Paris.

Some choice calves were judged by A. M. Holtby of Port Perry in the pure bred live stock shown by the London District Live Stock Club, conducted by the Merchants Bank, Market branch, London. The bank advances money to the children to buy pure bred calves, and fourteen youngsters took advantage of the competition this year, while entries have already been received for the 1922 competition.

The winners were:

Holstein Junior Calves—1, Chester Brown, Coldstream; 2, Howard Brown, Coldstream; 3, Wm. Adams, Glanworth.

Two-year-old Heifers—1, Harold Keyes, Hyde Park; 2, Cecil Millson, Wilton Grove; 3, Lyn Adams, Glanworth.

Shorthorns—1, Archie Duncanson, Wilton Grove.

VALUE OF PATRIOTIC FUND IS RECOGNIZED BY S. A. COMMISSION

Timely Assistance Rendered To Needy by Co-operation of Organizations.

Many people in the city and district are under the impression that the Soldiers' Aid Commission looks after all of the deserving cases among the returned soldiers, but, according to two officials of the Soldiers Aid Commission, namely Ed. H. Lance and Mrs. A. T. Edwards, this is not the case.

Mr. Lance stated to The Advertiser yesterday that the commission could look after only a small part of the deserving cases allotted to the commission without the aid of the Patriotic Association in the city.

While it is true that the Soldiers' Aid Commission looks after the child welfare work in the city and some of the deserving cases of soldiers' families, the majority of the latter cases are cared for by the patriotic fund and handled personally by Mr. J. S. Stuart, administrator for the association.

"Too much credit cannot be given Mr. Stuart for his good work among the returned soldiers' families," was the comment of Mrs. A. T. Edwards, "and he does everything in such a quiet way that nothing is ever heard about the enormous amount of work which is handled by him.

Timely Assistance.

"While we know just what expense the Soldiers' Aid Commission has gone to in rendering assistance, we know nothing whatever regarding what has been spent by the patriotic fund, but you may rest assured that the S. A. C. would have been burdened with a very large expense account if it were not for the timely assistance given by Mr. Stuart.

"But then, it is not so much the money that was spent by him that counts in that work, but the kindly way in which it was given and the sympathetic manner in which he assisted each deserving case that came into his hands.

"Speaking for the Soldiers' Aid Commission, I want to say that we are very grateful to the Patriotic Association for the splendid aid they have given us in all ways that we have approached them, and I sincerely hope that the co-operation will continue," was Mrs. Edwards' concluding remark.

N. G. Bro. E. Kingsworth Presented With Address

At the meeting of Chorazin Lodge, No. 190, I. O. O. F., last evening, the resignation of Bro. E. Kingsworth as noble grand was accepted with much reluctance. M., Bro. Warren McRoberts, read an address of appreciation, to which the noble grand responded feelingly.

IRON MOLDERS ACCEPT NECESSARY REDUCTIONS TO KEEP SHOPS GOING

Wages Have Been Cut 10 to 18 Per Cent Recently.

Freemen Felker of Guelph, one of the traveling officials of the International Ironmolders Union, after a trip through this district, believes there is some improvement in trade conditions as they affect members of his union. No stove plate men are out of work and a number of stove-makers have booked a fair amount of business. There are no molders on strike in this district, Mr. Felker claiming it has been their policy to accept necessary reductions in order to help the shops get started. Many of the men have had wage reductions from ten to eighteen per cent in recent months.

ONE CHILD IN NINE HAS DEFECTIVE VISION

Miss E. Blanche Rowe, supervisor of school nurses, reports that one child out of every nine in the public schools suffers from defective vision. Her report shows that for 1920 there were 963 children in the public schools that were classed under that heading. The total enrollment in 1920 for 8,065. The average figures out nearer to one in eight than in nine that has impaired eyesight.

Miss Rowe also reported that there were 69 children enrolled during the past year suffering from defective hearing, 256 children were excluded from school owing to the state of their health. And of the 963 children suffering from defective vision, only 85 had glasses fitted.

No less than 583 children were found suffering from pediculosis, a disease not found in dictionaries, but which relates to a condition that caused soldiers in the late war considerable discomfort.

W. O. EXPORTERS TO ATTEND CONFERENCE IN CITY ON FRIDAY

To Consider Improved Methods of Handling Manufactured and Natural Products.

From every place of importance from Brantford west to Windsor and Sarnia, representatives of large business houses interested in export trade, have written the local chamber of commerce that they will attend the second meeting of the Exporters of Manufactured and Natural Products, which is to be held in this city on Friday afternoon and evening. Judging from present indications the local members of the executive of that organization believe that the meeting will be highly successful, and that it will do much towards stimulating the export trade of Western Ontario.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon H. W. Vaughan, a director of the Thomas Meadows and Company, Limited, the well-known shipping and forwarding agents of Montreal and St. John with correspondents in Great Britain and throughout the world, will speak on the facilities afforded by a firm of general shipping and forwarding agents and freight brokers. He will emphasize clearly the points to be remembered by exporters.

At 6 p.m. immediately after a dinner, which will be served in the grill room of the Tecumseh House, Major H. A. Chisholm, trade commissioner at Havana, Cuba, will review the markets for exports in Cuba, Jamaica, Mexico, Panama, Venezuela and Columbia. He will deal with actual opportunities offered for the exporting of drygoods, hardware, foodstuffs and many other commodities showing were success is likely to be encountered and where difficulties have to be overcome.

All members of the local chamber of commerce and boards of trade in Western Ontario are invited to attend the evening session.

CHURCH RECOGNIZED AS ORGANIZATION THAT UNITES DIVINE WITH THE HUMAN

Declared Dr. C. A. Seagar In Address at Huron Alumni Banquet.

Huron College Alumni Association, meeting in the college building Wednesday afternoon, carried a resolution on the motion of Rev. H. Snell, seconded by Rev. A. L. G. Clarke, that the Alumni Association undertake to raise by private subscription a fund of $10,000 by December, 1923, the interest to be used as the Alumni Association may determine from year to year.

Rev. S. Irwin of Watford opened the discussion on the alumni fund, and Venerable Archdeacon Carlisle of Windsor also spoke actively in support of it.

At the most successful alumni banquet yet held, the speaker of the evening was Rev. Dr. C. A. Seagar, the new provost of Trinity College, Toronto, his subject being "The Motive and Function of the Church."

In this age it is not to be supposed that men go to church from custom, convention or habit, but because the church is recognized as the organization which unites in fellowship and communion the Divine Being with the human.

Dr. Seagar's address was marked by comprehensiveness of vision, and he expressed the thought that a more organic and co-operative union between the churches might be obtained.

Beginning his address, Dr. Seagar, who is a former resident of Goderich, intimated that, although a graduate of Huron, he felt very much at home among Huron men.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Williams, who presided, referred to the debt which members of the alumni owe to their alma mater. As students they had received intellectual and social help, and now, in turn, it was their duty to be no longer receivers, but givers.

In this age it was much better that members of the ministry of the church should see to it that their succession by younger ministers to take their places in turn was insured rather than to quibble over such a point as the apostolic succession.

Rev. Dr. Dean L. N. Tucker, who introduced Dr. Seagar, referred to his work in unifying the two Anglican Theological Colleges in Vancouver, and expressed the view that Dr. Seagar would be able to do much towards bringing about closer co-operation between Trinity and Wycliffe Colleges in Toronto.

Dr. Waller reported that Huron Training College, in what was formerly German East Africa, and which was founded by Rev. T. B. R. Westgate, a graduate of Huron College, has now a larger enrollment than its parent college in London. It is one of the leading theological colleges in Africa, and trains native workers for the church.

The Alumni Association annual sessions will be continued this morning, when reports will be presented for the year, and new officers elected. Rev. H. P. Westgate of Sandwich is the present presidenrt and Rev. C. W. Foreman is secretary.

NEW PROVOST OF TRINITY COLLEGE TO SPEAK HERE

Rev. Dr. C. A. Seagar, the new provost of Trinity College, Toronto, was the chief speaker at the opening banquet of the Huron College Alumni in the Huron College building at 6:15 o'clock last evening. Rev. S. Irwin of Watford will read a paper on "The Financial Objective of the Huron College Alumni for the Diamond Jubilee in 1923." This objective is $10,000.

Right Rev. Bishop David Williams presided.

The business sessions of the Alumni convention opened yesterday at 4 o'clock, and another business session will be held at 9 o'clock this morning.

FLAX GROWERS FIND MUCH DIFFICULTY IN SELLING THEIR CROP

Owen Geiger of Hensall Has Several Large Orders Cancelled.

Some of the flax growers are having trouble disposing of their crops, much of which is still stored in the barns.

Owen Geiger of Hensall, who is largely interested in the flax industry, stated to The Advertiser a few days ago that about six months ago he had very large orders to fill for American spinners, but these were all cancelled about six months ago, leaving many thousands of dollars' worth of flax on his hands.

Since then there has been very little improvement in the situation and large stocks are still in the barns at Hensall.
