CHILDREN'S HOME OPENED BY L.O.L

North American Grand Master Officiates at New Westminster, B. C.

Canadian Press Despatch.

New Westminster, B.C., July 23 .-Hon. J. W. Edwards, grand master of the Orange order in British North America, at an interesting ceremony Wednesday, laid the corner-stone of the magnificent new Loyal Protestant True Blue home for children in this city. A large crowd assembled for the ceremony, the company including 200 delegates to the Orange convention being held in Vancouver.

Mayor Annandale and members of the city council attended. Following an impressive address by the grand master, Edwin Bush, chairman of the building committee, de-tailed the history of the project. "Need, not creed," he said, will be the qualification for admission. On behalf of the city, Mayor Annandale thanked the Orange order work on behalf of the children.

"The Orange order used to be a militant order—an order of fighters," said Judge Evan McLean, of Picton, "We can still fight, if the occasion requires; but we are not so milias we used to be; instead, our principles are being exemplified in projects such as we are here to commemorate today."

Judge McLean spoke of the manner in which the idea of caring for children has spread in the Orange order across the continent, until only two provinces. two provinces were without such homes, and both of these were plan-ning homes.
