Otherwise, hostilities will continue, and we will be obliged to call to our assistance all the Indians in our neighborhood; then this spring we will get reinforcements from the States, and the final result will perhaps be the celebration of the 4th of July instead of the 1st.

Notes From the Northwest. Information from Gen. Strange takes time to reach here. At the latest advices he was at Fort Pitt, which was found in he was at Fort Pitt, which was found in ruins, the surrounding country having been thoroughly devastated. He had sent scouts out in all directions on a hunt for Big Bear's trall, but up to the 23d no news of its discovery had been brought in. The 65th battalion was eager in the hunt and ready to give the cruel chief battle. A halfbreed named Hagerman, suspected of being a spy, was arrested and incriminatory papers found upon him.

INTO THE VALLEY OF DEATH.

Gen. Grant Baptised When He Thought to be all but Bead. NEW YORK, May 29 .- During Ger Grant's illness the family were gathered around him. Dr. Shrady was sleeping in another room. In rushed Dr. Douglas and roused him with the words, "It's all over." "What," said Dr. Shrady, "Do you mean to say the man is dead?" "No, not dead, but will be in a few minutes. not dead, but will be in a few minutes. Nothing can save him." Dr. Shrady ran into the room where the general was. Dr. Newman exclaimed, "It is all over. I will baptize him." He went quickly into another room, got a silver bowl, filled it with water, dipped his hand into it and said, "I baptize you, Ulysses Simpson Grant in the name of the Fa her, Son and Holy Ghost." The general slowly raised his head and remarked, "I thank you." Then turning to his family he raised hia hand and uttered the words: "I bless you all." To Dr. Newman he observed, "Doctor, I intended to attend to this myself." Meanwhile Drs. Shrady and Douglas were consulting in the corner. The strain was consulting in the corner. The strain was intense. Dr. Douglas said, "He will die sure, he is gone, the pulse has left the wrist." Shrady replied, "I will give him brandy," and injected a syringe in each will die, "said the doctor." "Our prayers have been answered," said Dr. Newman. "I think it was the brandy," responded Or. In addition to the ordinary business and the initiation of new members, the lodge was favored with the company of several new arrivals, members of lodges in London, Southampton, Kenilworth, Guisboro and Knaresboro, England. The visitors expressed themselves highly gratified to find the unity so prosperous in Toronto and their intention as soon as possible to secure their clearance cards and unite with the Metropolitan.

took place at the residence of Mrs. Scatook place at the residence of Mrs. Scadding on Wellesley street on the occasion of the departure for Chicago of Mrs. Elliott, daughter of the hostess. Mrs. Elliott, nee Miss Etty Scadding, was for many years pranist to the Toronto secular society, who utilized the occasion by making her the recipient of a number of elegant presents as farewell tokens of their regard for the fair lady's accomplishments, goodness of heart and for "Auld Lang Syne."

your most noble paper a letter from T. P. would make a good member in the house. I for one would vote for him and no doubt hundreds of others of all classes and creeds. As corruption seems to be the order of the day at present, I think it is high time to wake out of sleep.
