

1884, and was succeeded by Basile, one of his youngest sons. Basile was killed in a drunken row a year later, and Johnny Shit-hit-sa, whose Christian name is Celestin, was unanimously elected Chief. Since then, the Reserves have considerably improved, about fifty miles of fences have been constructed, and the pasture lands have become valuable. The first thing Celestin undertook after his