Book Review.

NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW.

The North American Review for December contains a vast amount of good reading pertinent to the interests of the hour. It opens with a notable symposium, comprising no less than seven articles, which is entitled "Some Questions for Congress." General Lew Wallace emphasizes the necessity for adopting some measure that will ensure the "Prevention of Presidential Assassinations." Senator J. C. Burrows insists upon "The Need of National Legislation Against Anarchism," detailing several unsuccessful attempts which have been made in that direction. Edgar Aldrich, United States District Judge of New Hampshire, shows that the Federal Government has the power to protect its own agents, and offers the draft of a bill whose provisions would be adequate to the requirements of the existing situation. The Duke of Arcos, the Spanish Minister, advocates steps leading to an "International Control of Anarchists." Edwin F. Atkins warns the country that something must be done at once to avert "Cuba's Imminent Bankruptcy." Professor N. S. Shaler, of Harvard, writes of the advantages the country would derive from "The Proposed Appalachian Park." Joaquin Miller denounces the idea of re-enacting the Chinese Exclusion Act as an injustice to the People of the Pacific States no less than to the Chinese.

THE ATLANTIC.

The leading article in The December Atlantic is a discussion of Expansion through Reciprocity by John Ball Osborne. Referring to President McKinley's last address Mr. Osborne continues with a brief resume of former reciprocity movements, and a survey of the present proposed treaties, closing with a strong expression of belief that our present foreign expansion cannot long continue without meeting vigorous tariff opposition from foreign governments, unless we disarm such opposition in advance by means of reciprocity.

Maui, a popular name is a misnomer, but hardly any are more glaringly so than those of Judge Lynch and Lynch Law as applied to-day. Thomas W. Page shows that the original Judge Lynch was a peaceable, law-abiding citizen and patriotic soldier of the Revolution, who ill deserves the false repute which has attached to his name.

Remesse Whitehouse, late Secretary of our Embassy at Rome, reviews foreign politics as involved in the question, Will Italy renew the Triple Alliance, which he discusses with especial competency on account of his first-hand knowledge of the situation.

THE FORUM.

Dr. Rudolf Eucken, the distinguished Jena Professor, is the author of the leading article in The December Forum. It deals with "The Status of Religion in Germany," and discusses how far the religious life of that country has been affected by the scientific and other progress of the last century. An urgent reform in international law is advocated by James G. Whiteley in the article which follows on "Private Property at Sea." "The Spanish Treaty Claims Commission," by Hon. Robert Hutchison, is a rejoinder to a previous article in the same review. The business that will probably come before "The Present Session of Congress" is outlined by Henry L. West. "The Empire of Islands," by Joseph Sohn, emphasizes the importance of insular possessions in colonial expansion. Dr. Gilbert Reid discusses "The Ethics of the Last China War." Dr. Nathan C. Shaeffer criticizes "One-sided 'raining of Teachers'" in a paper which lays stress upon the importance of learning to think. Ex-Governor W. S. Merriam, Director of the U. S. Census, writes on "Suffrage, North and South," with special reference to the limitations imposed by various States on the right to vote. The need of reform in "The United States Consular Service" is pointed out by Charles Truax, who makes several practical suggestions to that end. The list of contents also includes "Reciprocity and Foreign Trade," by E. J. Gibson; "Licensed Gambling in Belgium," by George F. Babbitt, and "Lessons from International Exhibitions," by Joseph M. Rogers.

ST. NICHOLAS.

In pursuance of its policy of printing a long story in each of its issues in the magazine year, which began with November, St. Nicholas presents in its December number "The Boy and the Baron," by Adeline Knapp. It is a romantic tale, appealing to boys and girls alike, and dealing with the time of the robber barons in Germany, "when the sunlight fell on glancing steel and floating pennon," and when the nobles were absolute lords of their own castles and the regions round about. It was the time of the crusaders, too, and of the outlaw, and of sudden changes in the life of man and boy. The story has a number of striking illustrations. Shorter stories are found over the signatures of Josephine Daskam ("The Imp's Christmas-Visit") and Mary Parks ("Little Miss Hopeful"), and there is a further instalment of John Bennett's "Barnaby Lee." "The Christmas Story" is the title of a seasonable frontispiece drawn for the occasion by Henry Hutt, and showing a little girl seated on her mother's knee, with her little brother on the floor beside her, and the toe of a Christmas stocking that hangs from the mantelpiece pointing straight at the cat that lies in the firelight on the hearth.

THE MARKET REPORTS.

Wheat is Lower—Live Stock Trade Dull—The Latest Quotations. Tuesday Evening, Dec. 3.

Toronto St. Lawrence Market. Receipts of grain on the street market today were fairly heavy, 6,000 bu offering. Prices were not steady, as a slow decline in about 10c to 15c.

Wheat—Was steady, 400 bu of white selling at 70c, 200 bu of red at 70c to 70c per bu and 700 bu of goosie at 67c per bu. Barley—Was steady, 3,000 bu selling at 54c to 55c per bu. Oats—Were easier, 1,500 bu selling at 47c to 48c per bu. Rye—Was steady, 100 bu selling at 55c per bu. Peas—Were steady, 100 bu selling at 78c per bu. Hops—Were easier, 20 loads selling at $0 to $1 for Timothy and $0 to $1 for clover. Straw—Was easier, 2 loads selling at $9 to $10 per ton. Geese—Were easier, bringing now 15c to 16c per lb, and turkeys also have declined. They sell at 15c to 16c per lb.

Toronto Live Stock.

The trade at the Toronto Cattle Market today was none too brisk, but there was a fair quantity of trade, and the offerings were in most cases about the same as those which prevailed last week. There was a fair demand for good cattle, and the offerings were not of the best quality, and so the prices realized were not as high as they might have been. Butchers' cattle were in rather better demand, and the offerings have practically ceased offering, as there is no longer any demand for them. Stockers' cattle were in fairly good demand, and they sold at steady prices. Sheep were a little firmer, as there is now some demand for export, and they were now loading in harbor at Montreal. Another ship, on December 21, and sheep will be wanted for her cargo by December 17. Lambs were in good demand, and the offerings were higher. Hogs were higher, an advance of 12c per cwt all round having been made. The receipts were 71 hogs, which included 601 sheep, 71 hogs, and 10 calves. Export Cattle—Were in good demand and sold fairly well. There were, however, no first-class animals offered. Best exporters, if offered, would have brought about $4.75 per cwt, medium $3.50 to $4.00 per cwt, and poor $2.50 per cwt. Butchers' Cattle—Were selling well today, being about the best sellers on the market. Picked lots brought $4.25 to $4.50 per cwt, and common to choice ones sold at $2.75 to $3.75 per cwt. Feeders—Were not in demand and their prices are lower. Common to choice ones are quoted at $2.50 per cwt and medium at $3 to $3.50 per cwt. Stockers—Were selling fairly well, in spite of a weak demand. Light to medium animals bring from $3 to $3.40, and lighter ones sell at $2.50 to $3 per cwt. Sheep—Were in better demand, selling at $2.75 to $3 per cwt. The improvement was due to the arrival of a steamer at Montreal, which will sail on December 21. Another vessel will arrive on December 21. Lambs—Were also a little firmer in price, selling at $3 to $3.50 per cwt. Hogs—Were in good demand, and choice ones now sell at $0.12 1/2 per cwt, light at $0.87 1/2 per cwt and heavy lots at $0.62 1/2 per cwt.
