The National School Books.

NEW EDITIONS.

ARMOUR & RAMSAY.

THE Subscribers, in publishing NEW EDITIONS of the NATIONAL SCHOOL BOOKS, beg leave to return their most grateful acknowledgments, for the liberal patronage which has been extended by all classes of the community to their publications. The rapidity with which the previous Editions were disposed of, evinces in the most satisfactory and decided manner, that the publishers did not miscalculate, when they reckoned with the most entire confidence, upon the intrinsic merits of these Books securing for themselves the countenance and favour of the inhabitants of British America.

The Series consists of the following Books, all of which are printed on substantial paper, in a clear type, and strongly bound in linen:—

- A B C and Figures, on sheets to be hung up.
- General Lessons, to be hung up in Schools.
- The First Book of Lessons.
- The Second Book of Lessons.
- The Sequel to the Second Book.
- The Third Book of Lessons.
- The Fourth Book of Lessons.
- The Fifth Book of Lessons, just published from new stereotype plates.
- The First Book of Arithmetic.
- Key to ditto.
- An English Grammar,
- Key to ditto.
- A Treatise on Book-Keeping.
- Key to ditto.
- A Treatise on Mensuration.
- Appendix to the Mensuration, for the use of Teachers.
- An Introduction to Geography and History, by Professor Sullivan, with several Maps.
- Elements of Geometry.
- Lessons on the Truth of Christianity.

These Books form a complete system of education, and they who have been carefully taught by them, may be considered, as perfectly well qualified to enter upon the pursuits of active life, and to have acquired a fund of preliminary knowledge amply sufficient, to enable them to prosecute the study of the most important branches of human knowledge with profit and ease. The Lessons contained in the Reading Books, rise in interest and importance, from the first to the last, and they possess this very distinguishing and characteristic merit, that, during the whole time the pupil is engaged in learning to read, he is, at the same time acquiring a knowledge of sound moral principles, and of a vast number of important facts, in History, Literature, and Science. The Treatises on Arithmetic, Grammar, Book-Keeping, Geometry, Mensuration, Geography and History, are unequalled, certainly unsurpassed, in the English language. The rules which they contain, are so simple, yet so comprehensive; so clear, yet so profound; that the pupil who has once become thoroughly acquainted with them, can experience no difficulty, in applying them to every case which can be presented to his notice. That this Series of School Books should be possessed of so many and such undoubted merits, is not wonderful, when it is considered, that it has emanated from so learned and so dignified a body, as the National Board of Education of Ireland—a body which numbers among its members, some of the highest names of which the British Empire can boast for virtue and learning. In the Lessons which these Books contain, there is nothing sectarian, and hence, they have received the most unequivocal expressions of approbation, from men in every rank of society, and who maintain the most opposite and widely differing forms of belief. The late estimable Governor General, Lord Metcalfe, when the Publishers originally issued their editions lent them the influence of his authority and name, and they have been sanctioned by the Bishops of the Roman Catholic Church, by many influential Clergymen of the Church of England, by the Synod of the Church of Scotland, by Clergymen in connection with the Methodist, Baptist, Congregational, and other Churches, by the Municipal Councils of many Districts, by a great number of Teachers, by the Chief Superintendents of Education in Eastern and Western Canada, and as far as the Subscribers have yet been informed, by all the District and Township Superintendents in the Western section of the Province, and they have been declared in the most emphatic manner by the Edinburgh Review, “to be the very best books of the kind in the English language.”

The editions of the National School Books issued by the Subscribers, bear the following on the title page—

“DUBLIN: PUBLISHED BY THE DIRECTION OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF NATIONAL EDUCATION, AND REPRINTED BY EXPRESS PERMISSION AT MONTREAL, BY ARMOUR & RAMSAY.”

The Trade, Country Merchants, Teachers, and others supplied on the most liberal terms.

LATIN CLASSICS.

THE success which attended the experiment, to improve and render uniform the Books used in the Common Schools of Canada, as set forth in the foregoing advertisement, emboldened the Subscribers to undertake the publication of the Classical series now announced for the use of Colleges, High Schools, District and Grammar Schools.

The numbers of the series consist of the following:—

- Excerpts from Cornelius Nepos. 1s 6d.
- The First Four Books of Cæsar. 1s 9d.
- The Third, and Fourth Books of Quintus Curtius. 1s 9d.
- Cicero de Amicitia. 1s.
- Cicero de Senectute. 1s.
- Taciti Agricola. 9d.
- The Georgics of Virgil. 1s 6d.
- The Fæst of Ovid. 1s 6d.
- The Odes of Horace. 1s 9d.
- The Three First Books of Æneid. 1s 6d.

Of the above can be had handsomely bound in two vols, price 6s 3d for the Prose and 5s 6d for the Poetry.

We rejoice at this noble attempt to facilitate the study of the Classics in Canada by reducing the expense of procuring these portions of them which are used in the Schools. The cheapness, correctness and excellence of this series of Classical Texts cannot fail to secure their introduction and use in our Grammar Schools and Colleges. Messrs. Armour & Ramsay have been the pioneer Publishers of our best series of Common School Books; and they are now laying the country under additional obligations by these excellent reprints of Classical School Books. We hope to see the day when Canada will rejoice in its own printed Classical, as well as general Literature, as it now does to some extent, and we hope still to a much greater extent, in its own literary men.—Journal of Education, Toronto.

Orders will be executed by the Booksellers throughout Canada, or by the Publishers,
