

Temporary Stimulation of the digestive powers with Meat Extracts and Peptones is sometimes a useful expedient.

But as a FOOD

Lacto-Globulin

makes the ONLY satisfactory
basis of proper alimentation

Lacto-Globulin contains the natural enzymes, not artificially extracted; it contains no urates; Lacto-Globulin DOES contain the most easily assimilable form of albumen in combination with the soluble phosphates necessary to complete the process of cell-construction.

The ideal food in all weak and anæmic conditions, in all diseases of the digestive tract, in tuberculosis and in all fevers.