HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Never under any circumstances should a plug or paper be used for the stopper of a bottle containing food or medicine for sick people or young children. Use a roll of new muslin or a firm clean piece of potato until the proper cork can be obtained.

The footsore wanderer will find solace in a footbath of hot-salum water every night before going to bed. With the best of care the feet are apt to be tender and troublesome in the warm months, and this simple treatment will be then found most efficacious.

Do not wear the paint and varnish from woodwork and furniture with soapy water and scrubbing-brush, in order to remove the fly-specks; use instead a cloth saturated with kerosene; the specks and dirt will quickly disappear, and the furniture will not be injured.

FASHION AND FANCY.

The cheviots which are selling for fall and winter gowns show more beautiful combinations of color than ever before. The warm understones of red give charming effects, and the dashes of bright color on a dark background are extremely stylish. The new cheviot gowns are made with vests of a contrasting color and trimmed with conspicuously large buttons. One stylish costume recently imported was of brown cheviot flecked with heliotrope in a rather indistinct manner. The skirt was made plain, with the fulness drawn toward the back in box plaits. The bodice was slightly gathered over the corsage and worn with a vest of dark heliotrope cloth.

A stock collar and deep cuffs of heliotrope velvet completed the effect. The cheviots of brown and tan are woven in any number of stylish designs. Bronze buttons with a mother-of-pearl ornament are chiefly used as their trimming.

Draped skirts are fighting for distinction. They are in reality overskirts idealized. The majority of new silk gowns are made with draped skirts, and they are graceful and charming to behold. Cloth skirts, however, are still plain.

The corn-flower blue heads the list of fashionable colors. A soft magenta shade of red known as Francais is new and popular. In greens Lincoln is the latest. It is a rather bright green and combines effectively. A touch of it is used in many of the dark hats. Perhaps bronze brown is really the color of the hour. Almost every gown displays a shade of brown. A soft chocolate tint is even showing itself in evening silks. Pale shades of blue, violet or old rose are striped or flecked with it.

French toques of velvet jauntily fashioned are the favorite headgear for autumn. Those of black velvet are most in demand. Many of them look like an indented puff. Frequently they are framed by a band of black feather trimming and glisten in front with a jet aigrette. The feather trimming will give place to a band of fur later in the season.

The tight-fitting bodice is vanishing from the world of fashion. Madam rarely designs it unless the beauty of a woman's figure commands it. The bodice up-to-date is usually draped over the corsage or a full vest is worn. Trimming in abundance is useful.

It's a cold day for the housekeeper when Pearlne gets left. Take Pearlne from washing and cleaning and nothing remains but hard work. It shows in the things that are washed; it tells on the woman who washes. Pearlne saves work, and works safely. It leaves nothing undone that you want done well; what it leaves undone, it ought not to do.
