

- backscattering properties of young snow-covered sea ice;
- coupled rigid body/flexural response of a single ice floe to ocean waves;
- wind-generated waves and associated acoustic emissions;
- properties of ice-rich soils;
- cracking of rocks under frozen cycles; and
- concrete space-frame for arctic structures.