This would be followed by medium shots or close–ups of the Member.

QUESTION PERIOD

Question Period is usually lively and would allow opportunities for a variety of shots.

The recommended pattern would begin with an establishing wide shot, such as the one below, of the questioner presenting the initial question.