

countries until three or four of us put our heads together and talk to them in a way that they must understand. I gave at the request of the Colonial Secretary an estimate of the expenses for supporting a certain number of clergymen and schoolmasters in your District, and I have every reason to believe it is the intention of the Gover't to give you a moderate salary; to which I received for answer that there were no crown revenues in Nova Scotia to support an establishment of this kind. Much do I long to see you as I have a great deal to communicate to you on different subjects. Our friends in Montreal are as far asunder and as difficult to be brought together as ever. The death of Bishop Plessis has deprived Bishop L'Ar-tigue of support and the same event renders it more necessary than ever for Bishop Fraser and you and me to put our heads together and make one cause, we must act in concert in our relations with the British Government and with Rome.

Yours unalterably,

ALEX. MACDONELL,

The Right Revd. Aeneas B. McEachern, Prince Edward Island.
