

NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

NEWEST VAGARIES IN FOOTWEAR

Designs for Street Wear Are Inconspicuous
Tho Chic.

BRONZE IS POPULAR

For Semi-Formal Wear, While
Evening Shoes Are More Elaborate.

Refinement in footwear is demanded by the well-dressed woman this season as of yore, and even the most slightly conspicuous models are frowned upon by the devotees, who demand the latest and best in up-to-date foot covering.

That colors will not be shown in this winter's models is not so. Some of the faintest and most highly favored last feature pretty combinations in a number of the popular shades. Perforation as a means of ornamenting novelty toe-caps, foxings, and "uppers" has become very popular, and is usually underlaid with a leather of contrasting color. Some of the smartest high boots are in softest dull black kid, perforated at the tops over white. These are seamless except at the back, where a fancy strap terminates in a perforated scroll design. Other designs permitted for street wear feature dark leathers in purple, crow's wing blue and brown, while a number of smart gays are also exhibited by exclusive firms.

For semi-formal and afternoon wear the bronze boot is extremely chic, and comes in a number of stunning laces cut very slender and with tops about six eyslets higher than last season's models. Sections of brocade are sometimes introduced in rather extreme designs, but elaboration is given fullest vent in evening shoes with daintiest of costly buckles and cross straps studded, jeweled or beaded, ornament slender models in kid, or fabric. The combination of moiré with soft white kid is charming for the youthful dance enthusiast who demands sturdy, the shapely straps on her "fustiest" slippers. The new steps require a firmly as well as a daintily shod foot.

QUIET AND COMFORT FOR CONVALESCENTS

Good Reports Come From Canadian Home Where Men From Battle Line Rest.

The good reports that come to hand regarding the Canadian Convalescent Home in France must be very encouraging to the women of Toronto who worked so hard in its interests during the exhibition.

A Canadian from the west, who recently passed thru Toronto and who had spent some time in the home, told J. B. O'Brien, treasurer, and the several members of the committee, that it was impossible for them to realize what the restful and quiet surroundings in the home mean to those who had been "at the front."

The home is absolutely quiet and there are always those at hand who are kindness and hospitality itself. The officer who gave the good report in Toronto was sure that all those who had been with him at the home felt as he did. All got over the effects of wounds or sickness in a remarkably short time.

COMFORTS COMMISSION ASKING FOR ASSISTANCE

The Canadian Field Comforts Commission, Shorncliffe, England, is asking assistance for 50,000 or more soldiers. All contributions must be in before the end of October. Fifteen dollars would cover 100 welcome articles and it is hoped that societies or individuals will undertake to collect this amount in addition to any regular supplies they may be sending. A promise to collect 100 mouthorgans, 100 packs of cards or 100 pipes would be very helpful.

The intention is to send a bale of cigarettes or tobacco, pipes, handkerchiefs, small books, hospitality cards, mouthorgans, cocoa, soap, sweets or other little luxuries—something for every man in the unit.

SALE FOR SOLDIERS.

Small boys on Alhambra and Thorold avenues held a sale of mothers' cooking, by which they realized $26.50 for the Red Cross.

HOUSE IS ALWAYS OPEN

Letter From William Harbutt,
Who Gives Canadians
Warm Welcome.

Dr. James L. Hughes has received a letter from William Harbutt, the Grange, Bathampton, Bath, England, in which he says:

"Canadians in this war have, indeed, amazed the world, not only by their numbers, but by their instant overwhelming impetuosity of loyalty in rushing to the defence of the old country. Canada has struck a chord which will reverberate thro all time."

"Remember I keep an open house for all Canadians who have been hampered in the fight, and I am proud and happy to entertain any who needs a little nursing back to health, so refer any of your Canadian lads to us at Bathampton."

"The last man I had from your side (second visit) was Sgt. Young from Toronto. He was just from the front and a bit unstrung. He had been in that terrible affair when four guns were lost and recovered, and they were practically cut off for two days. The sergeant waxed eloquent when he told me of young 'Sam Hughes,' upon whom the command had fallen (in the loss of colored and superiors). He stood cool and confident thro the day, with the phone constantly at his ear, giving orders and disposing of his troops where most needed. He earned and received the admiration of all his men for courage and ability. This I had from the sergeant's own lips."

THE ANNIVERSARY OF TRAFALGAR.

Editor World: May the influence of your columns be enlisted to bring to mind one of the most important imperial anniversaries in the annals of the British race, namely, "Trafalgar Day." Especially is it one for us to commemorate this year as never before for seven important reasons, strengthened by the splendid work done by our incomparable navy.

First. The navy has driven the enemy's commerce off the sea.
Second. The navy has protected our own commerce.
Third. The navy has rendered the enemy's fleet impotent and nearly destroyed his submarine squadrons.
Fourth. The navy has made the transport of enemy's troops impossible.

Fifth. The navy has transported our forces across the Atlantic and the channel without the loss of a single man.

Sixth. The navy has secured the regular supplies for the troops and kept the sea and ocean routes clear.
Seventh. The navy has guarded the entire coasts of Great Britain from invasion and made the littoral of every dominion and island dependency free from danger; and it may be added, protected the coasts of friendly nations from the piratical depredations of the enemy, whether they care to acknowledge the fact or not.

Therefore, an appeal is made to your readers to prove their appreciation and gratitude, and their admiration, by subscribing to the British and Foreign Sailors' Society, who are making supreme efforts to meet, of all years, to place their funds upon a basis that there will go down to posterity the legend, "This was done in the year of the great war as a thank offering to the navy from the empire."

Two hundred and fifty dollars will equip and endow in perpetuity a cabin for destitute or shipwrecked seamen in one of the sailors' homes.
One hundred dollars will equip and endow in perpetuity an ocean library cabinet and bound volumes to place on ocean-bound ships.

Why should not we in Toronto and Ontario, aye, all over the Dominion, send enough to consummate these necessities?

Any donation remitted to Fane Sewell, care of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Spadina and College, Toronto, for the credit of the "Trafalgar Fund" will be acknowledged by mail, or, perhaps, sir, if you will allow the privilege, in the columns of this paper from time to time.

The total amount received will be forwarded by cable to London on Oct. 20, so as to be in time for the celebration on Trafalgar Day, Oct. 21, 1915.

Sept. 30, 1915. Fane Sewell.

PASS ANY MEASURE IN LOVE OF COUNTRY

"What I Saw in France," Subject of Address at Canadian Club
by Prof. De Champ.

"What I saw in France" was the subject of Prof. de Champ at the Canadian Club luncheon yesterday. He was most optimistic about the war situation and stated that he had no doubt that the combined forces of the English and French would drive the Germans back to the Rhine. In discussing the question of conscription in France, he said that compulsory service was endorsed by all Frenchmen as a result of the love for their country. True patriotism did not hinder the passing of any measure requiring the services of every eligible man.

Over 500 guests were present at the luncheon, which was the first of the season. F. H. Deason was chairman.

AUSTRALIA PROSPERS DURING TIME OF WAR

C. C. Gray of London, England, who arrived in Toronto yesterday, after a world tour, stated that he had received a fair impression of the work of the British Empire in his travels. Mr. Gray stated that in his extensive tour of Australia he was able to see that that colony is prospering under war conditions.

He said that Australia had suffered a great deal from the recent drought when many sheep died, but the sheep rancher makes enough in a few years to prepare for any misfortune.

REPLIES COMING BACK ARE FULL OF OPTIMISM

"Our Day for Sailors and Soldiers," is Motto Adopted by Trafalgar Day Committee.

"Our Day for Sailors and Soldiers," was the motto adopted yesterday by the central committee for the Trafalgar Day collection. The text is considered especially appropriate because in England Trafalgar Day is termed "Our Day," and the members unanimously adopted the slogan. The committee did not decide yesterday how much money would be asked of the Province of Ontario.

Replies to the lieutenant-governor's messages to Ontario towns and cities have commenced to come in and every one promises a tremendous effort on the part of that particular municipality to provide funds.

LIEUT. ABINGER KILLED.

He Returned From Canada to Fight in France.

Canadian Associated Press Cable. LONDON, Oct. 4.—Second Lieut. Bernard Russell Abinger of the Berkshire, was killed in France. He was aged 21, and came from Canada at the beginning of the war and enlisted originally in the Life Guards, subsequently receiving a commission in the Berkshire. Then he received the Military Cross. His colonel writes: "He was one of the bravest men I ever knew."

RIGHT ARM WAS BLOWN OFF IN ST. JULIEN FIGHT

Pte. George Wickham, Wounded
Highlander, is Home in Toronto.

Private George Wickham, who left Toronto for the front with the 48th Highlanders, arrived in Toronto yesterday. Private Wickham has had some miraculous escapes in the trenches. He had his right arm blown off in the battle of St. Julien.

SUBMARINE MENACE NOW UNDER CONTROL

Prof. McLennan Gives Impressions
After Making an Extensive Tour.

"Science and men will win this world war," said Prof. J. C. McLennan of the University of Toronto yesterday. Prof. McLennan has been in England during the past six months. He said: "At the outbreak of war England seemed outdistanced in war science, but all the advantages of the enemy are being rapidly wiped out. The submarine was a real menace at first, but now the situation is completely under control," he said.

CANADIAN RETURNING FROM BAFFIN'S LAND

Capt. Munn Visited Icy Region in Quest of Gold.

BRANDON, Oct. 4.—Word was received here that Capt. Munn, Arctic explorer from Brandon, who left last in the spring of 1914 for an expedition to Baffin's Land, is due to arrive in England any day. After several trips to the Arctic regions looking for gold, Capt. Munn sailed for Baffin's Land from Dundee, on a gold hunting expedition, under the auspices of a number of old country capitalists. Nothing was heard from him since until a letter came to a friend here that he was nearing the British shores. Munn planned, if gold was found, to establish trading posts along the shore of Baffin's Land.

CITY HELD LIABLE.

Yesterday the city was notified by County Crown Attorney Greer that the coroner's jury had held the city liable for the death of Roy Richmond, who died as the result of being hit on the head by a baseball while watching a game on the Don flats. The jury contended that protection should have been provided for the spectators.

LT.-COL. LIPSETT PROMOTED.

OTTAWA, Oct. 4.—Lt.-Col. Lipsett of the 8th Battalion of Winnipeg has been promoted to the rank of brigadier-general, and given command of the second infantry brigade of the first division. Lord Brooke has the first and Brig.-Gen. Leckie the third brigade.
