Louis Fried Almost Loses His Life—Had Been Drinking and Was Despondent

Louis Fried, a cloak operator of 388 West Queen-street, walked into the display rooms of his employers, the Dominion Cloth Company of 42 East King-street, late yesterday afternoon, and after seating himself calmly in a rocking-chair announced to the Messrs. Rosenberg: "Well, I have done it this time."

"What did you do?" they asked. "Why, taken poison," said Fried. While drinking he has often threatened to commit suicide, consequently those around paid scant attention to his statement at first. Soon after, however, the bookkeeper noticed that Fried had turned ghastly pale and was wobbling in his chair, and telephoned a hurried call for an ambulance.

Fried then said that he had taken four carbolic-acid pills that he had got from Hall's Drug Store on Queen-street. He was able to walk downstairs to the ambulance, and was rushed to St. Michael's Hospital, where the doctors, after 2 hours' work, said he would recover.

Fried had had a lot of family trouble lately, which has caused him to be addicted to drink. Sobber, he is a Jew and operator and popular among his fellow employees. He had been drinking all morning and towards noon came up to the workshop, shortly afterwards one of the girls missed her purse. A search was made and the purse found, but minutes a $5 bill, Mr. Rosenberg on inquiry found that Fried had changed the bill in question a few minutes previously in a near-by hotel. He was located and taxed, taking the money. Mr. Rosenberg offered to let the matter drop if he returned the money to the police. Fried refused to do so, and finally returned $4 and told Mr. Rosenberg to keep the other $1 out of his wages. This Mr. Rosenberg refused to do, and told him that he must look for work elsewhere.

Fried had recently purchased at the drug store some anti-septic tablets as a duce for his wife. Of these he took four. This, according to Druggist Hall, would be a fatal dose unless promptly action was taken.

Suit Dismissed

The action of John C. Innes against Askin and Doherty, stock brokers, to recover $1288.51, amount due him on profits he had made on Sao Paulo, Reading and Twin City, was dismissed by Chief Justice Meredith in the non-jury assizes yesterday, and judgment was given for $1500, claimed by the defendants.

German Government Fighting Hard Against Tuberculosis

Millions of leaflets are being circulated among the people of the Empire, informing the masses how to guard against Tuberculosis, of which 100,000 Germans die every year. The time is fast approaching when this disease will be treated like diphtheria and smallpox—the patient being isolated and removed from contact with others. Meantime it is to be hoped the masses will learn the all-important lesson of guarding against coughs and chest colds from which tuberculosis is always springing. When your throat chills, your chest feels tight and sore, when you sneeze and feel cold shivers up your back—that should be your warning. The following treatment is known to be very efficient: Give the chest and throat a vigorous hand-rubbing with Nervilleine and take twenty drops of Nervilleine in hot sweetened water. If there is any hoarseness or cough, gargle well with Nervilleine and put Nervilleine Pomus Plaster over his chest. By following this advice you can keep healthy and preserve uniform good health. This is worth cutting out and preserving.

THE BARTONE'S CONFESSION

An Incident Showing the Importance of Phrasing in Poetry and Music.

BRIGHT EYES, ROSY CHEEKS

Every Girl Can Have Them by Keeping Her Blood Rich and Red with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

In the early days of her womanhood every girl—no matter what her station in life—should be bright, active, cheerful and happy. Her eyes should be clear with the glow of health. But the reverse is the condition of thousands of girls in this condition, who are suffering from weakness, paleness, listlessness, pale-faced girls, bright, active and strong. Miss Albina St. Andre, Juliette, Que., says: "I am most grateful that I can say for the benefit I have found in the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was weak, run down and very miserable. I suffered from severe pains in my back and chest; had a bad cough, no appetite and would lay awake most of the night, and what sleep I did get did not refresh me. I tried several remedies, but they did not help me, and I, as well as my friends, feared I was going into decline. At this stage a friend who came to see me strongly urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and providentially I acted upon the advice. After using a few boxes my appetite improved, my sleep began to be much better at night. This greatly cheered me and I continued taking the pills for some time longer, when I felt that my condition was really marvelous. I was feeling as well as I ever had done. I could sleep soundly at night; the pain and cough had disappeared, and I felt an altogether different girl. I am so grateful for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me that I cheerfully give my permission to publish this in the hope that it may point the way to health to some other weak and ailing girl. I made no charge in my condition was really cured by the use of an enormous amount of public money in furtherance of such a scheme against the C.P.R. is too outrageous to be calmly discussed, and since I never wear it, I can say nothing. The C.P.R. took a heavy risk on both the Atlantic and the Pacific at a time when few people believed in the possibility of success, in the building of a large ocean line. It has at all times kept pace with and even gone beyond the requirements of the traffic, and I need not point out to anybody in Canada what it has succeeded in doing. It is, of course, within the power of the two governments, to destroy its plans for the future in that regard, but I cannot believe that public money will be used for any such purpose."

SPROULE'S HOT STUFF

It Stirred the Souls of Canadian Senators. OTTAWA, March 13.—(Special).—Dr. Sproule's address to the Orange Grand Lodge at Mount Forest stirred the senate today. Before orders of the day were called Senator Cloran rose to ask a question as to the correctness of the grand master's speech, but several members tried to shut him out.

"When you find the viper of untruth has been put in the grass you should catch him before he runs too far," said Senator Cloran. He went on to say that Dr. Sproule was reported as having said French and Irish Catholics were unduly favored in appointments to places in the departments of the government and of parliament. There were 15 pages and 42 were Roman Catholics and 28 were Protestants.

Senator Chiquette objected to the time of the senate being taken up with such stuff. It would be treated with the silence it deserved. Senator Watson, chairman of the senate internal economy committee, said the senate did not, by any means, have 17 pages and messengers. The senate had 17 pages and messengers, and four pages. As far as their religious proclivities were concerned, he did not know anything about them. The matter then dropped.

VAN HORNE ON "ALL RED."

Does Not Believe Government Will Injure C. P. R. MONTREAL, March 13.—(Special).—Sir William Van Horne, chairman of the Canadian Pacific, arrived today from England, and being questioned as to the All Red Line, replied: "I heard nothing about it, but it may, nevertheless, be a live question. I only feel a very strong negative impression on the question, and I made no inquiries about it. To me, speaking only as an individual, any suggestion towards the use of an enormous amount, or any amount, of public money in furtherance of such a scheme against the C.P.R. is too outrageous to be calmly discussed, and since I never wear it, I can say nothing. The C.P.R. took a heavy risk on both the Atlantic and the Pacific at a time when few people believed in the possibility of success, in the building of a large ocean line. It has at all times kept pace with and even gone beyond the requirements of the traffic, and I need not point out to anybody in Canada what it has succeeded in doing.
