

MONTREAL, 23rd April, 1849.

SIR,

In compliance with instructions received from the Executive Committee of the Branch of the BRITISH AMERICAN LEAGUE now formed in this City, I beg leave to call your attention to the Address issued by them, a copy of which is herewith transmitted, and to invite your co-operation and aid in forming a similar Society in your own neighbourhood, that an early meeting of Delegates may be held, in such place as shall hereafter be determined on by the majority of such Associations as may be formed.

You will also receive herewith a copy of the Rules adopted for the government of the Montreal Branch of the League, which may possibly be of assistance to you.

I am at the same time instructed to request a reply at your earliest possible convenience, with such information as you can supply, relative to the probability of forming such a Branch, and the numbers that may be expected to join.

I need scarcely press upon your attention the necessity of prompt and energetic action, in the present exigencies of the Province.

I am, Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

W. GORDON MACK,
Corresponding Secretary.
