ARREST O'MEARA IN LONDON WAS IN COMPANY OF LEWIS

Will Be Arraigned in Police Court Here To-Day on Perjury Charge.

John O'Meara, who is wanted in Toronto in connection with the bribery investigation, was arrested in London yesterday afternoon by Detective Wallace of Bradford.

Wallace was walking alone on the street when he saw O'Meara with Tom Lewis. He knew his man, as he arrested him in Bradford for impersonating a voter at the Hey-Henry election some years ago. Wallace positively identified O'Meara.

The prisoner was taken to the police station and handed over to Detective Reburn. He will be brought to Toronto this morning by Detective Newton.

Major Beattie will come to Toronto to identify O'Meara in the police court. Another man, Joseph Pigott, who saw the prisoner in the police station in Bradford, will also be asked to identify him.

The charge is perjury, and Mr. DuVernet will assist in the prosecution.

It will be remembered that on Monday O'Meara, who had been arrested in London on Saturday as a material witness, swore positively that he was not the O'Meara who took part in the Bradford election. He was, however, a strong language against the treatment accorded "an innocent man," and so stoutly did he deny all accusations that the crown let him go, apologizing for having made a mistake.

VICTORIA SCHOOL OLD BOYS

Organization is Launched and Another Meeting Will Be Held.

The Victoria-school Old Boys' Association is the latest. A preliminary meeting toward organization was held in St. George's Hall last evening with about fifty present. J. S. Robertson was in the chair. Another meeting will be held in about two weeks. In the meantime J. R. Sutherland, 105 East Gerrard-street, who is acting secretary, will be glad to receive the names and addresses of old boys.

Letters of regret at inability to attend were received from Mr. J. S. Robertson, principal of Harbord-street Collegiate, and M. E. Jackson.

Among those present were Dr. C. E. Sutton, W. Bryce, B.A., and Sergt. Major Beatty.

Mr. Robertson remembered his pleasant school days under Principal Spotton in the early 60's. A. Yorston represented the class of 1854, and C. Doughty the class of 1870.

KING'S DAUGHTERS.

Annual Meeting Held Last Night—Officers Reappointed.

The annual meeting of the philanthropic society of "The King's Daughters" was held in the Guild Hall last night. The gathering was rather small on account of the weather, but all of the eight city circles were represented. Mrs. Tamblin, who represented the order in the provincial convention of government, gave an interesting report of the doings of the body and their growth throughout the province. The work of organization, while not moving in leaps and bounds, goes on steadily. It is the pride of the order to look after many of the smaller lines of philanthropy, which are commonly overlooked, and thus they really achieve the bigger things. The Toronto circle are especially interested in the entertainment and further equipment of their rest room at 245 North Lisgar-street. The old officers were reappointed for the coming year, being: Mrs. Savage, chairman; Mrs. Ryan, vice-chairman; Miss Bickley, secretary; Mrs. Hestley, treasurer; Mrs. Austin, financial treasurer.

A CONSIDERABLE SURVEY

Outlook Investigates Sentiment of New York State and Finds the Candidate Strong.

The Outlook: With the express purpose of learning at first hand the sentiment of voters in the State of New York, a member of the staff of The Outlook last week made a journey to the upper part of the State. By conversations with men in the streets, in the shops, and in their offices, by some confidential interviews with political leaders of both parties, by observing both candidates before-hearers previously unacquainted with them, he encountered a great variety of opinions and feelings. The rush of Democrats, not all of independent temperament, to the support of Mr. Hearst, the nominee of the Republican party, was too obvious to require confirmation in personal talks; and the quiet intention of many more Democrats to vote for Mr. Hearst without openly avowing their party was made apparent by the expressions of individuals; but the support given by former Republicans to Mr. Hearst, the nominee of his own incorporated Independent League and the Democratic party, was even more obvious. It was therefore all the more interesting to ascertain.

In one of the larger cities a man sat in a cobbler shop with the cobbler repairing his shoes. He was evidently a small tradesman, and he was not a Republican. He predicted, rather violently, that Hearst would lose the election, and put his support of Hearst on the ground of the increase in the number of swollen fortunes, the idleness of rich men's sons, and the difficulty of competing with big concerns. A retail merchant of good standing in a much smaller city, however, a Republican, from a family of Democratic traditions, was roused against the oppressive power of his corporation, and resented the action of the railroad commission in delaying action on the franchise for a three foot line which would connect transportation facilities between several cities; he felt—rather than knew—that the franchise was being up by a way that disliked the prospect of a competitor; he felt that the people were helped because they had no way of holding the commission to account, he vaguely felt that somehow Mr. Hearst could, if he would, cure all industrial and political evils; he was inclined to doubt, however, Hearst's ability, but his real intention, when he was asked as to the value of Mr. Hearst's specific promises, he was not prepared to answer. A mild-faced, quiet-voiced workman, a Republican all his life, confided in his address to Hearst and predicted that the vote for him would be a surprise. A deaf old man, excited by the Hearst meeting, went along the street shouting so that he could be heard a block away: "That's the man I've been voting for a lot of rottenness. Talk about a square deal! What we want is a new deal. Hearst is a crooked-eyed young fellow, who finally turned into a saloon, said that he had heard nothing but Hearst until the day before. 'You wouldn't 've known Hughes was runnin'!' was the way he expressed it.

In general these men represented pretty fairly the groups which are supporting Mr. Hearst—the man who is smothered by class interests and who is being used as a tool by the more powerful and more aggressive; the man who is zealous in promising remedies; the unobtrusive Socialist workman; the neutral voter who has fallen under the spell of Hearst; and the rather stiff, thoughtful voter who follows the herd in what he talks, lets another in many respects as these men are, they are alike in one respect, their reliance upon a single individual to deal with social and political ills.

TEST CASE TO GET TAXES

Harry Clark, G.T.R. Fireman, Killed at Copetown—Judge Snider Lectures Jury.

Hamilton, Oct. 25.—(Special.)—The finance committee this evening decided to make efforts to wipe off some $1500 taxes in arrears. Test cases will be brought to see if the amendment to the act, making taxes the first charge against property, is retroactive. A suit will also be commenced to collect on an assessment of $45,000 personal property, made against the Hamilton Brewing Company in 1904, which the court held could not be collected from the association, but could be collected from the Henry Kuntz Brewing Company, or those who wound the company up. The officials have not openly avowed their test against whom proceedings should be taken. The city bylaw was amended so that vagrant and vicious dogs may be destroyed. The Poultry Association was given a grant of $50 for its show, which will be opened on Nov. 26.

G.T.R. Fireman, Killed.

A construction train, which left last night with a light engine on the G.T.R. at Copetown, and Harry Clark, fireman on the light engine, was fatally injured. The train was almost cut off. He was brought to the city hospital, where his limbs were amputated, but he died from shock a short time after the operation. He boarded the Dominion Hotel, was 22 years of age, and unmarried.

AN INDUCTION SERVICE.

Rev. W. H. Vance Formally Installed at Church of the Ascension.

The services held in the Church of the Ascension last night in connection with the induction of Rev. W. H. Vance were impressive, and so largely attended as to lend particular auspiciousness to his formal entering upon his charge as rector.

The clergy were well represented, there being present Bishop Stringer of Selkirk, Canon Broughall, Canon Farncomb, Canon Cayley, Rev. T. B. Smith, Rev. Prof. C. V. Pilcher, Rev. T. H. Croton, Rev. A. E. O'Meara, Rev. A. Hart, Rev. A. E. Barr, Rev. A. C. Barry, Rev. E. A. McIntyre, and Rev. T. A. Paterson, Deer Park.

The sermon, preached by Rev. Dr. O'Meara, was an earnest exhortation to the congregation to strive toward the goal of success in the Christian life, just as men of business, or professions, are striving for success in their worldly callings.

The life of a minister, declared Rev. Dr. O'Meara, was one that contained many temptations, and he was obliged to minister to others was a most blessed one.

A high tribute was paid to the new rector, "He is a man who will deal with you frankly and in sincerity," he said.

The general induction ceremonies were conducted by Archbishop Sweeney, the mandate of induction being read by Canon Broughall. Others who assisted were Canon Cayley, Canon Cody and Rev. Mr. Smith.

On Monday evening a reception will be held in the church by Rev. Mr. Vance.

Absent Too Much.

Some of the firemen are very much annoyed because they have been away from home for so long a time, and have not been able to get into the habit of leaving the city without obtaining leave.

The by-law reason for the overtime amounts to about $22,000, but it is accounted for by the fact that the cost of the asphalt pavement repairs has been charged against the board's appropriation.

The Canadian District Heating Company has applied for an extension of time, saying that the Victoria Realty Company has not yet made arrangements to business until next winter, as stipulated by its franchise.

James O'Neill's Saving.

James O'Neill is offered to build a sewer on Fairleigh-avenue for $125 a foot, after testing the ground. This is one of the sewers, the cost of which was estimated by the city engineer's department at $250 a foot, and for which David Newlands tendered at the same figure, and over which an investigation has been ordered.

S. S. DuMoulin, captain and central of the Tigers, has been transferred from the Victoria branch to the Hamilton branch of the Bank of Hamilton. He will play with the Tigers against the Argos, but will not be in the game against the Victoria Realty Company.

Capt. W. R. Marshall will turn out with the Tigers.

W. R. McEwen was ordered out of the division court yesterday by W. A. H. Huff, the acting master.

The Liberal executive will make a choice of interest to Hamiltonians, the following: A. H. Eastwood, Ald. Wright and P. D. Crerar, K.C.

DAMROSCH AND HIS ORCHESTRA

Scenic Concert for Massey Hall Audience Last Night.

Walter Damrosch and the New York Symphony orchestra was greeted by a large and fashionable audience in Massey Hall last night.

The program was not a long one, nor were there any notable features in it. The first part of the program was given entirely to Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 4, an emotional composition, worked upon one of the simple Russian folk songs. It opens with a melody for horn which is taken up by the oboe and afterwards by the strings, which closes the first movement with an allegro con animo, in which the main theme is vividly brought out. The waltz movement is a beautiful piece of tracery, which admits of some pretty solo work for the oboe, and a solo for the clarinet, and basses. In the Andante Maestoso the horns bring out the principal theme with strict martial precision, giving a triumphant shade to the work.

In the second part of the program Wagner's prelude to Act III, Die Meistersinger, was given. It bristles with contrapuntal combinations purposely introduced as an answer to critics who had accused the composer of being too fond of the principles of counterpoint. In some parts it takes the nature of a waltz and introduces various themes of the Meistersinger, who by their compositions are striving for the hand of the goldsmith's daughter.

The prize song from the Meistersinger was given as an encore number. A suite for flute in B. Minor by Bach was the solo given by Monsieur Gen. Barere, whose tone is sweet, dulcet, mellow and powerful; his possession, a rare execution, a remarkable control of the variable qualities of this instrument, and played with such pleasantness and facility that he received a deserved encore. David Mannes gave a Swedish Romance on the violin, which was followed by Handel's Largo, one of the most delightful pieces of the evening, full of rich harmonies and sweetness. It was not on the program, but played by request.

The program closed with the Rheni overture by Wagner, which begins with a blast on the horn and is worked up into a dashing selection typical of the hero in the opera. The last of the "Tribunes."

The ensemble of the orchestra in the forte passages is brilliant and effective. In the piano and mezzo forte parts there is altogether too much individuality. The cello, oboe and clarinets are in the hands of clever performers, but the beauty of the compositions would be greatly enhanced if each tried to blend with the other instead of forcing their instruments to exhibit their own individual technique. The brass section is beautifully mellow and rich even in the forte parts. It can never be said to be harsh.

Mr. Damrosch conducts his orchestra with considerable vigor and grace, a little dramatic at times; but not with more gusto than the composition demands.
