$10 IN GOLD wouldn't be better value to you than a choice one of any of our ten dollar suits or overcoats—we've always made a special feature of crowding all the style and quality into the garments at that popular price that is possible to get there—but this season's range of styles and qualities beat the best we've ever had to show you for that much money.

DID QUIRK SEE MURDERER?

said that he had evidence that the murderer, after committing the crime, did not leave Bradford or if he did, was still within ten miles of the city. His movements had been traced, and while the police perhaps could not put their hands on him at a moment's notice, yet they were tolerably certain of his exact whereabouts within a confined area.

"Why didn't you arrest him, then?" was asked.

To this the officer replied that he not only could not arrest the man under suspicion, but also could not even name him. "If I were to arrest him now, even if I could pounce down on him, I could not get a conviction because the links of the necessary evidence are not yet complete. But we are laying our nets and expect shortly to have our man arrested."

Continuing, the officer, whose name is withheld for obvious reasons, criticized the papers for finding fault with the case I am rapidly pushing to a conclusion. The newspaper men should have seen their duty to know that the police know their own business best.

The manner of making this statement led the reporter to infer that an important arrest may be expected any day.

"How many were implicated in the murder case," was the reply.

"It was a stranger, we have evidence that at one time he was on intimate terms with the murdered man. That was possibly ten years ago, and not in Canada."

On Thursday an important bit of evidence was obtained by the police thru a conversation with Mr. Toole, who explained that the porter and two servant girls had been on duty the night of the murder, and on looking out of their bedroom windows had failed to notice anything unusual. The girls' story of the occurrence is to the effect that they heard an outcry, and after a lapse of several minutes the cries became more distinct. Both girls declare that they noticed that the light in the bathroom had been extinguished and that the door was shut.

It was known that when the body was found the police were unable to account for the stories of the girls, who claimed that the place was in darkness when they looked out of the window overlooking the yard and the street.

New light was thrown on the matter to-day when the police discovered evidence which strongly points to the supposition that whoever was responsible for the murder had guarded against any interference from the outside by person in the house who might possibly look out of the windows.

The reason the girls could not see the light burning, the police say, is that the upper portion of the bathroom door, which is glass, was carefully covered over with a buffalo robe, rendering it impossible to see there. This evidence the authorities believe will strengthen the theory that the murderer was well acquainted with the hotel premises.

A piece of board at the top of the ladder, on which there were a few spots of blood, has been cut out, and will be sent to Toronto. The purpose is to determine whether the blood is that of a human body or not.

Chief Vaughan was asked about this this morning, and stated that it was more than he looked for much more important action within a few days.

HAMILTON STRIKE IS OFF

McClary's Foundry Will Be Run as a Union Shop, Paying Top Wages.

CAPITALISTS HAVE A NEW EXPLOSIVE

Mrs. J. B. Browne, Leader of Choir of Church of Ascension, Given a Present.

Hamilton, March 30.—The funeral of the late John Alexander, leather merchant, took place this afternoon, and was largely attended. Rev. Neil McPherson conducted the service, assisted by Rev. Dr. Fletcher. The pallbearers were: R. A. Hutchison, K. Mackay, Col. McLaren, W. J. Copp, William Marshall, H. P. Cockburn, Samuel Briggs.

Police Points. At the Police Court yesterday, Inspector Macklem charged Joseph Hall, George Truman and Thomas Senior, three county hotel men, with violating the Liquor Act. Hall pleaded guilty and was fined $20. The other two pleaded not guilty, and the cases were enlarged for a week.

For kicking up a row on Central Market on Thursday afternoon, William Murray, sr. and William Murray, jr. were each fined $3, and Frank Murray, $1.

Mrs. C. M. Young, North Macnab-street, was found guilty of keeping a disorderly house. She promised to leave the city and was given the opportunity.

Dunn Changed His Mind. Aid. Dunn, chairman of the Finance Committee, was the City Hall yesterday, looking after the report to be presented by the committee at the Council meeting on Tuesday evening. He was specially interested in the clause referring to the recommendation of the Brennan matter be referred to the County Crown Attorney. This everyone understood was acceded by the chairman, the vote being a tie, and it was so reported in all the papers.

Now Aid. Dunn says that the recommendation was not carried, because he voted against it, not for it, as he had ordered the Clerk to place no reference to it in the committee report. The question, however, is as to come in the form of an amendment to the report.

McClary Trouble Settled. The trouble that sprang up at McClary's Foundry, over the employment of non-union moulders, has been settled. A committee—Messrs. Basquill, Iron Moulder, and Messrs. Basquill, Iron Moulder, and Messrs. Basquill, Iron Moulder—appointed by the manager of the company this morning, met and over the whole dispute. The result was, whereby the company was reached, whereby the company and pay top wages. The shop will be started again to-morrow.

New Explosive. Some Detroit and Toronto men, interested in a new explosive, called dynamite, had the stuff tested at the city quays. The test was a success. The explosive can be handled freely and safely, and has a great force as dynamite, according to those who made the test.

Services Recognized. The members of the congregation of the Church of Ascension, wishing to recognize the many years of faithful service to the church rendered by Mrs. J. B. Browne as a member and leader of the choir, have presented her with an address, accompanied by a roll watch and chain and a cut-glass Empress vase.

Minor Mention. The new sandbox, which was invented and patented by William T. Miller, 23 Sandusky-st., is being tested at the city street railway. It works well; it discharges the sand immediately in front of the wheels, instead of beneath the platform, as is done at present.

Dr. Cummings was called to Cayuga to attend the alleged highway robber, Frank Humphrey, who was shot in the leg by the constables there while being arrested on Thursday. Dr. Cummings extracted the bullet with the aid of the X-rays, and Humphrey will soon be around again.

The Assize Court will be reopened on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. It is not known what judge will preside. Miss Fanny G. Huxtable, formerly of this city, and Audobon B. Higginson of Newbury, Cal., were married last week at San Bernardino, Cal., at the home of the bride's brother.

Non-Jury County Court will be held next Tuesday. The five cases on the list. Business men, meet your friends at Noble's Buffet Smoking Parlor.

LOU F. SCHOLES, TORONTO, AMATEUR BOXING CHAMPION.

Lou F. Scholes won the title of city amateur boxing champion Saturday night in the Mutual Street Ring, by cleverly outpointing Eli Gibson in the heavyweight final. Both gentlemen boxed fast and vigorously for the three rounds. Mr. Gibson displayed marked improvement since his appearance at the Pavilion three years ago, and that Mr. Scholes scored a decisive victory speaks highly of the winner's progress. Lou's next public appearance as an athlete will be in the contest at Henley for the Diamond Sculls, word of the acceptance of his entry having just been received from the Regatta Stewards at London. The pluck and determination to make the long trip deserve every encouragement, and the Toronto public will be just as proud of his victory as his friends are confident that he can win the race. The veteran John F. Scholes will accompany his son abroad, having been away for the first time since he left old England when a boy. A new classer shall will return to Toronto not later than next week, and young Scholes will undergo the strictest course of training for the great sculling event on the Thames. In fact, his work prior to the boxing tournament was undertaken partially as preliminary exercise.

Frank Quirk of Buffalo, a brother of the deceased, has returned home after attending the funeral. He is firmly of the opinion that his brother was murdered by someone who premeditated robbery. According to his statement, the man who was in possession of $175 in his possession when he was murdered.

My opinion is that he was murdered by the man with whom he was out to the barn by a man with whom Jim was familiar. Mr. Quirk himself, and it was his custom to take a look about the rear of the hotel before retiring.

Some person whose voice was familiar to Jim, and who was familiar with his movements, probably called to him, for I do not believe he would have occasion to enter the barn at that time of night, or would have gone

EASTER IN THE CHURCHES

The Resurrection the Theme of Many Impressive Sermons on Sunday.

SPECIAL MUSIC BY THE CHOIRS Floral Decorations in Keeping With the Character of the Sacred Festival.

Dull, threatening skies put a damper on any outdoor celebration on the glorious festival of Easter. The fiery prepared for the adornment of a more cheerful day, and without speaking of the special music sung in the churches there was nothing to indicate that Sunday was Easter Day. A more miserable afternoon would be hard to imagine. But the services in all the churches were of a cheery character, hallelujahs and Te Deums were sung, and the pulpits orations were altogether on the topic of the empty tomb. In many of the churches the floral decorations were magnificent, lilies being predominant.

St. James' Cathedral. In St. James' Cathedral special sermons appropriate to the occasion were preached by Canon Welch in the morning and Bishop Doane in the evening. The chancel of the church was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies, and a large cross surmounted by the Resurrection emblem was placed on the pulpit. The choir sang with much feeling several anthems, and the organists played selections from Handel, Bach, and Voltaire and other composers. At both services unusually large congregations were present.

The Easter services in Holy Trinity Church were marked by the special music of the choir, and the sermon, "Easter Day," was particularly well given with much devotional feeling and inspiration. In the morning, the Rev. Mr. Brain, preached the sermon, and in the evening the Rev. Mr. Doane, preached the sermon. The choir sang with much feeling several anthems, and the organists played selections from Handel, Bach, and Voltaire and other composers. At both services unusually large congregations were present.

The recent vigorous enforcement of the bylaw against the placing of chairs in the aisles of churches and other public buildings was responsible for a great many worshippers being obliged to stand at the services. In Holy Trinity Church, the Rev. Mr. Brain, preached the sermon, and in the evening the Rev. Mr. Doane, preached the sermon. The choir sang with much feeling several anthems, and the organists played selections from Handel, Bach, and Voltaire and other composers. At both services unusually large congregations were present.
