

This is Number One of a Series of Pant Taks

We think our time will be well spent if we tell you a few things about Pants—that most people don't know. We sell a man's Pant for $1.00, and a good one—it's made of what we call a cotton moleskin—and comes in neat stripes—and is a splendid wearing work Pant. It takes two and a half yards of material to make a pair, and as the goods are worth at least 25c a yard and the trimmings another 25c—and making about 18c—you can readily see that there is not much profit in a $1.00 Pant. Nor do we intend there shall be—we only want to give the best $1.00 Pant value in Toronto—and we do. Sizes in this line run from 32 to 44 and 46.

PIUS WEARS TRIPLE CROWN

were the only members of a royal family to attend. Among the aristocracy there was a great mixture of those Roman nobles who remain faithful to the Papacy and those adhering to the Quirinal.

Pope Was Transquil

Inside the Vatican palace there was no less movement and bustle as the Pope's procession, composed of about 200 people, was formed. The Pope seemed to be the only different one among them. He rose unusually early and took a few turns in the Vatican garden. Then he allowed himself to be dressed by the cardinals. He evinced no nervousness, and even said jokingly to the master of ceremonies, when the latter suggested that he should use the plural form in speaking of himself, "I feel very well this morning, but I may be different on returning from our coronation."

Just before entering the Sala Regia, he asked for the Pontifical crown, which he wore with great discretion. He hinted that His Holiness would look better without them, he said: "I have no desire to appear what I am not," and, in fact, he wore them during the entire ceremony.

Noted in White

The central figure in the long cortege was Pius X, borne in the sedia gestatoria. His heavy white robes and the red and gold mitre were worn with an effort. Over the Pontiff's head a canopy was held by eight men, while the historic chair of St. Peter, with its peacock tips gave a touch of barbaric splendor to Western eyes.

Surrounding Pius X were the Noble Guard in new red uniforms and gleaming helmets and carrying drawn swords, while in front marched the cardinals, the cardinal bishops, the cardinal priests and the cardinal deacons. The chaplain bore the cushion on which the Pontiff's feet were placed. He was accompanied by a special guard composed of Swiss, and was followed by the choir of theistine chapel in white, which sang as it went along.

Before leaving the Vatican the Pope went to the shrine of St. Peter, where before the sacrament exposed therein, and thence passed through the Sala Regia and the Constantine staircase into the portico of the Basilica. He there seated himself on a throne erected directly before the holy door. At the right of the throne stood Trifiro Orsini, the assistant to the Pope's throne, who withdrew his recent resignation of the post in order to participate at the function. Immediately beside the Pope were the major domo, Monsignor Magliani, the master of the chamber, Meri Righi, the master of ceremonies, Meri Righi, and Dr. Lapponi.

Rampolla Dignified

The Pontiff was exceedingly pale, but composed his emotion. The low coiling sent back an exquisite echo of the Tu Es Petrus, sung by the Sistine choir, whose voices were heard outside in the piazza of St. Peter's. Cardinal Rampolla advanced with dignity, knelt and kissed the foot of the Pontiff. He then presented in a firm voice the wishes and greetings of the Chapter of St. Peter.

The Pontiff, answering in a trembling voice, said: "I am very well, and I am very happy to see you."

He then turned to the cardinal deacons, who were kneeling in front of him, and said: "I am very well, and I am very happy to see you."

He then turned to the cardinal priests, who were kneeling in front of him, and said: "I am very well, and I am very happy to see you."

He then turned to the cardinal bishops, who were kneeling in front of him, and said: "I am very well, and I am very happy to see you."

He then turned to the noble guard, who were kneeling in front of him, and said: "I am very well, and I am very happy to see you."

He then turned to the chapter of St. Peter, who were kneeling in front of him, and said: "I am very well, and I am very happy to see you."

He then turned to the people, who were kneeling in front of him, and said: "I am very well, and I am very happy to see you."

He then turned to the angels, who were kneeling in front of him, and said: "I am very well, and I am very happy to see you."

He then turned to the saints, who were kneeling in front of him, and said: "I am very well, and I am very happy to see you."

He then turned to the Virgin Mary, who was kneeling in front of him, and said: "I am very well, and I am very happy to see you."

He then turned to the Christ, who was kneeling in front of him, and said: "I am very well, and I am very happy to see you."

He then turned to the Father, who was kneeling in front of him, and said: "I am very well, and I am very happy to see you."

Gang of Burglars Are Holding Up Houses All Over the City.

ONE TRIED TO EMBRACE WOMAN

H. F. Gardner, Late Editor of The Times, Presented With Cabinet of Silver.

Hamilton, Aug. 9.—The city is terrorized by the operations of one of the cheekiest gang of burglars that ever carried a dark lantern. This morning they entered the grocery store and home of William Durance, corner of Ferguson-avenue and Ferrie-street. About 4:30 Mrs. Durance was awakened by a light flashing in her face. She looked up to see a burglar standing with his hand on the electric bulb. She screamed and the robber laughed as if in great glee. He then turned off the light and ran down stairs.

Before entering Mrs. Durance's room the gang had gathered up an assortment of clothing, which they had carried outside. It was worth about $20 and they made off with it.

They displayed another sample of nerve Saturday evening.

About 6 o'clock one of them was caught footling around the door of George Millward's house, 31 North John-street. The inmates were astonished to find that he wore no shoes.

When spoken to, he said he wanted something to eat. They put him down at the table, and when the man of the house was out of the room he tried to put his arm around the wife's waist. He then tried to invent excuses to get upstairs, but permission was firmly refused. When he went out he joined two men at the corner who were carrying his boots. The police suspect he had gone to the house in the hope of catching the wife at supper, when he would have had a chance to go thru the house.

Henry Gottlieb, 158 North Hess-street, was disturbed by a call. A boarder named Griffith suffered to the extent of $9.

voice, warmly thanked the chapter for the visit. The procession then reformed and proceeded to the door of the Basilica, where Pius X, cast an almost terror-stricken glance, while the pontiff, in the words of the Pope, said: "I shall ever be able to go thru with it."

The people on the Basilica, and in the mountain became very impatient, and when the gleaming cross which preceded the cortege was seen, it was greeted with great applause. On the appearance of the Pontiff himself it seemed as tho the people would seek to carry him in their arms, so great was their enthusiasm. The Pope, however, carried him in their arms, so great was their enthusiasm. The Pope, however, carried him in their arms, so great was their enthusiasm.

MGR. BRUCHESI ENTERS PROTEST AGAINST SABBATH PROFANATION

Vulgar Exhibitions at Viaville Park and Sunday Horse Racing Carried On Under Garb of Charity Declared to Be a Sin and Authorities Asked to Stop Them.

Montreal, Aug. 9.—(Special).—Two pastoral letters were read in the Roman Catholic churches here to-day from Mgr. Bruchesi, one of them being expected, but the other proved to be a regular bombshell to the east end of the city.

It appears that information reached His Grace that scandalous proceedings had been going on at late at a place called Viaville Park, in the municipality of Maisonneuve, tending, as Mgr. Bruchesi says, to cause the faithful to desert mass, abandon the sacraments, the destruction of family life and the weakening, if not the complete extinction, of good morals.

Sunday, His Grace says, is profaned by vulgar swimming matches, horse races, dances and questionable exhibitions, extended late into the night, all being of a nature to cause sin and dishonor. Mgr. Bruchesi wants to know if the people and councillors of Maisonneuve are not aware that horse racing on Sunday is strictly forbidden in the archdiocese. He declares that they even carry on these nefarious practices under the garb of charity, advertising that they are for the benefit of religious objects. This, he adds, cannot be tolerated. The archbishop holds, however, that those who organize these vulgar fetes and amusements are less responsible than those in authority who permit such scandals in their district. His Grace calls on the municipality to do their duty, and appeals to the faithful to abstain from bringing sorrow to their pastors and disgrace to their families.

The other letter touched upon the elevation of Cardinal Joseph Sarto to the Pontifical throne. Referring to the conclusion of the election, Mgr. Bruchesi says: "The profane conjectures were all in vain, the spirit of God alone inspired and directed the election. The Divine will manifested itself more and more from the first to the last ballot."

There was an exciting moment on the Humber last night about 7 o'clock, when Jack Daly of Sullivan's Hotel rescued a pretty nineteen-year-old girl, who had fallen out of a canoe. The event occurred about 200 yards up the river, nearly in the center of the city. Daly, a native of the west side, was working in a ture took two girls and three bottles and went up the river. The younger girl was a water, who was passing in a row, boat with his brother, spring into the river and took her ashore, where he soon found her. He then left her to recover in the company of her friends and came home.

Home, 27 Mutual-street, that it was Jack who had fallen in, with others, and it was with some relief that a great deal of anxiety that his arrival was awaited.

RESULTS OF THE WRECK.

Bay City, Mich., Aug. 9.—Wallace's circus train arrived here last night, the performances at Lapeer and Calro having been cancelled. Repairs to the circus paraphernalia are being rushed in the west side railway yard. Elephants and many other animals show injuries, and a large number of employees are working in bandages. Thousands are visiting the camp and comforts are being showered on those who were hurt.

S.O.T. Picnic and Games.
