Should Be Sought For Good Purpose, Says J. M.

That it is not wrong for a Christian to possess property, but that he should hold it in the capacity of a steward and use it for other ends than his own, was the conclusion from a discussion on "A Christian and His Property" at the meeting of St. Andrew's Church Men's Brotherhood Sunday.

The discussion was led by J. M. Gunn and participated in by many present, including Rev. F. H. Barron of Elkins, West Virginia, a former Londoner, visiting here. Mr. Gunn contended that there was no evil in the acquisition of money if it was to be used as a means to some good end, but that there was wrong in the accumulation of money as an end in itself.

"Money is the root of all evil" is the misquotation of one of the best-known verses in the Bible, said Mr. Gunn. The correct reading is "The love of money is the root of all evil." That "love of money" led to much wrong and harm which the mere possession of money itself would not lead to, was Mr. Gunn's contention.

Mr. Barron asserted that it was one of the most difficult things in the world to be rich and plous. The possession of worldly wealth tended to stulify the development of the soul, he said.

29th in the third division, to join in the celebration of this annual reunion. A representative of the 33rd was present as a guest.

The 29th Battery was composed of Western Ontario men, and there were present at the banquet ex-members from Windsor, Sarnia, Guelph and other places. Lieut. Jack Keast of Guelph was elected president for 1921, and Wm. Levan, Toronto, secretaryand Wm. Levan, Toronto, secretary-treasurer. The next annual reunion will be held in Guelph.

Major Victor Kent, of London, former commanding officer of the battery, was killed in France.

ATTENDANCE LARGEST

IN CHURCH RECORDS Five hundred members of Knox Presbyterian Church, South London, attended communion service Sunday evening, and the attendance at the morning service was almost as large, the record for the day being the largest in the history of the church. Fifty new members were received into the church. The pastor, Rev. T. A. Symington, was assisted at the evening service by Rev. J. G. Stuart, a former pastor.

ALGONQUIN PARK IN WINTER.

There is an increasing desire among many city people to escape from the cares of housekeeping, and of life in the large centres, and seek the hospitality and good cheer to be found at the resort hotels. The Grand Trunk Railway System is meeting this desire in keeping open its famous hotel in the Algonquin Park of Ontarlo, "The Highland Inn." This hotel is easily accessible through Ottawa or Toronto, and offers warm, cheery private and public rooms. Excellent cuisine and the companionship of guests who have a common aim—to enjoy the healthful winter sports, invigorating climate, that the great unspoiled wilderness of Algonquin Park affords. For rates, etc., apply to Trunk agent.

HIGH CLASS PROGRAM

Dragging Children and Spending Money They Can III Afford, Says Bishop,

The Holy Name Society was addressed on two occasions yesterday by Bishop M. F. Fallon, first at the 8:30 mass, when over five hundred members received holy communion, and again in St. Peter's Parish Hall at the annual breakfast and election of officers. annual breakfast and election of officers.

The bishop, who occupied the pulpit at the 8:30 mass, stated that on the day after Christmas, following an oldestablished custom, the college of cardinals, through their dean, Cardinal Vanutelli, extended the season's greetings to the pope. The sovereign pontiff in responding to these congratulations pointed out that the world was at the present time afflicted by five plagues, namely, disregard for authority, the love of pleasure, hatred of man for man, dislike of work and forgetfulness of man's supernatural destiny.

Rule the Homes.

Mr. Barron asserted that it was one of the most difficult things in the world to be rich and plous. The possession of worldly wealth tended to stuitfy the development of the soul, he said.

CHURCH OBSERVES 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Empress Avenue Methodists Open New Sunday School Rooms.

Members of Empress Avenue Methodist Church yesterday celebrated the 50th anniversary of this congregation with a varied and extensive program. Attendance at both morning and evening services and at the reopening of the enlarged Sunday school building in the afternoon were large. in the enlarged Sunday school building in the afternoon were large.

The church was opened on Sunday, July 31, 1870. For the next six years it was under the care of the old North Street Church, now the First Methodist, the services being conducted by local preachers and probationers. At the conference of 1876 the church was constituted an independent one, with constituted an independent one, with the late Rev. J. E. Lanceley as pastor. the late Rev.. J. E. Lanceley as pastor. Some fifteen ministers have succeeded him in turn, bringing the history of the church up to the present pastorate of Rev. Mr. Dewey.

"We had no choir in the early days," says the record, "not even an organ. Mr. Cooper, the day school teacher, led the singing and started the tunes by aid of a tuning fork. After a time a very small organ was purchased, and very small organ was purchased, and Miss Hannaford played for us, some alf a dozen forming the choir. Choir practice to us was unknown and un-necessary, because we had two specials which we sung every Sunday, viz.: "Safely Through Another Week" and "Oh. When Shall I Sweep Through the Gates?" The only change was when alternating between morning and even-

Gates?" The only change was when alternating between morning and evening."

Under the energetic pastorate of Rev. J. E. Lanceley, the Sunday school building soon proved too small, and in 1878 it was enlarged, serving its purpose for over 40 years. For a long time the need of enlarged and more convenient quarters to carry on the work was keenly felt, and when the Kensington Mission School joined their forces some form of enlargement became a necessity. The work began in the late summer of last year, and the present commodious structure is the result.

It was during the pastorate of Rev. I. B. Wallwin that the churh auditorium was enlarged and re-seated, and at the same time the present pipe organ was installed. In the autumn of 1908 Rev. Mr. Dewey started the organization of the orchestra which has a large and efficient membership.

Yesterday's preacher was Rev. Dr. R. N. Burns, who gave interesting discourses to crowded congregations both morning, and evening. Dr. Burns' theme in the morning was "The Greatest Need and the Greatest Quest of Today—the Knowledge of God." "The three greatest needs of today, said the preacher, are: Brotherhood, which rests on the deeper spiritual fact of the fatherhood of God; morality, as the greatest fundamental of prosperity, and partnership with God in His plans for world reonstruction."

The preacher gave some very practical and helpful suggestions, illustrated

CHURCH CROWDED TO

HEAR HAROLD JARVIS

The announcement that Harold Jarvis would sing at Dundas Centre Church last evening was sufficient to completely fill the church before 7 o'clock.

"It is brother or brute, Jesus or the jungle," said Rev. W. R. McIntosh, pastor of King Street Presbyterian Church, speaking on the importance, urgency and greatness of the task of building a world of brothers, in an address on the subject of "Other Folks" before the London Theosophical Society Sunday evening.

There were three tasks before the builders of the new era of brotherhood, he stated. The first was to get acquainted with folks. Many problems were solved by the simple device of knowing people better. The next task was to appreciate folks, to see men of all classes equal, all made in the image of God. In the third place, one should master the art of getting along with other people. One should begin in the home, with the neighbors, with society in general, studying how to bring brotherhood into business, democratize industry, teaching the races not to fear the flag, but to love it, and coveting more the hearts of backward races, rather than their commerce.

The Widely-Heralded, Much Discussed Furniture Event of 1921

JUDGING by the number of people who have purchased Furniture, and also judging by their enthusiastic comments on the wonderful values, we have little doubt in our mind but that the citizens of London and Western Ontario appreciate thoroughly our honest endeavor to bring prices on High Grade Home Furnishings down to "Pre-War Levels."

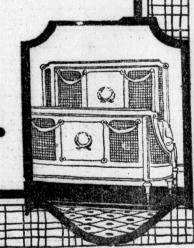

TATE CAN assure you that this is a genuine store-wide clearance of 40 per cent with no reserve. Even the manufacturers have stood aghast at the drastic action we have undertaken. However, we have every confidence that our sincere effort to reduce Furniture down to "before the war" prices will meet with a handsome response from every home lover in London and district.

YOU demanded "lower prices"—We replied: Now-Today—is the opportune time to refurnish a room—refurnish your home—to furnish a new home—or to buy any articles in our immense stock of the finest Furniture, Rugs, Draperies and Bedding manufactured today at a straight 40 per cent saving.
