Perhaps the subjects which attracted most attention was that of "the family—its perils and safeguards," handled by Dr. Charles N. Clarke, superintendent Toronto General Hos-pital, Miss Sara Libby Gibson and Rev. Dr. L. Norman Tucker. Startling figures on diseases of the sexes were given by Dr. Clarke, who declared at the outset that prudery was largely responsible for the existing condition. In a matter such as that which affected the very life of the people it was for him as one who was trying to bring about a change, to call a spade a spade and present to them the real state of affairs, no matter how painful it might be. Also he might say that the newspapers were shirking their duty in the efficiency was the great essential in matter, and were not giving it the the war, it was for the people of Canpublicity necessary to bring the comstuation with which they were con-ironted. Its evil influence had permeated the majority of the public institutions. The post office, judiciary, Intercolonial Railway and many constituencies had been tainted by it. The system was evil because of the low moral tone of all those connected with it. Some men were strictly honest in private ife, but when they entered public life it was an open field and they thought It no harm to rob the country. He considered it the worst form of rob-

APPEAL COURT REVERSES COUNTY JUDGE'S DECISION

Release in Connection With Motor Accident Is Held To Be Valid.

Before the court of appeal at Os-goode Hall yesterday T. N. Phelan, acting on behalf of J. H. Cooke, an-other barrister, succeeded in having reversed a judgment given recently by any place for the liquor traffic," he said, amidst applause. "Whatever may have been our doubts in the past, the experiences of the war have settled that question for all time."

The future of the country he thought depended on agriculture. The produce of the farm and field was the making of a nation, and so important, in his opinion, that if Germany had not made it one of her chief pursuits, the war would not have leasted a year. She would have been starved out of existence.

"Our obligation at home," he said in conclusion, "is to serve and sacrifice, so that Canada may be worthy of those brave men who have gone to the fields of Flanders and died that Canada might live."

Mr. Robins dealt principally on the life of Christian principles. He urged them to work for the end that would bring their institutions and resources in line for the benefit of the people and let Canada get a fair chance in the work. They should make the political institutions spew out their graft and become a power of service in public life. Trades and Labor Council Recruits Secured by the Arm-Receives Letter From Hon. W. H. Hearst.

The District Trades and Labor Council ar its regular meeting last evening in the Labor Temple again went on record as favoring public ownership of all public utilities of the province. The cord as favoring public ownership of all public utilities of the province. The council also endersed the idea of the new labor party to be organized next Thursday night. Secretary Stevenson read to council a reply from Fremier Hearst to the nickel potition forwarded to him recently by the executive committee, calling on the government to collect from the International Nickel Company taxes due and payable under the Mining Tax Act for the years from 1912 to 1916. Also for an accounting of the profits made by the nickel company.

The premier stated that the question had been fully explained by himself and other government officials. Mr. Hearst warned the labor men that no proper purpose could be served by the signing of the petition, which he declares bears unmisshable evidence on its face that its author was actuated by political motives, rather than by zeal for public welfare.

its author was actuated by political motives; rather than by zeal for public welfare.

"The petition is unfair and misleading in a number of particulars and does not set forth the correct situation." he says.

"There is no agreement with the International Nickey Company or any other of a proper tax under the terms of the proper tax under the terms of the province with respect thereto. As you are aware last year a commission, with one of the leading mining experts in the world nounnated by the British Government as chairman, was appointed to investigate the whole nickel question and the best and most equitable method of mining taxation, in order that the province might secure the benefit of every dollar of taxation to which it was fairly gattited. It is expected that this commission will report before the session and legislation will be refronctive to cover the period of unusual expansion and profits created by the war.

"Will Change if Necessary.

"If the government requires any additional autherity or powers to enforce the rights of the people against the company the necessary legislation will be obtained."

The council have forwarded a reply to the premier steating that they note
