VENICE IN WAR TIME

City of the Doges Has Been Attacked From Air Many Times

A big city of Italy that feels the strain of war is Venice, for the Old City of the Lagoon lies in such proximity to the scene of the hottest action on the Carso that the Austrians whenever they suffer serious reverses on the battleground find it an easy task to wage air warfare on Venetian women and children and the deserted churches, with their priceless masterpieces of art.

The damage done to Venice by Austrian aeroplanes is described by Horation F. Brown in the Cornhill Magazine.

"The city has been bombed from the air twenty-one times since the war began. From May 24 to Nov. 7, 1915, there were eight attacks, all of them, except two, by daylight, usually in the early hours of the morning; this year there have been thirteen, including a small affair on November eleven, and there seems to have been a crescendo in their ferocity and in the size of the bombs.

"It is clear that some attempt has been made to aim at specific points in the station, the arsenal, the cotton mill —except, perhaps, during the violent attack which followed the fall of Gorizia, when the bombs were freely sprinkled over the town; but, in any case, the height at which the aeroplanes fly makes the incidence of the bombs a matter largely of chance.

"The raids were all carried out by aeroplanes, and lasted, on an average, about an hour. The warning of an impending raid is given, if in the daytime, by the long, melancholy wail of sirens, followed by three cannon shots; if after dark by the extinction of the electric light as well.

"Yet the inhabitants are coming to bear it admirably. They seem to have settled down in a semi-stoical acceptance of war and the consequences it entails in the war zone, not without sustaining pride in the thought that, whatever may be happening in other cities in Italy, they, at all events, know what sacrifices war implies, and are ready to face them. During a raid they are agitated, of course—night attacks are peculiarly trying, and war babies are not uncommon; but when the racket is over and the immediate danger past, the humdrum goldmine—left to out with a jest and an invitation to drown the pains in an ombra di vino.

"Apart from the nerve-racking experience of a bombardment by aeroplanes, the damage actually done has been comparatively slight when we recall the number and ferocity of the attacks. The city doubtless owes this good fortune to the fact that it stands in the lagoon, and is surrounded and intersected by water, which renders bomb explosions relatively harmless."

FEET WEIGH MORE ASLEEP

Your feet weigh more when you are asleep than when you are awake. At least that is the conclusion of a scientist who has experimented with the question.
These tests were conducted in a most interesting manner. The subject was laid on a long plank, which was then placed upon a crosspiece, see-saw fashion.
The man upon the plank was balanced on this crosspiece, and the plank remained at a level without any effort without his part. But the moment that he went to sleep it began to incline downward at the end opposite his head.

This experiment was repeated with several persons belonging to both sexes and in every case the result was the same. In no instance did the sleeper's head incline toward the ground.

This phenomenon is explained by the fact that the head is drained of surplus blood when a person is asleep, and the blood naturally flows toward the extremities of the sleeper. Immediately this makes the head lighter in weight, the difference being sufficient to upset the balance of a man resting in the position de-

Saving Subsides

Canadian Food Controller's Suggestions of War-time Dishes For Tuesday

(Recipes by Domestic Science Expert, Food Controller's office.) Save beef and bacon by using fish and other substitutes.

Fish Chowder
Any baked or boiled fish left over can be used.

Recipe—2 cups potatoes (sliced); 1 cup onion (sliced); 1 cup fat (sliced).
The method is as follows: Cook the potatoes, fish and onion separately and drain. Make a white sauce. Put the fish, potatoes and onion in the white sauce, re-heat and serve hot.

White Sauce
2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons butter. Heat these in a frying pan and cook for one minute. Do not allow to brown. Add one cup of milk and stir until perfectly smooth. Season with one half teaspoon of salt and one-eighth teaspoon of pepper.

Brown Bread Recipe—Graham flour, 2 cups; white flour, 1 cup; molasses, 1/2 cup; sweet milk, 1 1/2 cups; soda, 1/2 teaspoon; salt, 1/4 teaspoon.

Sift the flour, salt and soda well. Add the molasses and the milk. Pour into well greased moulds and steam about three hours.

KEEP A HEN
If you want to raise some money So's to live a little high, Or at least a little higher Than your present cash will buy—If you don't know how to get it Here's a recipe to try:
Keep a hen.

For a hen's sort of derrick When it comes to raising cash;
She can lift a healthy mortgage Without a quail or crash.
If you'd burst your empty wallet
And feel free to cut a dash,
Keep a hen.

Keep a Biddy that will never Flap her wings and try to crow Like a suffragette in hansom—It is "hafa dig" you know!
Keep a hen that minds her business, Laying eggs to raise the dough.
Keep a hen.

If one hen is insufficient You had better keep a flock; If you'd like to add some music, Keep a lordly crowing cock.
Then rake the shekels freely And stir the shekels freely.
Keep a flock of hens.
—M. G. Hains, in Country Gentleman.

A MISRE MEMORY NOW
But There Was a Time When Copper-Toed Boots Had a Vogue

(Montreal Gazette)
Staid grand-dads of today can likely hark back to the supreme joy of early youth when they first donned a pair of copper-toed boots, some three score years ago. It is interesting to learn, from a writer in The Toronto Weekly Star that their inception was due to a Canadian, one Newman Silverthorne, whose brain was quickened in this direction by his own exigencies in tramping through wild country accompanied by boot manufacturers did not wax enthusiastic over an innovation that lengthened the life of their wares at such a small extra cost, and it was only by his own exertions in advertising that he created a market for a production that received the benediction of many paternalists, though his exclusive enfranchisement of the patent lasted but six years, and was then promptly shelved by the manufacturers.

Mr. Silverthorne is still enjoying a green old age, under the loving care of a daughter.

NEW PASTOR ARRIVES.

Rev. H. C. Fraser, M.A., the new minister of Knox church, accompanied by his wife, arrived in the city yesterday. Rev. H. C. Fraser comes to the city from Chatham (N. B.), where he had charge of Cooke Presbyterian church, and prior to this, he was in charge of the Presbyterian church at Grand Falls (N. B.). Mr. Fraser is a graduate of Dalhousie and Pine Hill Universities.
His wife, who is an accomplished singer, is a daughter of Dr. J. G. Henderson, of Chilliwack. The new pastor will be inducted on Friday night at 8 o'clock.

SYRUP OF FIGS

FOR CROSS, SICK
FEVERISH CHILD

If Little Stomach is Sour, Liver Torpid or Bowels
Clogged

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what all the little one—be full of cold, or a sore throat, disordered, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig-syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

ions in Ladies' Attire for This Opening Display, Demonstrating the Most Distinctive Tailoring Features and the Newest Trimming Methods.

Dresses!

COSTUMES

Many of the new suits are cut in that straight line effect, adding slenderness to the figure. If the model is tailored it usually has a small collar somewhat like a man's coat.

VELVETS, fur trimmed, are exceptionally smart coats, somewhat longer. Many of them shaped at the waist with handsome braided trimming effects.

Other styles in BROADCLOTHS and GABARDINE.
Most skirts are made quite plain, and the wide belt is frequently featured. Buckles, Buttons, Braid and Embroidery are used for trimmings. Buckles are employed as novelty ornaments.

COATS

The three leading characteristics of the Fall Coats are the loose straight lines, the belts of various kinds, and the big, comfortable collars that may be worn several ways and always look attractive.

The large collar cut square in the back is popular. When buttoned up around the neck it lies in soft folds or drapes. The neck is cut high so that whether the collar is buttoned up around the throat or not, it stands high in the back.

The tendency is towards solid tones, except when Tweeds or Blanket Cloths are used.

Was Victim Of a Conspiracy

Defence in Trial of General Souk-homlinoff, Former Russian Minister of War

Petrograd, Sept. 24.—General Soukhomlinoff, the former minister of war, was deputed as the victim of a conspiracy in which M. Guchkoff, his former friend was the arch conspirator, by Attorney Zacharin, the former ministers counsel, in the closing arguments of his trial on a charge of treason.

Dealing with Soukhomlinoff's alleged relations with Altschuler, whom the prosecution charged was a master spy, Zach-arin declared that the only ground of prejudice against Altschuler was that he was a Jew.

"If Altschuler was a spy how was it possible that he lived for thirty years in Kiev which was packed with countless secret agents? asked the defendants lawyer. He branded all charges against Altschuler as frivolous. He said that the prosecutions reference to the office maintained in Petrograd by Altschuler, in which he was supposed to have had secret dealings with Soukhomlinoff, proved nothing as he also had commercial dealings there with other ministers. There was no proof that he had received favors from Soukhomlinoff, who proved by his dealings with his own relatives, that he was extremely scrupulous.

The prosecutor, Attorney Zacharin declared, being unable to prove that Souk-homlinoff had had mercenary motives for treasonable acts, attempted to prove it by referring to "mysteries" in the war ministers life, but all that was "childish gossip."

Concerning Soukhomlinoff's relations with the traitor Miasoedoff, M. Zach-arin said that this story was invented by Guchkoff with the aim of driving the war minister from power and replacing him with General Pavlovich. "The lawyer attempted to discredit Guchkoff's evidence at the trial.

M. Guchkoff alleges that he knew of these spies dealing with Soukhomlinoff before the war. It is that so, how is it possible that the president of the Duma and one of Russia's great men did not take measures against those spies?" asked Zacharin.

FIFTY-NINE KILLED.
FIFTY-FIVE INJURED IN

Amsterdam, Sept. 24.—Budapest despatches printed in German newspapers arriving here tell of an explosion in the Lubenz coal mines. Fifty-nine persons were killed and fifty-five injured.

Attempted Escape
Ellsworth Sutherland, a prisoner in the Amherst county jail charged with a series of petty thefts, made a bold attempt to break jail yesterday. Jailers Simpson, making his daily rounds, omitted to lock a door, and Sutherland seized the opportunity. He was seen by the jailer's son and made a dash through the parlor and dove headlong at the open window. It chanced that the screening held him and before he could free himself, he was dragged back by the feet and once more incarcerated in his cell.
