M.R.H. THE PRINCE OF WALES
ASHTAPPEARS AT THE FRONT

THE ROYAL FAMILY.

Q.—Was the Prince Consort's family name Wettin?—One of your constant readers, Montreal.

Q.—What is the family name of the reigning monarch, King George?—Private M., 24th Battalion, Victoria Rifles, Montreal.

Q.—A claims that the surname of King George is Guelphe. B maintains that whilst King George is of the house of Guelphe, he has no surname. Which is right?—A. K., Montreal.

Q.—A few years ago the writer applied to you requesting information as to whether His Majesty the King had a surname or not, and you replied in the negative, saying that the Royal Family was older than surnames and that the British College of Heraldry concurred in this view. This argument having since arisen, an application was made to an English paper, and it gave the answer that the surname was Wettin. Would you be good enough to advise me of your views regarding this?—R. H. P., St. John, N. B.

A.—The royal family of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland have, properly speaking, no surname, authorities say, its members being described by their princely titles. When Prince Albert and Queen Victoria were married, February 10, 1840, the Christian names "Albert" and "Victoria" were all the names used; nor has any other style ever been used, so far as we can discover, the history of the present royal family. Prince Albert, grandfather of King George, was descended from the Counts of Wettin, whose name was derived from a castle which stood near the small town of that name on the Saale, in Germany. Their line goes back to a time before surnames came into use. The earliest known ancestor was one Dietrich, Count of Hasegau or Housgau, who was killed while fighting Hungarians in 993 A. D. His sons, Deio and Frederick, received lands taken from the Wends, including the country or "gau" of Wettin, on the right bank of the Saale. In subsequent centuries, the history of the family became merged in that of Meissen, Saxony, and the four Saxon dukedoms.

WILL YOU HELP?

One of the pressing needs of the great military camp at Valcartier is the establishment of some place for the amusement of the boys when off duty. Of course, the government supplies them with everything to eat and wear, but it does not provide recreation rooms. When drill is over, on rainy days and dark nights, there is no place for the boys to go except to their tents.

The Khaki League of Montreal was formed last winter for the purpose of establishing recreation rooms for the soldiers mobilizing for the front and for caring for the sick and wounded during the period of convalescence.

The patron, H. H. H. the Duke of Connaught, on a recent visit to Montreal, made a careful personal inspection of the work of the league and opened its first convalescent home.

Three club rooms were opened in Montreal and proved very successful in contributing to the material well being of the men, by giving them comfortable quarters where they could obtain light refreshments in the way of coffee, tea, sandwiches, cake, etc., play games, read the latest papers and magazines, write letters and meet their brother soldiers. The rooms were continually filled and that they were much appreciated by the men is proved by the numerous letters of thanks received by the secretary and members of the committee.

Club rooms on similar lines have been established in Ottawa and Quebec by committees of the citizens of those places, which have proved to be equally successful.

The Montreal League are now undertaking to establish a branch at Valcartier camp. This is at the particular request of the camp commandant, Colonel Hughes.

It has been suggested that, as a great number of maritime province men are in training at Valcartier, the people of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island would like to help in this work.

Perhaps you, who are now reading of the work of this excellent organization, have a son or brother or friend there? You can help to give him many pleasant hours of recreation by subscribing to the league.

The men do not receive this as a charity or anything of that sort. The funds raised by the league, all go into equipment, providing rooms and furniture. For the refreshments the men pay bare cost. There are no salaries for supervision or to any of the officers.

Many subscriptions of $1 have been received, as $1 constitutes a membership in the league. A subscription of $50 or over entitles a foundation member. The members of the Quebec committee of management are Mrs. Laurens Evans and Mrs. J. C. McAlmont.

It is hoped that a generous response to this appeal may be forthcoming, as of necessity there will be a heavy expenditure required to open the rooms at Valcartier which are bound to be of great assistance and benefit to our soldiers. Subscriptions should be sent to the secretary Austin Stead, 80 St. Francis Xavier street, Montreal.

Hôtels vary as much in degree of comfort as the haughtiest hotel do in degrees of shyness and efforts to please the guests. It was midnight in a hostelry in an Arizona town when a guest called up and in an angry voice said: "There are a couple of nice fighting men up here."

"What room have you?" inquired the sleepy clerk.

"What was told, and then he inquired, 'What are you paying for it?'"

"Two dollars," was the reply.

"Well, what do you expect for $2—a bull fight?"

BIG, HEARTY BABY BOY

Mrs. Beck's Fondest Hope Realized—Health, Happiness and Baby.

Upper Lahave, N. S., Can.—"I wish to thank you for the benefit I received by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles from which I was a great sufferer, so that I was completely run down in health. Other medicine did not help me, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong. I now have a big, hearty baby boy, and praise your medicine for the wonderful lot of good it has done me."—Mrs. ISRAEL BECK, JR., Upper Lahave, Lunenburg Co., N. S., Canada.

The darkest days of husband and wife are when they come to look forward to a childless and lonely old age.

Many a wife has found herself incapable of motherhood owing to some derangement of the feminine system, often curable by the proper remedies.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.
