Fables On Health

IF YOU CAMP, BE CAREFUL
EACH year from about July 1 to October 1 typhoid fever cases show an increase.

Health authorities attribute part of this increase to camp life. Getting back to nature is all right for the city dweller, but the city dweller should mix a good dose of safety with his romance.

This means that he should be careful of his drinking water in camp and fight against flies which carry typhoid fever germs from sewage to the camp food.

Water from babbling brooks is not always pure. Neither is the water from the "Old Oaken Bucket."

Often folk in the country are careless with the disposal of sewage. The babbling brook may have its source near a house where recently there has been typhoid fever. Milk and butter purchased in the country, or in the city, may contain typhoid fever germs.

The camp should be kept scrupulously clean. Just because one is out in the woods is no reason for letting up on house-cleaning duties.

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON. THROUGH THE PEBBLE WALL.

The Twins tried to move but couldn't. The tiny pebbles on the pebble wall had come rolling down about them until the children were almost buried up to their ears.

To make matters worse, the Bean-Shooter-Man, to whom the wall belonged, came along and read them a lecture on manners, which they didn't like at all.

But finally he rolled up his lecture and put it into his pocket.

"There," said he. "Too much is plenty. Now tell me about yourselves—where you are going and where you came from and what you are here for. And also how you happened to knock down half my pebble wall without my permission."

"I'm sorry," said Nick. "But we came from home and we aren't going any place unless we can get out of this stone pile."

The Bean-Shooter-Man looked at him sharply. "Are you poking fun at me?" he demanded. "I hope not. That's the worst manner of all. I'll have to add that to my lecture when I write it over. Now begin all over again."

"We're hunting for Pile Cave," said Nick. "The Pile Cave is the Fairy Queen's golden bee-hive and she hasn't any honey. Nancy and I are looking for it. We have the key to the secret cupboard if we ever get there, and we have magic shoes too, that—"

"What?" cried the Bean-Shooter-Man in surprise. "Have you magic shoes? Then why don't you wish yourselves out of this?"

"We forgot," exclaimed Nancy. So she said:

"Shoes be nimble, shoes be quick, Or here we Twins shall have to stick. Take us over the pebble-wall. We can't stay here any more, at all." The shoes lifted them right out of the pebble-pile and took them to the top of the wall. But their toes caught, and more pebbles came rolling down, bringing the Twins with them. There they were just as before, buried to their necks.

"Ha, ha! Ho, ho!" laughed the Bean-Shooter-Man.

$240 RAISED FOR KIDDIES' CAMP

Fair Vale Organization Holds Sale in Aid of Welfare Work

The total proceeds, amounting to $240, of the fancy work and candy sale held by the Lady Byng Sewing Circle, of Fair Vale, at the Fair Vale-clubhouse Saturday, will be donated to the Lady Byng camp for undernourished children. Great appreciation is felt by those in charge of the camp for this generous contribution. Five o'clock tea was served at the clubhouse and a dance followed in the evening. E. A. Ellis and L. T. Wetmore had charge of the arrangements for the dance and an orchestra furnished music free.

The following ladies attended to the various branches of the day's activities. Mrs. L. T. Wetmore, general convenor; Mrs. W. H. Banks, Mrs. Seelye and Mrs. Murphy, fancy work; Miss Ada Emery and Mrs. L. Gallagher, candy; Mrs. L. Tapley, Mrs. Charles Kee, Mrs. Thorne, Mrs. J. L. Touse, the Misses Kee and Tapley, tea tables; Mrs. W. L. McNeil, Walne, Mrs. E. W. Long, ice cream and drinks.

Tickets were sold for a box of candy by Elizabeth Wetmore and Nora McIlwaine.

Single Flower

A SINGLE flower flattened on the summit of the hat crown is one of the novelties for fall. It is often shaded, and is most effective when carried out in a lighter or darker shade of velvet than the material of which the hat is made, and the hat should be velvet or felt.

FAIRVILLE BAPTIST CHURCH HAS PICNIC

More Than $100 Cleared For Sunday School Expenses—Prize Winners.

The picnic of the Fairville Baptist church was largely attended at Grand Bay on Saturday. More than $100 was made over expenses which will be used for the benefit of the Sunday School. C. B. Black, superintendent of the school, was in charge. Rev. and Mrs. C. Clarke attended. Prizes were given each of the primary children and were won by members of the Sunday School and congregation who tested their skill on the following: Bunny in the hole, H. Gallant in charge, prize, fountain pen, won by Hiram Allabee; silver pencil by Mrs. Allabee; married woman's race, Mrs. Allan Thorne; married men's race, Carl Cunningham; ham, each box of chocolates; ladies' bean board, in charge of Carl Cunningham, prize, string of pearls, won by Miss Ida Wayne; men's bean board, Miss Nellie Kierstead in so assisted.

No—not rubbing—just dipping

That dear little blouse of yours—it's new just so long as it's kept fresh by careful washing. But when harsh soaps are used—it soon gets faded and dowdy-looking.

The pure, gentle Lux suds will preserve its beautiful colours and its fresh loveliness. Will keep it new!
