

GERMAN LINE IN RUSSIA

CROSS HALF MILE OF NO MAN'S LAND, CANADIANS CARRY OUT THEIR MOST SUCCESSFUL RAID YET

Prisoners Taken, Enemy Killed, Dug-outs Blown Up and Much Damage Done Hun Positions—A Glorious Surprise Attack

Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, Mar. 17.—(By W. A. Willson, Special Correspondent of the Canadian Press)—Nineteen prisoners taken; twenty Germans killed by rifle fire or bayoneted; others blown up in their dug-outs, and an indefinite number wounded—such is the record of twenty-five minutes' work of our infantry in front of Orcourt this morning. In addition, an enemy machine gun was captured; his forward rear assembly areas and communications shelled and gassed by our heavy; his field guns swept by our machine guns and shelled by our trench mortars. The raid was one of the most successful in Canadian history. Our men, in moving to the attack, had to cross half a mile of No Man's Land. This difficult manoeuvre over the machine gun swept area was carried out with complete success. Just before the raiders attacked a regular pitched battle was waged only 300 yards from the Canadian patrol by an enemy raiding party of double strength. When the miniature battle machine guns were unusually quiet during the operations. Our raiders encountered scarcely any opposition in advancing to the enemy outpost positions. They then moved up a hostile trench to the Bosche, "a living line" where the party bombed their way along more than a quarter of a mile of trenches north and south. Enemy dugouts were blown up and the men who offered resistance were killed or captured or driven out, and some of the raiders went forward until they had penetrated to a depth of more than 200 yards behind the enemy line, making a total advance of more than 1,000 yards. One of our men, after three members of the enemy machine gun crew had been killed, ran up and bayoneted a fourth, put his gun over his shoulder and then tramped back over 800 yards of No Man's Land to the officer commanding his regiment, to whom he presented the gun as a memento.

Every detail of the morning's operations worked like clock work. The men, who had been carefully trained before the attack, were in the finest fighting form. Their only regret, as that of other raiders earlier in the week, is that the Hun did not make a better fight of it. During the retirement our men had passed through a very heavy barrage, but the whole operation, from beginning to end, was carried out with few casualties, the majority of them slight wounds. At daybreak, when all had quieted down, and the Hun was coming up from his dugouts, etc., all our guns along the front opened simultaneously with two minutes of gun fire, shot fast as guns could be worked. This hail of shells swept the enemy's front line of supports, reserve assembly areas, communications, and must have caused many orders taken and confusion. Prisoners were taken and the strength of the attack, and say that a careful plan had been made in the event of such operations, but the whole scheme failed at the test this morning, the enemy having been thrown into confusion.

RETURN FROM MISSION TO CANADIAN TRENCHES. The heads of two great Canadian churches, Anglican and Presbyterian, spoke at St. John churches last evening upon their return from a tour of Canadian camps in England and France. Bishop Richardson of Fredericton spoke at Trinity and Rev. Dr. Neil at St. David's. The message each brought was one of hope and good cheer. Persistent rumors as to the Canadian immorality overseas were dispelled as things "made in Germany" and St. John people were informed of the real state of affairs. Both speakers expressed perfect confidence that the Allies would be successful in the end, but that it would take a great effort if this was to be achieved in the near future.
