

A COLD Developed Into BRONCHITIS.

However slight a cold you have, you should never neglect it. In all possibility, if you do not treat it in time it will develop into bronchitis, pneumonia, or some other serious throat or lung trouble.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is particularly adapted for all colds, coughs, bronchitis, pneumonia, asthma, whooping cough and all troubles of the throat and lungs. Three points in favour of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup are: 1. Its action is prompt. 2. It invigorates as well as heals, and soothes the throat and lungs. 3. It is pleasant, harmless and agreeable in taste.

Mrs. Albert Vait, Brockville, Ont., writes:—"Just a line to let you know about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Our oldest little girl is now six years old. When she was four months old she got a cold which developed into Bronchitis, and we tried everything we could think of and had two doctors attending her, but it was no good. One day I read in your almanac about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I tried it, and before she had finished one bottle of it, the dry hacking cough had nearly all gone. There is nothing equal to it, and we are never without it in the house."

See that you get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it, as there are numerous imitations on the market. The genuine is manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Price, 25c.; family size, 50c.

On a Farm All the Time

Man., Dec., 1913.

Dear Editor—I've long been a reader of your most valuable paper, and just picked up enough courage to write to your highly esteemed page. Father has taken the paper for many years. Now, I will write something about myself. I am a girl of 17 years, and have lived on a farm all my life, and wouldn't like to live any place else. I went to the city last winter, but city life and I don't agree. I am a music teacher, and have been teaching since I was 15. I am fond of dancing, music and outdoor sport. I saw that a girl 16 years old stooked this harvest, well, she's pretty good. I have run a binder this three years and like it fine. Father has a section of land and has been on it for over thirty years. Now, I think this letter is long enough for a start. I see where "A Batch" would like recipes. I have lots of them if he would like to write to me. I would also like to hear from "Dido." Wishing your club every success.

True Marriage Not a Failure.

Alta., Canada, Nov., 1913.

Dear Editor—I would very much like to join your correspondence column, if you would permit me to do so. I have read the letters in the W.H.M. with interest for the past two years. I see lately some of the readers are taking up marriage as a topic. I would like to give my opinion if I may. Some say that marriage is a failure. I cannot agree with them. God created marriage and can anyone say that anything that God created is a failure. Is anything more ennobling to a young man than the realization that he has won the love and respect of a respectable young lady. On the other hand, the young lady is happier than she ever was before. She loves with a sweet, true love. Can such love between two young people be anything but sacred? In course of time they marry. I suppose then they find that the other is not perfect, but true love will put up with many faults. We will now picture them in their new home—a little shack on the homestead, it is small, but tidy and warm. They help each other, and if any quarrels arise they are soon made up. In the evening the husband reads aloud while the wife darns his socks. Twenty-five years pass. Now a large house stands where the shack was many years ago. Everything speaks of prosperity. An old man and woman sit by the fire still happy in their love for each other. Some people have made a failure of marriage because they have not followed God's teaching. Some men marry for a housekeeper or because the girl has some money. The girls from the time they leave school begin to think of the boys. Some of them can't think of anything else. Now, if these girls would be friendly with all the boys, go and have a good time, and put their minds on something else as well, in time their mate will come to them and they will have a chance to marry and be happy. I will not take up any more space, but will sign myself,

A Happy Rose.

A Brave Start

Sedalia, Alta., Dec., 1913.

Dear Editor—As I can hold my emotions no longer I must make a brave attempt to congratulate you about your more than superior magazine, and also the magnificent efforts that the members of the correspondence column are making to keep the W.H.M. so far in advance of the other papers. I have been a faithful reader for the past five years, and I would not miss it if I had to walk to Winnipeg to get it.

There are some excellent arguments discussed, and I feel proud to join such a worthy circle. I, like many others, am a lonely homesteader in this beautiful province called Sunny Alberta.

"HOW TO PRESERVE STRENGTH AND RETAIN THE POWERS."

If you have wrecked your Nerves by OVERWORK or WORRY, drained away your strength by bad habits or dissipation, or SAPPED your vital forces by EXCESSES

It is Time for You to Stop.

No man can afford to be reckless, force nature to undue effort ruin his Constitution or violate the laws governing life. This invariably results in disaster or a Complete Nervous Breakdown and a long before the average period. KNOWLEDGE IS POWER, and every man who would be warned in time, should take heed NOW. Send 10 cents for my Book, and you will find it the most profitable of all literature you now possess, and thousands who have read it acclaim it to be "worth its weight in gold."

Giving Out of the Vital Forces

Half-an-hour's reading and a determination to act up to it may save you from an otherwise never-ending misery and give you new life. It will teach you more in fifteen minutes than you will gain in years by experience.

It is a valuable, instructive and interesting treatise on Generative Weakness, and the Cause and Cure of Nervous Breakdown, Mental Exhaustion, Depression of Spirits, General Weakness, Waste of Vitality, Premature Decline and Loss of Power in Men.

The most popular and practical treatise published on the Laws governing Life, with special chapters on Generative Weakness, Flagging of the Powers and practical observations on Marriage.

Contains valuable remarks to Weak and Nervous Men on how to preserve the Health, regain Strength and restore the Powers when lost.

To the inexperienced, the married, or those contemplating marriage, no other work contains so much helpful or sensible advice, or will prove so interesting and instructive to those who desire to preserve their Strength, build up the whole Nervous System, restore the Powers to advanced age or fit themselves for Marriage. It will be sent in a plain, sealed envelope to any address on receipt of 10 cents.
