Honourable Sir,

Your letter of yesterday's date arrived here this A.M.

I sure am pleased to hear from you again. Would be more so, should you decide to throw off the shackles of the Senate—to don the harness of a real job, and one you are qualified to fill to the best interests of the Dominion of Canada in the present Crisis.

In a previous letter I pointed out the fact of Anthony Eden keeping thousands of our Canadian troops. Piling their heads off at Aldershot, England, while the Belgians were being cut numbered. And greatly needed some assistance from the English side of the Channel; and now for want of such help. A Noble fighting race have
