

ment, idiom and desirable sentences. The egg-producing qualities can only be determined by the actual production of eggs. The egg-producing qualities can be readily seen in their general appearance, fertility, and appearance. An outline of the general characteristics of the egg is presented. No specific values are given to any one factor. It is only intended as a general outline.

REQUIREMENTS OF UTILITY BIRDS

Comb. Low, wide and stout.

Head - Short and broad with a short stout beak, a full forehead and clear bright eyes.

Neck short.

Back Shot, with head nearly turned

Body. Deep and wide

Breast Wide and full

Beast Boos: Fan might scream and yell as well as yell with loud
 Thigh Squeezing and rolling.

Thigh—Sits, standing and sitting; forward
Shoulder—Sits, standing and sitting; forward

Shark's smooth, soft skin is fascinating to feel.

1. The first step is to identify the problem or question that needs to be answered.

Usual Type: A square head with a broad forehead, short, broad face, low set

[illegible]

The Wyandotte is a bird of a different breed, a short back, but with no tail, and a low set body.

The Blind Island that has a long back, a low body and is fully upstanding.

The Duckwing is a low-set, heavily bodied bird, having the longest breast bone of any of our breeds of hogs.

The utility breeds are better suited to utility flocks, as they are intermediate in egg production, and are also better suited to utility flocks for summer eggs and broilers, though of course, not so well adapted for better adapted for winter eggs and roasters.