

Missolonghi, besieged by the Egyptians, 1825, 184.

Mitchell, Peter, pilot on Admiral Codrington's flagship "Asia" at battle of Navarino, 1827, 173.

Mobile Bay, battle of, 415 et seq.

Modon, Ibrahim Pasha enters harbour of, 1825, 185.

Moharem Bay, Egyptian admiral at battle of Navarino, 1827, 173.

"Monarch," British ship at battle of Copenhagen, 16, 29.

"Monarch," British gunboat at bombardment of Alexandria, 437.

"Monitor," U. S. ship in the fight against the "Merrimac," 337 et seq.

"Monongahela," U. S. ship in battle of Mobile Bay, 423 et seq.

Montauban, General de, commands French forces in attack on Taku Forts, 1860, 413.

"Mont Blanc," French ship with Rear-Admiral Dumanoir after Trafalgar, 90, 92.

Montojo, Admiral, commands Spanish fleet at battle of Manila Bay, 235.

Moore, Captain, commands Peruvian ship "Independencia" in war against Chili, 389.

Morea, Egyptian army devastates the, 154.

Moreno, Rear-Admiral, joins French squadron at Algiers Bay, 40.

Morris, Lieut., commands U. S. ship "Cumberland" in action against Confederate ship "Merrimac," 343.

Mosse, Captain James Robert, commands British ship "Monarch" at battle of Copenhagen, 16.

"Muiron," French frigate under Rear-Admiral Lincol, 22.

Mulgrave, Lord, First Lord of the British Admiralty, 1809, 106.

Murray, Captain George, commands British ship "Edgar" at battle of Copenhagen, 16.

"Mosquito," British brig in battle of Navarino, 1827, 168.

N.

"Namur," British ship with the squadron of Admiral Sir R. Strachan, 1805, 92; of squadron of Vice-Admiral Warren, 1806, 95.

"Naniwa Kan," Japanese ship, sinks Chinese transport "Kowahing," July 25, 1894, 204; in battle of Yalu River, 1894, 209.

"Nanshan," U. S. storeship at battle of Manila, 233.

Napoleon, forms coalition against

England, 4; desires to strengthen squadron at Cadiz, 22; aims to gain power on the sea, 51; determines upon invasion of England, 54; crowned Emperor, May, 1804, 56; makes second attempt to invade England and fails, 67; his rage on hearing of Villeneuve's failure, 69; gives up hope of success on the sea, 90; discusses the action of 1809 at Aix Roads, 121.

"Nashville," Confederate ship during American Civil War, 500.

Navarino, battle of, 154.

Navarino, Ibrahim Pasha lays siege to, March, 1825, 185.

Neale, Captain Sir Henry, British fleet-captain in the Basque Roads, 1809, 106; sails from Aix Roads to England, April 15, 1809, 122.

Nelson, Lord, second in command at battle of Copenhagen, 7; distinguishes himself at battle of Cape St. Vincent, 12; reconnoitres enemy's position at Copenhagen, 14; ignores the signal of Admiral Parker to leave off action, 25; reaches Revel, April 12, 1801, to find Russian fleet gone, 30; arrives at Yarmouth, July 1, 1801, 30; seconds vote of thanks to Sir James Saumarez, 45; assumes command of British fleet off Toulon, July 3, 1803, 49; on April 4, 1805, receives news of escape of French fleet from Toulon, 60; sails for Barbadoes, May 11, 1805, in pursuit of French fleet, 61; arrives in Barbadoes, June 4, 1805, 61; June 12, 1805, learns of return of French fleet to Europe, 63; sails from Barbadoes, June 13, for Gibraltar, 63; reaches Gibraltar, July 19, 1805, 66; learns of whereabouts of Villeneuve's squadron, August 15, 67; leaves England, September 14, and reaches Cadiz, September 22, 1805, 72; on October 19, is informed of departure of French and Spanish fleets from Cadiz, 77; fights battle of Trafalgar, 80; his death, 87; remains conveyed to England, 88.

"Neptune," British ship at battle of Trafalgar, 84.

"Neptune," French ship at battle of Trafalgar, 81; captured by British, 85.

"Néréide," French frigate cruises off coast of Madagascar, 1811, 127; in battle off Tamatave, May 20, 1811, 129.