WELL DONE, WALLACEBURG.

Most heartily does The Planet congratulate the progressive town of Wallaceburg upon its splendid industrial and mercantile growth and development, evidenced most forcibly in the enthusiastic and significant gathering Wednesday evening on the occasion of the formal opening of the new municipal buildings.

Perhaps no other town in the Province has exhibited the enterprise and sound growth which characterizes our northern neighbor. Its citizens are loyal energetic and progressive. They have devoted themselves wholeheartedly to the well-being and betterment of the community, with the inevitable satisfactory results.

MR. BOWYER'S POSITION.

Under the caption "Our Candidate" the Ridgeway Dominion publishes a capital leader upon the choice of the Liberal-Conservatives of East Kent. In view of the recent comment of the local Liberal organ, attention is called to the fact that Mr. P. B. Bowyer is managing editor of the Dominion.

Mr. Bowyer in his editorial says: "The large and enthusiastic Liberal-Conservative convention which met here on Thursday selected a strong and in every respect an excellent candidate in Mr. John Davidson."

"Mr. Davidson is a man who for many years has been before the people of Kent. As reeve of Thamesville, County Councillor and Warden of Kent, he has shown splendid administrative ability. He is a man of good presence, a pleasing speaker and of a kind and genial nature. His personal popularity is undoubted, and in the coming contest between the undivided support of his own party he will undoubtedly poll a large Liberal vote. In fact no man ever entered on a political contest in this riding under more auspicious circumstances."

"The convention which selected Mr. Davidson was full of fight and determination, and the speech of Mr. Whitney, in the evening, created a most favorable impression on those present from all parts of the riding. Mr. Whitney proved to the satisfaction of all who heard him that he is a strong man, full of courage and possessing many of the attributes which make the great statesman."

"On the other hand, the weakness of the present government is admitted even by its friends. It has held office so long that it has degenerated into a mere office-making, time-serving, self-seeking group of inferior individuals, trading on the reputation of their predecessors in office, some of whom were really great men."

"The time has come for a change of both men and methods at Toronto, and we believe the people of East Kent are determined to do their share in bringing about this much desired end by electing Mr. John Davidson by a substantial majority."

Perhaps Premier Ross will undertake to pass an act of the Ontario legislature making the decision of the Privy Council null and void.

After a brief and really eloquent silence, due, we understand, to the solicitations of the High Court, the Hamilton Spectator and Hamilton Herald, are up and at it again hammer and tongs. Their enforced rest does not seem in any way to have crippled their scarping abilities.

The London Free Press yesterday published an excellent likeness of John Davidson, Liberal-Conservative candidate for East Kent, and under the caption, "A Winner in Kent," says:

The Liberal-Conservatives of East Kent have chosen a strong man in Mr. John Davidson, of Thamesville. Mr. Davidson has been warden of Kent, and previously held all kinds of municipal offices leading up to the county chief magistracy. He is a Scotchman, and speaks with a pleasant touch of his dialect of his native heath. His word is his bond, and he is known from end to end of the county. The fact that he was able to win in a neck and neck race for the honor of carrying the party standard in the riding from so redoubtable a candidate as Mr. Philip Bowyer, the able editor of the Ridgeway Dominion, is ample evidence of Mr. Davidson's strength.

ROSEBURY'S RIGHT, BUT—

Bowyerism Independent.
Rosebury's idea of having a government of business men instead of politicians is all very well, but how are you going to get them? The right kind of men cannot be elected. Mr. Smith, the gentleman who writes the leading articles for this great journal, would be an excellent representative of the people, but Mr. Smith could not be elected president of a cross-roads ball club. Rosebury is quite right, but he will have to work out many radical improvements in the political machine, before any decided change can be made in the output of the political factory.

A Great Deal to Eat.

Few have any conception of the vast amount of food required for a voyage across the Atlantic. Though the time occupied by steamships in the average voyage from Queenstown to New York is only about seven days, the vessels are storehouses of meats, groceries and vegetables. The steward of one of the fastest of these vessels recently said:

"We sailed from Liverpool with 547 cabin passengers and 300 in the crew. We had on board when we started, 12,500 lbs. of fresh beef, 700 lbs. of corned beef, 5,000 lbs. of mutton, 350 lbs. of lamb, 350 lbs. of veal, 350 lbs. of pork. There were beside 2,000 lbs. of fresh fish, 600 fowls, 300 chickens, 100 ducks, 50 geese, 15 turkeys, 200 brace of grouse, 15 tons of potatoes, 200 hamper of vegetables, 280 quarts of ice cream, 1,000 quarts of milk and 11,500 eggs."

"In the dry groceries there were 650 pounds of tea, 1,200 pounds of coffee, 1,000 pounds of white sugar, 750 pounds of pulverized sugar, 1,500 pounds of cheese, 2,000 pounds of butter, 3,500 pounds of ham, and 1,000 pounds of bacon."

Any man who monkeys with a mule is apt to come to a bad end.

HOPEFUL VIEW

The hopeful view consumptives take of their own cases is strongly in their favor. Each year is showing a larger percentage of cures.

One of the best reasons for good hope is the record of Scott's Emulsion as a medicine for consumptives. So long as the system is strong enough to use medicine of any kind it can use Scott's Emulsion.

The reason for its helpfulness in this disease is because of its long tolerance by the patient; one does not tire of it as quickly as other medicines and that is where the great benefit comes.

A FIGHT IN GREENWICH.

The Difference Between It and the "Foreign" Street Conflicts.

The girl was from the south, and the man had been showing her New York. They had been "doing" the various quarters which have sprung up here and there in the lower part of Manhattan. They had wandered through streets where the windows are painted in strange Greek letters. They had tasted chop suey in Chinatown, and she had shuddered at the sight of an opium den. Then down a short, narrow street they turned into Old Mulberry Bend, where thousands of Italians were congregated for a breathing spell.

She had not talked much during their wanderings, but she looked a great deal and was evidently thinking.

"How these children fight!" she exclaimed as they came upon two Italian boys who were hammering one who was smaller than either. "Can't you make them fight fair?"

He stopped the fight with difficulty and found that they were trying to make the smaller boy give up a nickel which he had found in the street. "Then fight fair," he said. "Can't you give anything about fighting fair, as we call it," he said.

"Have we seen all the quarters?" she asked.

"There's the American quarter," "American quarter! I don't understand. How can you have an American quarter in this American city?"

"Because there are so many foreigners in this part of town. Our American quarter holds about 70,000 people. In the days when the city was small it was Greenwich village, then the old Ninth ward. Let's go over there."

They crossed town on a car and got out at Jefferson market. A few blocks brought them into the quarter. The people were almost as poor as any they had seen in the foreign quarters. But there was a difference. They were cleaner, they held up their heads, and the children were less noisy about their play. They turned a sharp corner which brought them into a square, in the center of which stood a crowd of boys.

"It's another fight," said the man, "an American fight this time. You'll see the difference."

The boys had formed a ring, in the center of which two youths of practically equal weight were fighting. One boy held a watch and at the end of three minutes called time. Both boys stopped fighting until told to begin again. When they had been fighting perhaps fifteen minutes both began to show signs of severe punishment. Then an older boy stepped into the ring.

"You kids have been fightin' long enough," he said. "Stop it or you'll hurt each other. I give the fight to 'Reddy.'"

The boys stopped at once, and there was nothing more said about it. "Reddy" didn't crow over his victory, but took it as a matter of course. The crowd melted away.

"Now, that was a fair fight," said the girl, "the way Americans should fight. I'm glad you brought me to the American quarter."

APHORISMS.

Rebellion against tyrants is obedience to God.—Franklin.

Riches are apt to betray a man into arrogance.—Addison.

Revenge is the abject pleasure of an abject mind.—Juvenal.

Responsibility walks hand in hand with capacity and power.—Holland.

He who is firm and resolute in will molds the world to himself.—Goethe.

No man has a right to do as he pleases except when he pleases to do right.—Simmons.

He who wishes to secure the good of others has already secured his own.—Confucius.

He that easily believes rumors has the principle within him to augment rumors.—Jane Porter.

The superiority of some men is merely local. They are great because their associates are little.—Johnson.

No man can be provident of his time who is not prudent in the choice of his companions.—Jeremy Taylor.

A kind heart is a fountain of gladness, making everything in its vicinity freshen into smiles.—Washington Irving.

Rage is essentially vulgar and never more vulgar than when it proceeds from mortified pride, disappointed ambition and thwarted willfulness.

Saltmaking in Spain.
The Spanish method of producing salt, as employed near Cadix, is by allowing the sun to evaporate the water from what are known as "pans," small ponds prepared for the purpose of a uniform depth of about eighteen inches. These are flooded directly from the sea three or four times a year, and in time there is left a deposit of about three inches of salt, which is piled in the open in the form of small pyramids until sold. This method has the advantage of being inexpensive and of not requiring machinery. The only requisites are a hot sun and a soil which will not permit the water to filter through, as the salt in solution would then be lost. Something depends also upon the analysis of the water. For instance, the water of the Mediterranean has a greater specific gravity than that of the Atlantic.

Old Book Terms.
The words folio, quarto, octavo, duodecimo and the like have almost if not quite lost their original meaning. At first they had reference only to the number of leaves into which the sheets used in making the books were folded. Thus if these sheets were folded once so as to form two leaves or four pages the book was called a folio; if the sheets were folded twice so as to form four leaves, the book was called a quarto; if they were folded four times so as to form eight leaves, the book was called an octavo, and so on.

His Accomplishments.
Silas—How is your son gittin' on at college?
Cyrus—First rate! He has mastered French now, an' he says he'll soon be able to get a job as waiter an' understand the menu.

'Twas Better Left Unsaid.
Teacher (who catches a ten-year-old mimicking her)—Johnny Gaffney, if you do not stop acting like a fool I shall dismiss you from the recitation.

Lots of Water.
"And what is this?" asked the visitor.
"This is Wall street. It is the most celebrated of all our American watering places."
