WAR ON THE "SPITTER."
The action of the American association in barring the use of the spitball foreshadows similar legislation by other baseball organizations, including the two major leagues. Agitation against the delivery has been heard at frequent intervals since it became the chief asset of many twirlers several years ago, but opponents of the move to curtail the use of the spitball argued that such legislation would be an injustice to certain clubs and to many boxmen. So in turn each attempt to abolish this form of delivery was abandoned. Now that a league as prominent as the American association has taken the Toronto goalkeeper, who by his brilliant work in the net paved the way for a Toronto victory over Ottawa.

SAMMY HERBERT

The initiative other leagues will follow. The spitball always has been distasteful to the governing bodies of baseball, just as it has been to patrons. Certain players saw fit a few years ago to complain that it was unsanitary because of an outbreak of tonsillitis, which they charged to the spitball. A pitcher who reeled noisily upon this delivery, was taken down after pitching a game, and other players who had taken part in the contest found themselves victims of the same ailment. The spectacle of a boxman anointing his face with saliva is anything but pleasing, and there will be no regrets when it follows the emery ball and other freak deliveries out of the sport.

To legitimize the delivery out of the major leagues will be the passing of a vote would be unfair to certain pitchers and to their clubs, as has been contended. The proper method would be to pass a rule forbidding the use of the spitball after a certain date, two or three years hence. This would allow pitchers now in the major leagues to prepare for the change by perfecting themselves in the use of methods that will be permissible when their favorite delivery passes out. At the same time young pitchers in the minors will be served with notice that spitball specialists are not wanted in the majors. Especially of those who would return to the major league without the use of any foreign substance on the ball. Barring the emery ball was a move in the right direction and similar action against the use of the spitball must follow.

MACABEES INSTALLED OFFICERS

The installation of the officers of Redemption Tent No. 15 took place on Thursday evening last in their regular hall in the presence of a large and enthusiastic attendance of members.

The ceremony was conducted by G. H. Townsend of Dundas. The officers installed were as follows:
Past Commander, W. Penny. Commander, Thos. Blower. L. Commander, Walter Butler. Record Keeper, Wm. Lake. Financial Keeper, Noah Wilfong. Physician, Dr. Wylie. Chaplain, F. Howie. Sergeant, C. Crane. Master at Arms, F. Vallance. 1st Master of Guards, W. Home. 2nd Master of Guards, J. Wilson. Sentinel, E. Blackwell. Picket, F. W. Scott.

After the installation, two hours were pleasantly and profitably spent with card parl and other games. Some pointed and helpful speeches were made by the officers installed, and the installing officer, who spoke at some length concerning the vital relationship of the order to the Great War. He stated that many thousands of the members were now fighting in France for the world's liberties, and many had already paid the costly price. He said that the great order of the Macabees was faithfully protecting the homes and loved ones of those fighting for us, and that without extra insurance cost to those in khaki. He urged upon the members that they thoughtfully and tenderly look after the tion for the injuries done in violation of international law. The peace conference must not forget our seamen and the services they have rendered to and the outrages they have suffered for the common cause of freedom.

"One omission we notice in the proposal of the Central powers which seems to us especially regrettable. It is desirable and essential that the settlement after this war shall be one which does not in itself bear the seed of future war. But that is not enough. However wisely and well we may make territorial and other arrangements, there will still be many subjects of international controversy. Some, indeed, are inevitable.

Trade After the War
"Economic conditions at the end of the war will be in the highest degree difficult owing to the diversion of human efforts to war-like pursuits. There must follow a world shortage of raw materials which will increase the longer the war lasts, and it is inevitable that those countries which have control of raw materials will desire to help themselves and their friends first. Apart from this, whatever settlement is made will be suitable only to the circumstances under which it is made, and as those circumstances change, changes in the settlement will be called for.

The Burden of Armaments
"So long as the possibility of a dispute between nations continues—that is to say, so long as men and women are dominated by impassioned ambition, and war is the only means of settling a dispute—all nations must live under a burden, not only of having from time to time to engage in it, but of being compelled to prepare for its possible outbreak.

"The crushing weight of modern armaments, the increasing evil of compulsory military service, the vast waste of wealth and effort involved in warlike preparation—these are blot on our civilization, of which every thinking individual must be ashamed. For these and other similar reasons we are confident that a great attempt must be made to establish by some international organization, an alternative to war as a means of settling international disputes.

"After all, war is a spill of blood, a waste of life, a ruin of property, and a source of violence as a means of settling disputes between individuals, so we believe that it is destined ultimately to take the place of war in the settlement of our international disputes.

"If, then, we are asked what we are fighting for, we reply, as we have often replied, we are fighting for a just and lasting peace, and we believe that before a permanent peace can be hoped for, three conditions must be fulfilled, first, the sanctity of treaties must be re-established, secondly, a territorial settlement must be secured, based on the right of self-determination or the consent of the governed, and, lastly, we must seek, by the creation of some international organization, to limit the burden of armaments and diminish the probability of war. On these conditions if our peoples are prepared to make even greater sacrifices than those they have yet endured."

wives, children and other relatives of the absent soldier members especially of those who would return no more.

Record Keeper, Wm. Lake set forth the splendid property the tent had enjoyed in 1917. 14 new members had been added lately and many applications were now on file. He stated that a Christmas parcel had been sent by the Tent to each of its 11 members now overseas.

The evening was brought to a close by the newly installed officers closing in due form.

Girlish Dignity

is considerably enhanced by the wearing of glasses. But, apart from the dignity, the absence of headaches is alone a good reason for wearing them. It is a well-known fact that many feminine headaches particularly are the result of disordered vision. Relieving the eye strain relieves the head. Come for an examination and we will prove it.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act right. The famous salts is made from the salt of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.
