CLAIMS TO BE GROUPED

Block of Ground Head of French Gulch

Additional Hill-sides and Benches on Hunker Are Relocated.

Quite a bit of mystery exists regarding the recent staking of a number of old benches and hill-sides on the left limit of Hunker in the vicinity of the '90's below. As far back as the fifth and sixth tiers the claims have been quietly staked the number recorded each day averaging about a half dozen. Four were removed yesterday and two today, among the latest being John Scott and Chas. E. Taylor the well known stakers of the White Pass office.

The ground was originally staked in '90 and as far as known has never had a hole put to bedrock on the entire tract. The position of the ground is on a more or less level plain about 400 feet above the creek bottom, the surface of which slopes very gradually back from the edge of the bluff and being but a counterpart of many such tracts on both Bonanza and Hunker. It is a shallow deep ground, but if the water there the depth will make but little difference. The bulk of the staking has been done from 50 down to the mouth of Hester creek, which enters Hunker at 60 below.

Another piece of old ground that has been dead for years, an account of the staking of which appeared in the Nugget of a day or two ago, is that at the head of French gulch. An application was made day before yesterday for 34 and upon the advice of the mining recorder the stake right until today before recording. The ground should be misdescribed, he having informed the recorder there were a half dozen or more remaining in to record ground in the same vicinity. Up to noon today the bulk of the claims had been recorded, each being contiguous to the other. No. 31 was staked in '97 and has been relocated as the upper and lower halves, 32 and 33 were not staked until 1901 and are consequently but a few feet long, the relocation of today taking the entire claim without

STAMPEDER RETURNS

Mr. B. Teryan of Vienna Bakery

Corroborates Statements of Other Stampeders—Country Not Yet Ready.

Mr. B. Teryan a baker at the Vienna Bakery returned to Dawson from the Tanana on Wednesday last. Mr. Teryan became enthused over the report of the supposed strike and joined the ranks of the stampeders on March 5th. He went in via the Good Pasture route with a horse team and was 31 days making the trip in. Coming back he left Fairbanks on the 10th of April and made the trip via Circle with a team of four dogs in 13 days.

Mr. Teryan says of the existing conditions that as far as the camp is concerned at the present there is nothing to justify anyone in going to establish a business of any kind or to look for work. The only class of people who are in any way justified in going there are prospectors who are willing to work hard and run chances, but at the present time there is no work being done, no dust in circulation and no body has any money.

Mr. H. Feryan met over 100 outfits between Fairbanks and Circle going in, and when he reported the condition he says that no one would pay any attention to him.

There is no demand for horses except for dog feed and animals which sold at Dawson for $300 to $400 will only bring $10 at Fairbanks. He says that when the boats return from there in the summer they will bring the people back by the hundreds.

When Mr. Feryan left Dawson he says his health was completely run down and he was a good subject for the hospital. The trip fully restored his health and in that respect more than repaid the loss he sustained financially.

He left Fairbanks two days after Counts was shot and says that he was still alive though hovering between life and death.

A force of men employed by the city is today at work cleaning out the ditch which follows around the base of the hill to the east of the flat. Its presence does much toward draining off the water that pours off the hill during the melting season.

Butte, Mont., April 26.—Yellowstone park has secured the first gentleman of the land for an advertising agent. The president went into the wilds two weeks ago, somewhat skeptical as to its wonders and lukewarm in its praise. He comes out ardent and enthusiastic and anxious to extol its beauties and endeavor to advise others to go and do as he has done and rough it among the geysers, canyons and herds of living creatures that abound from the electric peak on the north to Twine Tities on the south.

Judge Advocate General to Decide Legality of Shipping Via W. P. Ry.

Special to the Daily Nugget.
Washington, April 25.—Although the leading officers in the quartermaster general's office believe that no military supplies for Alaska except perishable goods will be shipped over the White Pass & Yukon route, the whole question of legality in awarding any carrying contract to a foreign company will be referred to the Judge Advocate General of the Army to decide. There is a difference of opinion in the quartermaster general's office and the fight in favor of the American shipping companies has not yet been won.

DIFFERENT VIEWS ARE TAKEN

By British Newspapers in Connection With Russia's Movements in Manchuria. Little Surprise Manifested at the Czar's Tenacity—Methods Characterized as Brutal.

Special to the Daily Nugget.
London, April 25.—London papers while protesting against the cynical and almost brutal methods employed by Russia in Manchuria take different views as to how the czar's action should be met. Very little surprise is expressed at the tenacity displayed by Russia in holding Manchuria. The Daily News referring to the claim of the United States for treaty ports in Manchuria which Russia is opposing, says: "It is their quarrel, not ours. It is to our interest to come to terms with Russia in Asia and let her have Manchuria if she will leave us alone in India."

EXPENSIVE FISTICUFF

Richard Brown Struck J. L. Hershberg

And Paid Seven Dollars for the Privilege—Result of Argument Over a Hat.

Richard L. Brown, better known as Waterfront Brown, the collector of bad accounts, was fined $2 and costs in the police court this morning for striking Mr. J. L. Hershberg in the face on First avenue yesterday afternoon. Richard pleaded guilty of the charge when it was read to him but in extenuation of his act stated that the complainant had followed him down First avenue talking to him and making a pose about a hat and that he had struck him in the face. The magistrate informed him that such actions as that would not do and so imposed the fine.

The story of the affair as told by Mr. Hershberg is to the effect that Richard in company with another man who was very much under the influence of liquor came into the store and Richard picked himself out a hat and stated that the other man would pay for it, the transaction being in payment of a bet. From the condition of the other party it did not appear that he was entirely sensible of what was transpiring and so instructions were given that the hat was not to be taken from the store without the cash being received therefor. Notwithstanding Richard put the hat on and marched out and it was reference to this that Mr. Hershberg followed him down the street. Some conversation occurred between the parties when Richard struck the blow which cost him the seven dollars in court this morning.
