

NERVOUSNESS

Or dependency caused by weak unhealthy nerves, are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease. If you have a secret drain from early youth, later exposure or exposure, you cannot expect healthy nerves while your vitality is being wasted. Do not take out a miserable existence on account of your nerves, for you are not safe until you are cured—nature never excuses—no matter how young, old or innocent one may be.

KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Have you pain in the back, a dull feeling in the region of the kidneys? At times your water comes freely, a large quantity light in color, while at other times you do not pass water at all, or it is dark in color, you make a small quantity, or you may have mucus in your urine, or a brick dust colored sediment, give your condition immediate attention or more serious complications will set in. My treatment guaranteed a positive cure for such conditions, and remember you

PAY WHEN CURED.

You need pay nothing until you are convinced that a thorough and complete cure has been established. Surely this is fair, as you run no chance. CONSULTATION FREE. If you cannot call, write for blank form home treatment. Perfect system of home treatment for those who cannot call. BOOK FREE. Medicines for Canadian patients shipped from Windsor—All duty and transportation charges prepaid—Everything confidential—No names on envelopes or packages—Nothing sent C. O. D.

DR. GOLDBERG, 208 WOODWARD AVE., DETROIT, MICH.

MEDICAL.

DR. J. P. SIVERTWRIGHT—Office and residence, 117 King street, (over Blackie's Hardware Shop) telephone 236. Night bell.

DENTAL.

A. A. BICKS, D. D. S.—Honor graduate of Philadelphia Dental College and Hospital of Oral Surgery, Philadelphia, Pa., also honor graduate of Royal College of Dental Surgeons, Toronto. Office over Turner's drug store, 26 Rutherford block.

LODGES.

WELLINGTON Lodge 46, A. F. & A. M., G. R. C., meets on the first Monday of every month, in the Masonic Hall, Fifth St., at 7:30 p. m. Visiting brethren heartily welcomed.

J. S. BLACK, W. M.

ALEX. GREGORY, Sec.

A. O. U. W.

Peninsula Lodge No. 2 have received a cordial invitation to visit Valetta Lodge Tuesday, Oct. 14th. Final arrangements will be made at our meeting Friday evening next. We trust every United Workman is on the alert for new members. Our Order is well up in the honor roll for September. Let us make an effort to continue the good work, for there are many people ready to join when properly approached.

W. G. ARNOLD, JOHN R. SNELL, W. M. Recorder.

LEGAL.

J. B. HANKIN, K. C.—Barrister, Notary Public, etc., Victoria Block Chatham.

W. F. SMITH—Barrister, Solicitor, etc., Office, King Street, west of Market. Money to loan on mortgages.

J. B. O'LENN—Barrister, Solicitor, etc., Conveyancer, Notary Public, Office, King Street, opposite Merchant's Bank, Chatham, Ont.

SMITH & GOSNELL—Barristers, Solicitors, etc., Harrison Hall, Chatham; Herbert D. Smith, County Crown Attorney; R. L. Gosnell.

WILSON, PIKE & GUNDY—Barristers, Solicitors of the Supreme Court, Notaries Public, etc. Money to loan on mortgages, at lowest rates. Office, Fifth Street. Matthew Wilson, K. C., W. E. Gundy, J. M. Pike.

HOUSTON, STONE & SCANE—Barristers, Solicitors, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc. Private funds to loan at lowest current rates. Office, Scane's Block, King Street.

M. HOUSTON, FRED. STONE, W. W. SCANE.

Trust and Private Funds to Loan

On farm and city property. Terms to suit borrowers. Apply or write to

THOMAS SOULLARD

Room 26, Victoria Block.

Mason's Supplies

We have a complete stock of Lime, Cement, Plaster, Sewer Pipe, Fire Brick, Cut Stone, Sand, Hair, Etc., of the best quality and at the lowest possible prices—give us a call.

J. & J. Oldershaw

KING STREET WEST, Opp. Piggett's Lumber Yard, Chatham

Gibson

Finishes all his work on absolutely permanent paper which is of the highest Art value.

Studio 29 King St.

Messrs. C. C. Richards & Co.

St. Joseph, P. Q., Aug. 18, 1900.

Gentlemen:—My daughter, 13 years old, was thrown from a sleigh and injured her elbow so badly it remained stiff and very painful for three years. Four bottles of MINARD'S LINIMENT completely cured her and she has not been troubled for two years.

Yours truly,

J. B. LEVESQUE.

The first duty in life is to be calm; for the calm mind seeks the truth as the river seeks the sea.

—Scrofula, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney complaint, catarrh and general debility are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

SHIRT WAIST SUITS.

They Will Continue in Favor During the Fall and Winter.

The vogue of silk shirt waist suits will not cease with the summer days. They will still be worn during the fall and winter, only in the latter case they will be of heavier materials. Nothing is more comfortable and becoming than the shirt waist dress, which, because it is all of one color, makes even the most undignified woman look well dressed.

The latest are the changeable silk dresses in dead leaf tints—blue and black, blue and green and dull red. They are worn with soft little turnover collars of mull and cuffs of the same, with stitched belts of the dress material relieved by jeweled buckles.

Tailor made dresses of silk and wool are trimmed with crisscross strappings.

A POPULAR BELIEF.

TREAT RHEUMATISM IS DUE TO COLD, WET WEATHER.

Such Conditions Aggravate the Trouble, But it is Now Known to be a Disease of the Blood—Outward Applications Cannot Cure It.

The once popular belief that rheumatism was entirely the result of exposure to cold or dampness, is now known to be a mistake. The disease may be aggravated by exposure, but the root of the trouble lies in the blood, and must be treated through it. Liniments and outward applications never cure, while Dr. Williams' Pink Pills always cure because they make new, rich, red blood, in which disease finds lodgment impossible. Concerning the use of these pills Mr. A. G. Lacombe, Sorel, Que., says:—"For upwards of five years I was a victim to the tortures of rheumatism. At times the pains in my knees, shoulders and hip were almost unbearable. I tried myself without assistance several remedies, some of them very costly, without getting any more than temporary relief at the most. At this juncture a friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and spoke so highly of the pills that I decided to try them. Almost from the very first these pills helped me, and by this time I had taken seven or eight boxes, every twinge of rheumatism had disappeared and I was feeling better than I had for years. I would strongly advise similar sufferers to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial, as I am confident they will not only drive away all pains and aches, but leave you strong, active and happy."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest tonic medicine in the world. These pills not only cure rheumatism, but all troubles whose origin comes from poor blood or weak nerves, such as anaemia, consumption, neuralgia, kidney trouble, St. Vitus' dance, partial paralysis and the irregularities which make the lives of so many women a source of misery. Some dealers offer substitutes, and in order to protect yourself, you must see that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" is on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by titling direct to The Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The person who has tact in abundance and a certain softness of tongue can work his way to fortune with little effort.

End Neuralgia's Agony.

Have you failed to get permanent relief? Are you almost frantic with neuralgia pain? If so, why not use Polson's Nerveine? It is the only remedy that has never failed to cure even the worst cases, and it will surely cure you. Five times the strength of other remedies because it is inhaled into the lungs, throat and nasal passages, and bathes every part of the diseased membrane with its germ-killing, healing vapor. You simply breathe Catarrhus out and it cures. Price 25c. Get it at druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

A light pocket is a plague, but a light heart and love make friends for much.

Thinner Than a Rail.

Spending every day, as much energy as you make, and if the balance goes a little further, well you get thinner. Not wise to go that way longer. Better use Ferronez, you will digest more—a little less growing. Not quite so thin! Keep right on, only don't use Ferronez too long or you will get too fat. Then your blood will be rich, your heart stronger, your stomach much, you won't get tired quickly. Fat, blood, strength, you have them all with Ferronez. Sold by McCall & Co., Chatham.

The world is full of hopeful analogies and handsome, dubious eggs called possibilities.

THE ROYAL MONTH AND THE ROYAL DISEASE.

Sudden changes of weather are especially trying, and then to the scrofulous and consumptive. The progress of scrofula during a normal October is commonly great. We never think of scrofula's baneful, cutaneous eruptions, and wasting of the bodily substance—without thinking of the great good many sufferers from it have derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla, whose real and permanent cure of this one disease is enough to make it the most famous medicine in the world. There is probably not a city or town where Hood's Sarsaparilla has not proved arresting and completely eradicating scrofula, which is almost as serious and as much to be feared as its near relative—consumption.

A kind thought is like a blossom. It always has the potential fruit of a good deed at its heart.

Minard's Liniment is used by Physicians.

The upright man will be downright in many things.

THE SLEEP OF DEATH.

A Mysterious Disease Which Puzzles Medical Men.

It is reported from Uganda that the natives are dying in considerable numbers from "sleeping sickness," a native name for a terrible disease which occurs among the inhabitants of certain districts in Africa. As its name indicates, it bears a curious resemblance to sleep, the patient growing gradually sleepier until he finally dies.

In 1908 two natives from the Congo were landed in England suffering from the mysterious complaint and taken to the Charing Cross hospital, where they were objects of great curiosity. The doctors could not grapple with the disease, and the patients eventually died. In the districts of Africa where the "sleeping sickness" occurs the natives live in terror of it and will abandon their villages on its approach. It is not entirely confined to the negro race, as there are one or two cases on record of Europeans having died from it.

Many reasons have been given as to its origin, but the true cause has not been definitely ascertained. Native doctors are said to cure some cases by rubbing pepper in the eyes, a treatment which, if it did nothing else, would be calculated to keep the patient awake.

Sir Harry Johnston, the eminent authority on central Africa, believes that the disease is due to the existence of a parasite in the blood which by choking the blood vessels interferes with the nourishment of the brain. This is probably a right solution, as the disease is obviously connected with the brain.

Refused a Big Contract.

Charles G. Mortimer has just refused a contract for 100,000 toy printing presses which a certain cereal manufacturer wanted to give away as premiums. They were to cost 50 cents each. Mortimer did not like to lose the $50,000 cash, but made up his mind 600 cash, but made up his mind to accept the contract business with the toy dealers throughout the United States. There are not many men who would decline an offer of $50,000, with a certain profit of at least $20,000. The toy business is a big one. One firm in New York alone produces and annually from North Carolina and has patents that cannot be infringed upon. His brother is editor of the London Figaro and one of the chess experts of the world.

England's Gentlest Burglar.

The story of the Glasgow burglar, Goodfellow, who has just been sent to prison for six years, is very remarkable. Goodfellow did his plundering in the gentlest manner. He dressed and spoke like a gentleman and owned a beautiful yacht, in which he would drop gracefully down to some coast watering place and plunder it on the quiet. After the burglaries he sailed away on one for a moment suspecting the aristocratic visitor. He also had a carriage and a pair of dashing gray horses that assisted him equally as a blind and as a means of escape. A favorite trick was to accompany a predestined victim to church, slip out before them and go through the house while the owner and his family were at worship.

Preserving Liquid Air.

With the best insulated carriers now in use it is found that a gallon of liquid air will not wholly evaporate in less than a month. In the commercial production of liquid air by the regeneration system, as Mr. G. A. Bobrick recently informed the Philosophical Society of Washington, a pound of liquid air results from the consumption of each pound of coal. The cost is prohibitive for ordinary use in the production of power, but where expense is not considered, Mr. Bobrick says, liquid air is an ideal source of power. With seventeen gallons of it he can drive his automobile between fifty and sixty miles. Although it will never be used for stationary engines, he thinks it may be useful for submarine and aerial navigation.

Windsor Castle Prison.

How many folk know that there is yet at Windsor castle the room kept intact which used to be duty for incarcerating any one whom the sovereign wanted to keep conveniently out of the way in the days gone by? It is hardly likely that King Edward VII. will need to use it for the purpose that it so often served in those times, but there it is nevertheless. This prison is above the gateway under which the visitor passes before he proceeds along the stair that climbs up to the celebrated keep. It is an interesting survival which many visitors overlook.

Zuni Indians Courtship.

The Zuni Indians are sentimental in the extreme and marry at a youthful age. When a youth is wooing a maiden, he will go and sit before her with his back turned to her and untwine his head cloth. She rejects him by softly stealing away or accepts him by running her hands carelessly through his loosened locks.

The Serious Minded Jap.

A Japanese review recently invited its readers to name those European authors whose works they more especially appreciated. The following has been the result of the referendum, the authors coming out of the voting in the following order: Darwin, Herbert Spencer, Schopenhauer, Goethe and Tolstoy.

THE SLEEP OF DEATH.

A Mysterious Disease Which Puzzles Medical Men.

It is reported from Uganda that the natives are dying in considerable numbers from "sleeping sickness," a native name for a terrible disease which occurs among the inhabitants of certain districts in Africa. As its name indicates, it bears a curious resemblance to sleep, the patient growing gradually sleepier until he finally dies.

In 1908 two natives from the Congo were landed in England suffering from the mysterious complaint and taken to the Charing Cross hospital, where they were objects of great curiosity. The doctors could not grapple with the disease, and the patients eventually died. In the districts of Africa where the "sleeping sickness" occurs the natives live in terror of it and will abandon their villages on its approach. It is not entirely confined to the negro race, as there are one or two cases on record of Europeans having died from it.

Many reasons have been given as to its origin, but the true cause has not been definitely ascertained. Native doctors are said to cure some cases by rubbing pepper in the eyes, a treatment which, if it did nothing else, would be calculated to keep the patient awake.

Sir Harry Johnston, the eminent authority on central Africa, believes that the disease is due to the existence of a parasite in the blood which by choking the blood vessels interferes with the nourishment of the brain. This is probably a right solution, as the disease is obviously connected with the brain.

Refused a Big Contract.

Charles G. Mortimer has just refused a contract for 100,000 toy printing presses which a certain cereal manufacturer wanted to give away as premiums. They were to cost 50 cents each. Mortimer did not like to lose the $50,000 cash, but made up his mind 600 cash, but made up his mind to accept the contract business with the toy dealers throughout the United States. There are not many men who would decline an offer of $50,000, with a certain profit of at least $20,000. The toy business is a big one. One firm in New York alone produces and annually from North Carolina and has patents that cannot be infringed upon. His brother is editor of the London Figaro and one of the chess experts of the world.

England's Gentlest Burglar.

The story of the Glasgow burglar, Goodfellow, who has just been sent to prison for six years, is very remarkable. Goodfellow did his plundering in the gentlest manner. He dressed and spoke like a gentleman and owned a beautiful yacht, in which he would drop gracefully down to some coast watering place and plunder it on the quiet. After the burglaries he sailed away on one for a moment suspecting the aristocratic visitor. He also had a carriage and a pair of dashing gray horses that assisted him equally as a blind and as a means of escape. A favorite trick was to accompany a predestined victim to church, slip out before them and go through the house while the owner and his family were at worship.

Preserving Liquid Air.

With the best insulated carriers now in use it is found that a gallon of liquid air will not wholly evaporate in less than a month. In the commercial production of liquid air by the regeneration system, as Mr. G. A. Bobrick recently informed the Philosophical Society of Washington, a pound of liquid air results from the consumption of each pound of coal. The cost is prohibitive for ordinary use in the production of power, but where expense is not considered, Mr. Bobrick says, liquid air is an ideal source of power. With seventeen gallons of it he can drive his automobile between fifty and sixty miles. Although it will never be used for stationary engines, he thinks it may be useful for submarine and aerial navigation.

Windsor Castle Prison.

How many folk know that there is yet at Windsor castle the room kept intact which used to be duty for incarcerating any one whom the sovereign wanted to keep conveniently out of the way in the days gone by? It is hardly likely that King Edward VII. will need to use it for the purpose that it so often served in those times, but there it is nevertheless. This prison is above the gateway under which the visitor passes before he proceeds along the stair that climbs up to the celebrated keep. It is an interesting survival which many visitors overlook.

Zuni Indians Courtship.

The Zuni Indians are sentimental in the extreme and marry at a youthful age. When a youth is wooing a maiden, he will go and sit before her with his back turned to her and untwine his head cloth. She rejects him by softly stealing away or accepts him by running her hands carelessly through his loosened locks.

The Serious Minded Jap.

A Japanese review recently invited its readers to name those European authors whose works they more especially appreciated. The following has been the result of the referendum, the authors coming out of the voting in the following order: Darwin, Herbert Spencer, Schopenhauer, Goethe and Tolstoy.

THE SLEEP OF DEATH.

A Mysterious Disease Which Puzzles Medical Men.

It is reported from Uganda that the natives are dying in considerable numbers from "sleeping sickness," a native name for a terrible disease which occurs among the inhabitants of certain districts in Africa. As its name indicates, it bears a curious resemblance to sleep, the patient growing gradually sleepier until he finally dies.

In 1908 two natives from the Congo were landed in England suffering from the mysterious complaint and taken to the Charing Cross hospital, where they were objects of great curiosity. The doctors could not grapple with the disease, and the patients eventually died. In the districts of Africa where the "sleeping sickness" occurs the natives live in terror of it and will abandon their villages on its approach. It is not entirely confined to the negro race, as there are one or two cases on record of Europeans having died from it.

Many reasons have been given as to its origin, but the true cause has not been definitely ascertained. Native doctors are said to cure some cases by rubbing pepper in the eyes, a treatment which, if it did nothing else, would be calculated to keep the patient awake.

Sir Harry Johnston, the eminent authority on central Africa, believes that the disease is due to the existence of a parasite in the blood which by choking the blood vessels interferes with the nourishment of the brain. This is probably a right solution, as the disease is obviously connected with the brain.

Refused a Big Contract.

Charles G. Mortimer has just refused a contract for 100,000 toy printing presses which a certain cereal manufacturer wanted to give away as premiums. They were to cost 50 cents each. Mortimer did not like to lose the $50,000 cash, but made up his mind 600 cash, but made up his mind to accept the contract business with the toy dealers throughout the United States. There are not many men who would decline an offer of $50,000, with a certain profit of at least $20,000. The toy business is a big one. One firm in New York alone produces and annually from North Carolina and has patents that cannot be infringed upon. His brother is editor of the London Figaro and one of the chess experts of the world.

England's Gentlest Burglar.

The story of the Glasgow burglar, Goodfellow, who has just been sent to prison for six years, is very remarkable. Goodfellow did his plundering in the gentlest manner. He dressed and spoke like a gentleman and owned a beautiful yacht, in which he would drop gracefully down to some coast watering place and plunder it on the quiet. After the burglaries he sailed away on one for a moment suspecting the aristocratic visitor. He also had a carriage and a pair of dashing gray horses that assisted him equally as a blind and as a means of escape. A favorite trick was to accompany a predestined victim to church, slip out before them and go through the house while the owner and his family were at worship.

Preserving Liquid Air.

With the best insulated carriers now in use it is found that a gallon of liquid air will not wholly evaporate in less than a month. In the commercial production of liquid air by the regeneration system, as Mr. G. A. Bobrick recently informed the Philosophical Society of Washington, a pound of liquid air results from the consumption of each pound of coal. The cost is prohibitive for ordinary use in the production of power, but where expense is not considered, Mr. Bobrick says, liquid air is an ideal source of power. With seventeen gallons of it he can drive his automobile between fifty and sixty miles. Although it will never be used for stationary engines, he thinks it may be useful for submarine and aerial navigation.

Windsor Castle Prison.

How many folk know that there is yet at Windsor castle the room kept intact which used to be duty for incarcerating any one whom the sovereign wanted to keep conveniently out of the way in the days gone by? It is hardly likely that King Edward VII. will need to use it for the purpose that it so often served in those times, but there it is nevertheless. This prison is above the gateway under which the visitor passes before he proceeds along the stair that climbs up to the celebrated keep. It is an interesting survival which many visitors overlook.

Zuni Indians Courtship.

The Zuni Indians are sentimental in the extreme and marry at a youthful age. When a youth is wooing a maiden, he will go and sit before her with his back turned to her and untwine his head cloth. She rejects him by softly stealing away or accepts him by running her hands carelessly through his loosened locks.

The Serious Minded Jap.

A Japanese review recently invited its readers to name those European authors whose works they more especially appreciated. The following has been the result of the referendum, the authors coming out of the voting in the following order: Darwin, Herbert Spencer, Schopenhauer, Goethe and Tolstoy.

THE SLEEP OF DEATH.

A Mysterious Disease Which Puzzles Medical Men.

It is reported from Uganda that the natives are dying in considerable numbers from "sleeping sickness," a native name for a terrible disease which occurs among the inhabitants of certain districts in Africa. As its name indicates, it bears a curious resemblance to sleep, the patient growing gradually sleepier until he finally dies.

In 1908 two natives from the Congo were landed in England suffering from the mysterious complaint and taken to the Charing Cross hospital, where they were objects of great curiosity. The doctors could not grapple with the disease, and the patients eventually died. In the districts of Africa where the "sleeping sickness" occurs the natives live in terror of it and will abandon their villages on its approach. It is not entirely confined to the negro race, as there are one or two cases on record of Europeans having died from it.

Many reasons have been given as to its origin, but the true cause has not been definitely ascertained. Native doctors are said to cure some cases by rubbing pepper in the eyes, a treatment which, if it did nothing else, would be calculated to keep the patient awake.

Sir Harry Johnston, the eminent authority on central Africa, believes that the disease is due to the existence of a parasite in the blood which by choking the blood vessels interferes with the nourishment of the brain. This is probably a right solution, as the disease is obviously connected with the brain.

Refused a Big Contract.

Charles G. Mortimer has just refused a contract for 100,000 toy printing presses which a certain cereal manufacturer wanted to give away as premiums. They were to cost 50 cents each. Mortimer did not like to lose the $50,000 cash, but made up his mind 600 cash, but made up his mind to accept the contract business with the toy dealers throughout the United States. There are not many men who would decline an offer of $50,000, with a certain profit of at least $20,000. The toy business is a big one. One firm in New York alone produces and annually from North Carolina and has patents that cannot be infringed upon. His brother is editor of the London Figaro and one of the chess experts of the world.

England's Gentlest Burglar.

The story of the Glasgow burglar, Goodfellow, who has just been sent to prison for six years, is very remarkable. Goodfellow did his plundering in the gentlest manner. He dressed and spoke like a gentleman and owned a beautiful yacht, in which he would drop gracefully down to some coast watering place and plunder it on the quiet. After the burglaries he sailed away on one for a moment suspecting the aristocratic visitor. He also had a carriage and a pair of dashing gray horses that assisted him equally as a blind and as a means of escape. A favorite trick was to accompany a predestined victim to church, slip out before them and go through the house while the owner and his family were at worship.

Preserving Liquid Air.

With the best insulated carriers now in use it is found that a gallon of liquid air will not wholly evaporate in less than a month. In the commercial production of liquid air by the regeneration system, as Mr. G. A. Bobrick recently informed the Philosophical Society of Washington, a pound of liquid air results from the consumption of each pound of coal. The cost is prohibitive for ordinary use in the production of power, but where expense is not considered, Mr. Bobrick says, liquid air is an ideal source of power. With seventeen gallons of it he can drive his automobile between fifty and sixty miles. Although it will never be used for stationary engines, he thinks it may be useful for submarine and aerial navigation.

Windsor Castle Prison.

How many folk know that there is yet at Windsor castle the room kept intact which used to be duty for incarcerating any one whom the sovereign wanted to keep conveniently out of the way in the days gone by? It is hardly likely that King Edward VII. will need to use it for the purpose that it so often served in those times, but there it is nevertheless. This prison is above the gateway under which the visitor passes before he proceeds along the stair that climbs up to the celebrated keep. It is an interesting survival which many visitors overlook.

Zuni Indians Courtship.

The Zuni Indians are sentimental in the extreme and marry at a youthful age. When a youth is wooing a maiden, he will go and sit before her with his back turned to her and untwine his head cloth. She rejects him by softly stealing away or accepts him by running her hands carelessly through his loosened locks.

The Serious Minded Jap.

A Japanese review recently invited its readers to name those European authors whose works they more especially appreciated. The following has been the result of the referendum, the authors coming out of the voting in the following order: Darwin, Herbert Spencer, Schopenhauer, Goethe and Tolstoy.

THE SLEEP OF DEATH.

A Mysterious Disease Which Puzzles Medical Men.

It is reported from Uganda that the natives are dying in considerable numbers from "sleeping sickness," a native name for a terrible disease which occurs among the inhabitants of certain districts in Africa. As its name indicates, it bears a curious resemblance to sleep, the patient growing gradually sleepier until he finally dies.

In 1908 two natives from the Congo were landed in England suffering from the mysterious complaint and taken to the Charing Cross hospital, where they were objects of great curiosity. The doctors could not grapple with the disease, and the patients eventually died. In the districts of Africa where the "sleeping sickness" occurs the natives live in terror of it and will abandon their villages on its approach. It is not entirely confined to the negro race, as there are one or two cases on record of Europeans having died from it.

Many reasons have been given as to its origin, but the true cause has not been definitely ascertained. Native doctors are said to cure some cases by rubbing pepper in the eyes, a treatment which, if it did nothing else, would be calculated to keep the patient awake.

Sir Harry Johnston, the eminent authority on central Africa, believes that the disease is due to the existence of a parasite in the blood which by choking the blood vessels interferes with the nourishment of the brain. This is probably a right solution, as the disease is obviously connected with the brain.

Refused a Big Contract.

Charles G. Mortimer has just refused a contract for 100,000 toy printing presses which a certain cereal manufacturer wanted to give away as premiums. They were to cost 50 cents each. Mortimer did not like to lose the $50,000 cash, but made up his mind 600 cash, but made up his mind to accept the contract business with the toy dealers throughout the United States. There are not many men who would decline an offer of $50,000, with a certain profit of at least $20,000. The toy business is a big one. One firm in New York alone produces and annually from North Carolina and has patents that cannot be infringed upon. His brother is editor of the London Figaro and one of the chess experts of the world.

England's Gentlest Burglar.

The story of the Glasgow burglar, Goodfellow, who has just been sent to prison for six years, is very remarkable. Goodfellow did his plundering in the gentlest manner. He dressed and spoke like a gentleman and owned a beautiful yacht, in which he would drop gracefully down to some coast watering place and plunder it on the quiet. After the burglaries he sailed away on one for a moment suspecting the aristocratic visitor. He also had a carriage and a pair of dashing gray horses that assisted him equally as a blind and as a means of escape. A favorite trick was to accompany a predestined victim to church, slip out before them and go through the house while the owner and his family were at worship.

Preserving Liquid Air.

With the best insulated carriers now in use it is found that a gallon of liquid air will not wholly evaporate in less than a month. In the commercial production of liquid air by the regeneration system, as Mr. G. A. Bobrick recently informed the Philosophical Society of Washington, a pound of liquid air results from the consumption of each pound of coal. The cost is prohibitive for ordinary use in the production of power, but where expense is not considered, Mr. Bobrick says, liquid air is an ideal source of power. With seventeen gallons of it he can drive his automobile between fifty and sixty miles. Although it will never be used for stationary engines, he thinks it may be useful for submarine and aerial navigation.

Windsor Castle Prison.

How many folk know that there is yet at Windsor castle the room kept intact which used to be duty for incarcerating any one whom the sovereign wanted to keep conveniently out of the way in the days gone by? It is hardly likely that King Edward VII. will need to use it for the purpose that it so often served in those times, but there it is nevertheless. This prison is above the gateway under which the visitor passes before he proceeds along the stair that climbs up to the celebrated keep. It is an interesting survival which many visitors overlook.

Zuni Indians Courtship.

The Zuni Indians are sentimental in the extreme and marry at a youthful age. When a youth is wooing a maiden, he will go and sit before her with his back turned to her and untwine his head cloth. She rejects him by softly stealing away or accepts him by running her hands carelessly through his loosened locks.

The Serious Minded Jap.

A Japanese review recently invited its readers to name those European authors whose works they more especially appreciated. The following has been the result of the referendum, the authors coming out of the voting in the following order: Darwin, Herbert Spencer, Schopenhauer, Goethe and Tolstoy.

THE SLEEP OF DEATH.

A Mysterious Disease Which Puzzles Medical Men.

It is reported from Uganda that the natives are dying in considerable numbers from "sleeping sickness," a native name for a terrible disease which occurs among the inhabitants of certain districts in Africa. As its name indicates, it bears a curious resemblance to sleep, the patient growing gradually sleepier until he finally dies.

In 1908 two natives from the Congo were landed in England suffering from the mysterious complaint and taken to the Charing Cross hospital, where they were objects of great curiosity. The doctors could not grapple with the disease, and the patients eventually died. In the districts of Africa where the "sleeping sickness" occurs the natives live in terror of it and will abandon their villages on its approach. It is not entirely confined to the negro race, as there are one or two cases on record of Europeans having died from it.

Many reasons have been given as to its origin, but the true cause has not been definitely ascertained. Native doctors are said to cure some cases by rubbing pepper in the eyes, a treatment which, if it did nothing else, would be calculated to keep the patient awake.

Sir Harry Johnston, the eminent authority on central Africa, believes that the disease is due to the existence of a parasite in the blood which by choking the blood vessels interferes with the nourishment of the brain. This is probably a right solution, as the disease is obviously connected with the brain.

Refused a Big Contract.

Charles G. Mortimer has just refused a contract for 100,000 toy printing presses which a certain cereal manufacturer wanted to give away as premiums. They were to cost 50 cents each. Mortimer did not like to lose the $50,000 cash, but made up his mind 600 cash, but made up his mind to accept the contract business with the toy dealers throughout the United States. There are not many men who would decline an offer of $50,000, with a certain profit of at least $20,000. The toy business is a big one. One firm in New York alone produces and annually from North Carolina and has patents that cannot be infringed upon. His brother is editor of the London Figaro and one of the chess experts of the world.

England's Gentlest Burglar.

The story of the Glasgow burglar, Goodfellow, who has just been sent to prison for six years, is very remarkable. Goodfellow did his plundering in the gentlest manner. He dressed and spoke like a gentleman and owned a beautiful yacht, in which he would drop gracefully down to some coast watering place and plunder it on the quiet. After the burglaries he sailed away on one for a moment suspecting the aristocratic visitor. He also had a carriage and a pair of dashing gray horses that assisted him equally as a blind and as a means of escape. A favorite trick was to accompany a predestined victim to church, slip out before them and go through the house while the owner and his family were at worship.

Preserving Liquid Air.

With the best insulated carriers now in use it is found that a gallon of liquid air will not wholly evaporate in less than a month. In the commercial production of liquid air by the regeneration system, as Mr. G. A. Bobrick recently informed the Philosophical Society of Washington, a pound of liquid air results from the consumption of each pound of coal. The cost is prohibitive for ordinary use in the production of power, but where expense is not considered, Mr. Bobrick says, liquid air is an ideal source of power. With seventeen gallons of it he can drive his automobile between fifty and sixty miles. Although it will never be used for stationary engines, he thinks it may be useful for submarine and aerial navigation.

Windsor Castle Prison.

How many folk know that there is yet at Windsor castle the room kept intact which used to be duty for incarcerating any one whom the sovereign wanted to keep conveniently out of the way in the days gone by? It is hardly likely that King Edward VII. will need to use it for the purpose that it so often served in those times, but there it is nevertheless. This prison is above the gateway under which the visitor passes before he proceeds along the stair that climbs up to the celebrated keep. It is an interesting survival which many visitors overlook.

Zuni Indians Courtship.

The Zuni Indians are sentimental in the extreme and marry at a youthful age. When a youth is wooing a maiden, he will go and sit before her with his back turned to her and untwine his head cloth. She rejects him by softly stealing away or accepts him by running her hands carelessly through his loosened locks.

The Serious Minded Jap.

A Japanese review recently invited its readers to name those European authors whose works they more especially appreciated. The following has been the result of the referendum, the authors coming out of the voting in the following order: Darwin, Herbert Spencer, Schopenhauer, Goethe and Tolstoy.

THE SLEEP OF DEATH.

A Mysterious Disease Which Puzzles Medical Men.

It is reported from Uganda that the natives are dying in considerable numbers from "sleeping sickness," a native name for a terrible disease which occurs among the inhabitants of certain districts in Africa. As its name indicates, it bears a curious resemblance to sleep, the patient growing gradually sleepier until he finally dies.

In 1908 two natives from the Congo were landed in England suffering from the mysterious complaint and taken to the Charing Cross hospital, where they were objects of great curiosity. The doctors could not grapple with the disease, and the patients eventually died. In the districts of Africa where the "sleeping sickness" occurs the natives live in terror of it and will abandon their villages on its approach. It is not entirely confined to the negro race, as there are one or two cases on record of Europeans having died from it.

Many reasons have been given as to its origin, but the true cause has not been definitely ascertained. Native doctors are said to cure some cases by rubbing pepper in the eyes, a treatment which, if it